PAT MITCHELL of Westland has spent the last month trying to show a little patriotism. But all she gets for her efforts is trouble.

When President George Bush ordered U.S. troops to the Mideast after Iraq's invasion of Kuwait, Mitchell unfurled an American flag in front of her home on the 36000 block of Bolt. "I thought I could do my part," said Mitchell, 51, an executive secretary for Metro Home Health Care Services.

But on Aug. 25 someone stole the flag.

So Mitchell replaced it with a sign reiterating her support for the American soldiers and asking whoever took the flag to "please love and respect our flag the way we have for 20 years."

Unfortunately the sign didn't last long, either.

The severe weather that ripped through the Detroit area recently shredded the posterboard sign, Mitchell reported.

WESTLAND POLICE officers and firefighters are getting some new equipment.

The Westland City Council has approved purchase of a new EMS rescue vehicle and 30 portable and mobile radios for both departments.

The rescue unit will cost $44,713 and the city will receive $4,500 for trading in an old unit.

The radios and accessories will cost $37,922.

THREE RESIDENTS and three businesses are winners of Beautification Awards in the annual program sponsored by the Westland City Council.

First place residential winner is Sandy Gaura for her house on the 37700 block of Germaine. Lee Cwick was given second place and Joe Richardson finished third.

First place business winner is Paddy's Pub, 1600 N. Wayne. Second place was awarded to Taylor Tavers and third place to Abington Miner, both senior citizens residences.

The council also honored several families from Hartel Street who initiated a cleanup program for a portion of Edward Hines Park adjacent to their neighborhood.

Receiving certificates were John and Verajean Moore, Edward and Helena Meete, Bud and Prosa Johnson, Ken and Alice Haworth, Joseph and Kathy Cecil, Angela and Dennis Lico, Joseph and Wanda Bonfiglio, Edward and Sandra Egan, Tracy and Beverly Trischke, Antoinette Griffin, Andrew Dawley, Nicky Brugge and James Greenbaum.

THE WESTLAND Rumble is set for Saturday. No, we're not talking about a major going fight.

We mean the kickboxing competition set for 7:30 p.m. at the Melvin Bailey Recreation Center.

The event is co-sponsored by the city parks and recreation department and City Boys Kickboxing Association.

The main event will be the CMKA Midwest Heavyweight weight class between champion Scott (Debut) Perrault and Brian (Bebe) Butler.

Other scheduled professional and amateur matches include sparring, kickboxing classes for men and women.

Admission is $10 for adults and $5 for children under 12. General admission tickets are $5 for adults and $3 for children under 12 at the door.

Tickets are available at the Melvin Bailey, 1600 N. Wayne, Bridge TV & Karate Supplies in Taylor and Wal-Mart Discount Mart in Westland.

Kickboxing begins at 8:30 p.m.

Remembering the missing

Christopher Stacy, 6, of Westland stands at attention with a toy rifle during Friday's ceremony in honor of the more than 2,000 servicemen still listed as missing in action in Vietnam. Behind Christopher is his grandfather, H.B. Shaw of Westland. During the ceremony at city hall, Refugio Tom Teran of Westland, missing since May 1970, was remembered by his mother, Anna. For the story and more photos, please turn to Page 3A.

Noise czar promises end to ear assault

By Janice Brunson
staff writer

By next summer, Westland residents can expect relief from thundering overhead jet noise, according to Wayne County noise czar Bryan Amann, who said he expects noise levels to be similar of those in the summer of 1989.

A newly formed "swat team," a committee of federal, county and airline officials, is working feverishly to come up with specific ways to reduce noise, according to Amann, a Wayne County assistant executive.

Addressing a meeting of the Economic Development Advisory Commission Thursday, Amann told members the county is taking an aggressive role in abating noise pollution and fully expects to resolve problems caused by a change in flight patterns at Metro last November by the Federal Aviation Administration.

Ignoring a $800,000 county study of the situation, the FAA ordered the changes, neglecting to notify affected communities beforehand and denying changes for months afterwards. Changes were made Nov. 16.

The changes resulted "in a great double dose of noise in Westland," Amann said, when more than half of all north bound flight activity was rerouted over the city. Citizen complaints were immediate.

"WITHIN DAYS OF the change, we received complaints and they've been constant ever since," said Joseph Benyo, EDAC chairman.

Benyo served on the county committee charged with studying noise pollution. Consisting of representatives from communities adjacent to Metro, the committee met for two years and issued a comprehensive report. To date, their efforts have been ignored by the FAA.

The new swat team will consider the report, according to Amann, who said he is "ecstatic" with formation

Shelter prepares to open its doors

By Janice Brunson
staff writer

The Wayne County shelter for homeless families has its first director and renovation on the interior of a county building expected to house the facility is expected to get underway soon, according to Joseph Benyo of the Wayne County Homeless Services Advisory Board.

In addition, Annapolis Hospital in Wayne has been contracted to provide food services once the facility is ready for business.

The shelter, intended to provide space for homeless suburbanites in the historic Eloise complex in southern Westland, was announced earlier this year by Wayne County Executive Edward McNamara. It is expected to hold 28 dormitory-style rooms.

Social worker Linda Makowski has been approved as new director, Benyo said, and a bid has been let for renovation of the complex. Interior demolition is complete.

"Things are going well," he added. During a meeting of the advisory board last week, members established a "wish list," a list of essential items necessary to support families who have been displaced for economic or disaster-related reasons.

Police seek driver in injury accident

By Todd Schneider
staff writer

Police are seeking the driver of a late-model Ford Mustang for questioning in connection with a hit-and-run accident Wednesday in which a 32-year-old bicycle rider was critically injured.

A second cyclist, the victim's 18-year-old companion from Ypsilanti, wasn't hurt, police said.

Jeffrey LaRue of Arizona was to undergo surgery Friday at University of Michigan Hospital for head and internal injuries and a broken right leg and arm, said officer Jon Handlak of the Westland police.

LaRue was flown by air ambulance to U-M Hospital after being taken by police to Annapolis Hospital, Wayne.

LaRue was visiting family and friends in the Westland area at the time of the accident, Handlak said.

LaRue was struck by the right front end of the Mustang about 3 p.m. near the entrance to the Traill

Senate-approved plan includes money for local library system

Construction of a public library for Westland moved one step closer Wednesday as the state Senate passed a capital outlay program that includes $2 million in funding for a new library and $600,000 for renovations to the current Wayne-Westland Public Library.

After numerous amendments, the Senate voted 20-11 to approve the bill, which appropriates money from the state budget for projects ranging from construction of buildings and purchases of equipment to elimination of occupational safety and health hazards.

Sen. William Faust, D-Westland, who proposed the library appropriation, voted for the bill.

The Michigan House of Representatives could act on the bill as early as this week, Faust said. If approved there, it will be forwarded to Gov. James Blanchard.

Faust was cautiously optimistic that the library appropriation would make it through the process unscathed.

The proposal calls for an allocation of $1.375 million for construction of a Westland library from the state's 1990-91 budget. An additional $630,000 would be appropriated in the 1991-92 budget.

The Wayne-Westland library, on Sims in Wayne, would get $600,000 for a major expansion and renovation, bringing the total value of the package to $2.6 million.

The money wouldn't pay for the operating expenses of a new library, but Westland Mayor Robert Thomas last week pledged city support for the project if it is approved.

Westland voters rejected tax increases for construction of a new library in 1985 and again in 1987.

Mayor to take Town Hall meetings to cable show

By Ted Schneider
staff writer

(Got a question for Mayor Robert Thomas?)

This fall you'll be able to ask him live and on cable.

Thomas will host an hour-long call-in show on the city's Channel 8. During the show, the mayor will field questions from Westland residents on a variety of topics.

"I thought this would be another way for us to provide access to local government," Thomas said last week. "A lot of people don't have transportation and can't get to Town Hall meetings or other city meetings."

Thomas initiated the monthly Town Hall meetings last spring as part of his efforts to keep residents in touch with elected and appointed city officials. Attendance at those meetings — held the second Thursday of each month at the Melvin Ballay Recreation Center and taped for later telecast on Channel 8 — has been sparse.

THOMAS SAID said the format and a startup date for his "Ask the Mayor" program haven't been set, although the first telecast could be in late October or early November.

He said city department heads or council members may make guest appearances to discuss various issues. "Once we get going, we'll let the people tell us what they think we ought to discuss," the mayor said.

The Westland City Council has approved purchase of a four-line telephone/audio system for the show. The system will have a delay feature so technicians can delete obscene or objectionable language.

The show will originate from the city's cable studio on Warren Road and a small studio audience is being considered, Thomas said.

Eventually the show may be done from remote locations, he said.

Meanwhile, city council members are studying the possible live or taped telecast of city council meetings, in part as a response to Thomas' increasing presence on cable television.

Relief from noise expected of such a committee. "It's never happened before," county officials working in conjunction with federal FAA officials to resolve community noise problems created by airports.

In addition to Amann, the SWAT team consists of FAA air traffic managers Dennis Ragle and Bruce Wagner, FSS systems manager Doug Powers, FAA procedures and traffic manager Dick Peterson, and Robert Wylie, Northwest Airlines director of flight support services. Northwest accounts for 65 percent of all flights in and out of Metro.

"There will definitely be relief for Westland and other communities affected by noise," Amann said, adding

"there are many possible creative solutions.

They include rerouting air traffic over lightly populated areas like industrial zones or freeway routes, limiting flight hours and requiring higher altitudes over heavily populated areas near the airport.

BETWEEN 1984 AND 1988, flight activity at Metro doubled during a massive expansion program. Noise levels, however, did not noticeably increase until flight pattern changes by the FAA.

"With your windows open during the summer of 1989, were any of you bothered?" Amann asked Westland commissioners.

"No," they chorused, but commission member George Eisenstein asked if future expansion might not cause more noise.

Metro is slated for massive renovations and some expansion providing voters approve a $100 million bond in Nov. 6 elections. (See accompanying article.) Under the project, flights are not expected to increase significantly.

In addition, newer aircraft now under purchase by airline fleets are less noisy.

Amann also said the new committee intends to review FAA policy that aircraft over 3,000 feet do not cause discernible noise and measuring noise levels over a 24-hour period, as opposed to individual events.

Work at shelter under way

They will be able to live at the facility for 30 to 45 days.

"TABLES, TELEVISIONS, toys, toasters and tampons. You'd be surprised at how many things (are needed)," Benyo said.

A $500 donation by members of the United Auto Workers Local 182 in Livonia, the first from a local group, is earmarked for diapers and underwear. Volunteers with the PTA clothing bank for Wayne-Westland schools have agreed to assist shelter staff in obtaining donations of suitable used clothing.

Civic organizations will also be asked to conduct clothing drives and fund-raising events to purchase essentials not normally donated.

Area hotels and motels are to be contacted for donations of soap, laundry supplies and other items, and bakeries and grocery stores will be asked to donate day-old bread and other food stuffs.

The advisory council is also considering a chaplain's program. "In addition to physical needs, we have to do something about emotional and spiritual needs as well," Benyo said.

Funding of the shelter and ongoing operational and maintenance costs is from local and federal grants, including block grants of $24,300 from Westland and $17,500 each from Livonia and Redford Township.

gar Square Apartments, Venoy south of Cherry Hill, according to witness.

The Mustang was traveling south on Venoy. LaRue had steered his Huffy 10-speed bike from the sidewalk into the street to avoid a puddle, Handzlik said.

"ALL OUR witnesses were traveling northbound (so they didn't get a long look at the car)," Handzlik said.

"There must have been witnesses on southbound Venoy."

"You're talking about a major road at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. It's very busy at that hour," Handzlik said.

Witnesses interviewed by police described the driver as a white male in his late teens or early-to-mid 20s, with collar-length hair and possibly a mustache, Handzlik said.

The Mustang is believed to be a 1987-89 model with a rear spoiler.

The car may have been brand new or recently purchased, Handzlik said, since witnesses described a paper attached to the rear window that may have been a temporary registration.

Witnesses failed to note a license number or even whether there was a permanent plate, he said.

The car sustained a broken turn signal/headlamp and possibly substantial damage to its hood, front end and windshield, Handzlik said.

"We had reports that he (the driver) turned around and came back to take another look before heading southbound on Venoy," Handzlik said.

Anyone who might have witnessed the collision or with information about the incident should call Handzlik at 722-9800.

Ceremonies give salute to U.S. MIAs

By Janice Brunson
staff writer

Steady rain failed to interfere with the duty at hand, honoring Westland's lost sons and the 2,000-plus U.S. servicemen who never returned from Vietnam.

In ceremonies Friday evening on the lawn of the Westland City Hall, military honor guards, elected officials, family and friends gathered those whose fates are still unknown.

Refugio Tom Teran, missing since May 6, 1970, was vividly recalled by his mother, Anna. "This is not only for those who are missing, but those who might become missing (as a result of the Persian Gulf crisis)."

As members of Westland's VFW

Post 9885 raised the U.S. and POW-MIA flags and then lowered them to half-mast in mourning of the lost, veterans of posts from Garden City, Redford and Livonia stood at attention.

Later, alternating members of each post took turns throughout the 45-minute ceremony, standing at attention in full battle dress, guarding Westland's Vietnam memorial and the special plaque honoring Teran.

H.B. Shaw of Westland, an honorary VFW member, and grandson Christopher Stacy, 6, wore matching fatigues. The two "travel all over to military parades," Shaw said. "Kids today should know what's going on. So here we are, standing in the rain."

Steady rains Friday didn't interfere with ceremonies honoring Vietnam veterans who remain unaccounted for. Among those was Refugio Tom Teran, missing in action since May 6, 1970. His mother, Anna, was present.

KITTY O'LEARY OF Livonia, also an honorary VFW member and dressed, like Shaw, in military garb, said her presence "honors women in the military," those who have served, as well as those who are serving, and especially those who have died in the line of duty.

Marty Eddy, president of the Michigan chapter of Prisoners of War, said 73 Vietnam veterans from Michigan remain unaccounted for. The situation in the Middle East concerns her. "If a conflict breaks out, we're facing new POWs and MIAs, more heartbreak," she said.

Westland police officer Bob Hysko — a former army medic in Vietnam and a VFW district commander — presided over ceremonies, introducing a host of elected officials or their representatives, including Westland mayor Robert Thomas.

A representative of Gov. James Blanchard read a prepared statement announcing Sept. 21 as POW and MIA Recognition Day in Michigan.

In closing, Hysko thanked Mike Sundburg, "whoever you are." The beds of colorful flowers, perfectly tended and in full bloom, are planted and cared for by Sundburg, at his own expense, Hysko said.

"We have no idea who this guy is, but we thank him."

Teachers of the year named

Three teachers, Christine Kleimola, Maureen Costa and Allen Herrmann, have been named 1990-91 teachers-of-the-year by Livonia Public Schools.

All three, nominated by their colleagues, recently were named exceptional educators by the Livonia Board of Education.

Kleimola, who teaches the mentally impaired at Webster, was cited for her work "above and beyond the call of duty."

"Christine strives to provide the most appropriate and fulfilling learning experiences for her students to function as independently as possible," said the trustees.

Kleimola serves on the Webster/Randolph Mainstreaming Committee, is involved with PTA and the Council for Exceptional Children, volunteers at a hospital to provide special care to abused children, and works with adults with handicaps during the summer.

Livonia School District

The Livonia School District includes the northern section of Westland.

Costa, chairwoman of the language arts/social studies department at Emerson Middle School, was cited for the high expectations she holds for her students.

"My kids, are the reason I get up every morning," said Costa in accepting her award from the trustees.

Costa is involved in such middle school programs as accreditation, cooperative learning, and curriculum alignment. She also coordinates numerous student programs, including Emerson's literary magazine, student camp weekend, building and system level spelling competitions.

Allen Herrmann, chairman of the technology department at the Livonia Career Center, was cited for excellence in helping students see their own self-worth.

"He is a professional of the highest order," said one of his nominators.

Herrmann has developed the computer-aided design program for engineering and architectural drawing at the career center. He also was instrumental in working with General Motors to bring Project Draft to the secondary schools.

Teens push for go-cart helmet law

By Marie Chestney
staff writer

Three Livonia teenagers, upset to the death of a friend, are closer to getting legislation passed that would make go-cart riders wear helmets at private recreation centers.

State Rep. Lyn Banke, R-Livonia, recently introduced a bill that, if passed by the Legislature, would make helmets mandatory at private tracks.

"It is unfortunate that this legislation was not enacted earlier; however, when enacted, it may save the life of another teen," said Banke.

THE LEGISLATION: House Bill

No. 6016, will be discussed in 1991, Banke said.

Banke's introduced the bill after being presented with petitions by the three teenagers, Jana Meenen, 14, Jill Howle, 14, and Michelle Mallie, 13, all students at Riley Middle School.

The students began circulating petitions in Livonia asking for the legislation after their friend, Melance Summers, was killed in July in northern Michigan when she was thrown from a moving go-cart at a private recreation center.

At the time of the accident, Melance was wearing neither a seat belt nor a safety helmet because state law does not require either be worn on private property.

THE TEENS went door-to-door in Livonia, seeking signatures on a petition asking that the law be changed.

The petitions asked that the state make helmets mandatory for go-cart riders, even if the riders are on private property.

State officials said commercial go-cart operators do not have to comply with state traffic laws and public safety standards because the carts are operated on private property.

At the invitation of Banke, the three teens will be visiting Lansing this week to tour the State Capitol.

The Livonia Franklin Marching Patriots started its competitive marching season with a second place finish at the West Bloomfield Lakers Invitational.

The West Bloomfield competition on Sept. 16 hosted, by invitation, 16 competitive marching bands — four Flight III, six Flight II and five Flight I bands.

This is the third year in Flight II classification for the Franklin High marching band, directed by Joan Seay. The other Flight II bands were Kearsley, Lakeview, Milford, Linden, and Southfield.

Franklin is fielding a marching band of 77 members which includes its 12-person color guard, drum major Aaron Rajda, drum minor Erich Friebele, and color guard captain Karl Zabel.

Flight II bands range in numbers from 71 to 110. Franklin was the smallest Flight II at West Bloomfield and is one of the smallest Flight II bands in the state.

This year the staff of instructors include: Jean Murdock, drill; Mike Stutzman, marching and maneuvering; Jim Mobeley, percussion; Allison Laub, color guard.

Corp style marching is the most difficult form of precision marching, said Seay.

"This is the best start we have ever had in five years of competition," said Seay. "I am extremely proud of this band. They have worked hard and persevered, and have demonstrated a great deal of dedication in improving musical and marching ability."

"Without the energy and support of the Franklin Band Boosters this program would not have been able to grow and develop as it has."

Franklin will continue in competition through Nov. 3.

The band also will perform in the Livonia Holiday Parade on Nov. 17 and the McDonald's All-American Parade in Chicago on Nov. 24.

carriler of the month

Westland

Obie Fozo has been named the Westland Observer carrier of the month for September.

The son of Robert and Peggy Fozo, the carrier is 14 and a 9th-grader at Franklin High School.

His favorite school subjects are math, band, and science while his hobbies are music, photography, and tennis.

Obie has won numerous photography awards, placed on his school's honor roll, and won an eighth grade math competition at the University of Detroit.

After high school, he plans to study engineering.

The exercise and earning spending money are the things he likes most about his Observer paper route. He feels a paper route could benefit other youngsters by helping them earn their own spending money.

Skills he has learned as a carrier are keeping accurate records and talking to people, he said.

If you want to be a Westland Observer carrier, please call

Mark Lewis

Carol McCloud

Three receive promotions

Three promotions have been announced by the Observer & Eccentric Newspapers and its parent company, Suburban Communications Corporation.

SCC president Richard Aginian recently announced that Richard Brady, director of advertising and promotion for the Observer & Eccentric Newspapers, has been appointed vice president of sales and marketing for Suburban Communications Corp., parent company of the O&E newspapers.

Mark Lewis, Wayne County regional advertising manager for the O&E, will replace Brady as advertising director, according to Richard Isham, O&E general manager. Carol McCloud has been appointed promotion manager/research assistant for the 13 O&E newspapers, said Isham.

Brady will be responsible for marketing, product development, sales promotions, sales activities and developing new markets for SCC. He has been an O&E employee since 1985.

A native and lifetime resident of metropolitan Detroit, Brady has also been assistant to the publisher of Shamie Publishing Co. and a former account executive for the Detroit Free Press and Yaffe, Stone & August. He attended Wayne State University.

Lewis will be responsible for day-to-day advertising department operations. He is a 13-year O&E employee. A Plymouth resident, Lewis attended Garden City West High School, Schoolcraft College and the University of Michigan.

McCloud, a 10-year O&E employee, will be responsible for all company promotions. The Oakland University graduate was formerly executive secretary to the director of advertising and promotion.

SCC also includes HomeTown Newspapers, formerly Sliger/Livington Publications, Community Newspapers of Lansing, Community Newspapers, Cincinnati, Farmers Advance News and Advertising Systems.

The O&E newspapers include the Birmingham-Bloomfield Eccentric, West Bloomfield Eccentric, Southfield Eccentric, Troy Eccentric, Rochester Eccentric, Lakes Eccentric, Farmington Observer, Livonia Observer, Plymouth Observer, Canton Observer, Redford Observer, Westland Observer and Garden City Observer.

Rouge group wins award

The environmental group Friends of the Rouge has been selected a winner in the national Take Pride in America volunteer program for the second time in its history.

Friends of the Rouge, founded five years ago to help clean the heavily polluted river, received its award in ceremonies last week in Washington, D.C.

Friends of the Rouge was selected for national honors because of the support it receives from volunteers and communities throughout southeastern Michigan.

Over 7,000 babies each year.

This killer strikes quickly, quietly, with no warning. A SIDS baby dies within seconds, usually while he's sleeping. He suffers no pain. He doesn't cry out.

One of the most disturbing facts about SIDS is that there's no way to predict it. No way to prevent it. Not yet.

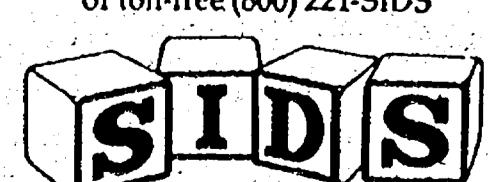

But there is hope. With your help we can find the cause and the cure.

Donations of your time and of your dollars will make a difference. You can help save a life. Then we can all hear the sweet sounds of a baby's cry.

Imagine you're a parent, checking on your baby in the middle of the night. You wait for the sound of breathing. A cry. A coo. Anything.

When SIDS (Sudden Infant Death Syndrome) takes a victim, there is only silence.

It's commonly known as "Crib Death." The death of a seemingly healthy baby for no apparent reason.

SIDS is the number one cause of death in infants from one week to one year old... causing more deaths than cystic fibrosis, childhood cancer and heart disease combined.

Opportunities would be given to students who pass.

"If we began, say in Plymouth and Canton, to take assessments and allow them to earn certificates and if they are competing for a job with someone without a certificate, guess who the employer will hire? And that's how it comes down to a local level," said Power.

"It seems clear that people who leave high school in many cases don't have the skills they need to get good jobs at a high pay," Power said.

AS GUEST speaker of the Oct. 2 meeting, Power said, he will discuss findings of the national Commission on the Skills of the American Workforce. Members included Power, William Brock, labor secretary during the Reagan administration; Ray Marshall, labor secretary during the Carter administration; and Owen Bieber, UAW president.

"One of the proposals is to invest in a new kind of high school assessment on whether people have basic skills," Power said.

Before high school students graduate they would have their skills assessed "more like a merit badge," Power said.

The new system would evaluate if students can read well enough to write a couple of paragraphs about a subject they have read, use numbers in a basic way, solve problems and work with people. A Michigan Certification

AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND SECTION 181.185 OF CHAPTER 181, TITLE XV, OF THE CODE OF THE CITY OF GARDEN CITY BY ADDING A NEW SUBSECTION K.

THE CITY OF GARDEN CITY HEREBY ORDAINS:

That Section 181.185 of Chapter 181 of Title XV of the Code of the City of Garden City be amended by adding a new Subsection K which reads as follows:

SECTION 181.185(K). Minimum floor square feet shall not apply to telephone exchanges and relay stations in any zoning classification.

Except as herein modified, said Code shall remain in full force and effect.

This new ordinance is declared to be effective upon publication as required by law.

Power also is chairman of the Michigan Job Training Coordinating Council. He is a member of the National Center on Education and the Economy Board, Michigan Human Investment Fund Board of directors, Governors' Cabinet Council on Human Investment and the Commission on Jobs and Economic Development.

Power's upcoming speech at the Canton Economic Club has generated the largest early response for reservations than any other speaker, said Bill Joyner, who along with Cindy Burgess, of Public Administration Group, coordinated the club. More than 50 people had reserved space by Sept. 27, Joyner said.

State Rep. James Kosteva, D-Canton, will introduce Power to the luncheon gathering.

"People want to hear what he has to say," Burgess said.

A brochure of the Canton Economic Club speakers mistakenly listed Oct. 9 as the next meeting. The correct time and date is noon, Oct. 2 at Geneva Presbyterian Church, on Sheldon north of Ford.

Canton Economic Club was born earlier this year by the Canton Community Foundation. The meetings are noon the first Tuesday monthly at the Geneva Presbyterian Church. Luncheons are $10 or $90 for a 10-month seasonal pass. Reservations are available by calling 454-5427.

Tax base sharing is derailed

By Tim Richard
staff writer

Rep. William Keith will try this week to get his bills permitting business tax base sharing among schools on track after they were derailed suddenly last week.

The black caucus and Democrats from the Saginaw-Flint belt fell short in an effort to send Keith's bills to the Appropriations Committee. But their 41 votes showed enough strength to scare the nine-term veteran who chairs the Education Committee. The bills were temporarily set aside.

"We're working desperately to reduce the inequities between school districts," said Keith, D-Garden City. He told the House that sharing business tax growth countywide would help close the gap between local districts which spend $2,500 to $8,000 per pupil.

THE STICKING point, however, wasn't tax base sharing but how Keith proposed to soften the blow for areas which would surrender their commercial and industrial growth with poor districts.

Keith would reimburse the growth areas out of the $72 million which the state "recaptures" by withholding their categorical aid for transportation and pensions.

"We're talking about $72 million," said Rep. Joe Young Jr., D-Detroit, who didn't want to give back part of the recapture money.

"It comes out of the school aid fund," said Rep. Ted Wallace, D-Detroit.

And one of Keith's usual allies, Rep. James O'Neill, D-Saginaw, said, "(Growth) districts could gain more by tax sharing than they would lose through recapture."

IN THE KEY roll call, 41 voted to send Keith's bills to the Appropriations Committee, and 58 were opposed.

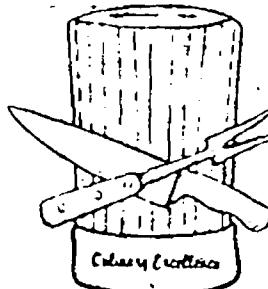

Voting yes were Lyn-Banks, R-Livonia, John Bennett, D-Redford, Maxine Berman, D-Southfield, Gerald Law, R-Plymouth, and Wilfred Webb, D-Hazel Park — along with all members of the black caucus, House Speaker Lewis Dodak, O'Neill, Democratic floor leader Pat Gagliardi, and Appropriations Chair Dominic Jacobetti.

Voting no were Keith, Justine Barns, D-Westland, Jan Dolan, R-Farmington Hills, Mat Dunaskiss, R-Lake Orion, David Honigman, R-West Bloomfield, James Kostecka, D-Canton, Judith Miller, R-

'We're working desperately to reduce the inequities between school districts.'

— Rep. William Keith
D-Garden City

Birmingham, and Gordon Sparks, R-Troy.

Kostecka said the Keith bills shouldn't go to appropriations because they're "not appropriations bills." It's unknown how much state money will be needed to reimburse the growth districts, he said, because it's unknown how many counties will volunteer for the tax base sharing plan.

Keith said intermediate school districts expressing an interest include Kent (Grand Rapids), Midland, Ingaham (Lansing), Jackson and Eaton.

UNDER HOUSE Bills 5885 and 5886:

• Growth in commercial and industrial property tax base could be shared countywide if every district agrees. One district could kill the plan at any time.

• Existing commercial and industrial property would be unaffected. The sharing plan could not apply to residential, farming or mining property.

• Agreement could be by vote of the school board or vote of the people. The agreement would last five years.

• Out-of-formula districts would have an incentive to join. Instead of losing categorical aid of $72 million a year currently, they could continue to receive that aid. Keith was co-author of this year's law to increase the categorical aid "recapture."

• A district receiving state aid could not lose any aid by joining a property tax base sharing plan.

EARLY ORTHOPEDIC REFERRAL

Do not conclude that your doctor is giving up on you care, if after seeing you once or twice, he recommends orthopedic referral.

You need such consultation early in your arthritis for several reasons. One is so that you can learn the range of possibilities for treatment. Only a surgeon can tell you what operation can achieve and what are the risks.

Another reason is because orthopedic surgeons are busy. It may take weeks or months to arrange an appointment with the orthopedist, and you may need two or three appointments before deciding whether surgery can help. In addition, you may want to speak with different orthopedists because your insurance policy requires it, or you desire a choice. It could take a year or more to complete these arrangements.

What you want to avoid is to find yourself one morning in great pain, feeling desperate, and willing to accept the recommendation of anyone who can see you on short notice.

What you want to achieve is a relationship with the surgeon so that when you feel operation is in order, you can call the doctor's office and arrange a hospital admission date.

Starting early on this will give you piece of mind, a greater understanding of your present medical program, and control over its future course.

Avoiding inheritance tax is focus of free seminar

"How to Avoid the Cost and Grief of Probate in the 1980's" will be 7-9 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 2, on the Vista Maria campus, 20651 W. Warren, Dearborn Heights.

The free seminar is open to the public.

Featured speakers will include A. James Menlove of Heartland Trust Services and attorney Alfreda Menlove.

Discussion topics include pitfalls of simple wills and joint ownership. Tips will also be offered on decreasing the cost of passing on property and on making sure your wishes are carried out should you be incapacitated.

To make a reservation, or for additional information, call 271-3050, Ext. 185.

That old bromide has become one of the great lies of the century. Too frequently what appears to be a great bargain can be a great rip off. It's true with many things including clothes that fall apart after one washing.

Like clothes, not all kitchen and bath cabinets are created equal. That's why you should visit our KSI Showrooms. We will start by demonstrating the solid oak double-dowelled frame in Merillat Cabinets. Simply put, that feature produces precision alignment for perfect squareness and long-lasting durability to resist twisting and sagging.

from our readers

'Highway Hostage' speaks out

To the editor:

Some time ago I wrote a letter to George Bush about the lack of law enforcement on our highways and streets. In my letter I stated to President Bush that 95 percent of our motorists are breaking the law every day.

My letter was sent to the Highway Department in Washington, D.C., and they said that the vast majority of motorists obey the law. In the letters to me from William Faust and William Ford they said the same thing. These people need to get out of those helicopters and jet planes and drive on I-275 and I-696.

If you try to drive the speed limit you'll get run off the road. This disregard for the law started out a long time ago. I'm sick of slogans from police that say, go with the flow. It means break the law and shame on you if you get killed. I'm doing my thing. It means, to hell with you. I'm sick of hearing about their studies — that means go to hell and don't bother me. I'll remember that at election time.

How can we fight drugs when our police can't even enforce the law? If I had a chance to vote for the military or the police to guard our highways, I would pick the military. If I had to think up an award for law enforcement, it would be a half a toilet seat.

Please help save animals

To the editor:

As a volunteer of the Wayne County Humane Society I wish to express the dire need that most of us have come to ignore or take for granted. Please contemplate and take action if you are a caregiver of animals.

If you must give up a family pet, let the Humane Society be your last choice. Find a loving home — your pet does not want to be confined in an unfamiliar cage with little human contact and an abundance of barking and noise.

• Have your pet neutered. A lot of the overflow are "unwanted litters" or "too many animals." Because of limited space, funds, and staff, these pets are often put to sleep.

Take one-two hours one morning or afternoon, any day of the week and share your love with the dogs and cats that need attention. It involves walking the dogs, cleaning cages, and watering and feeding. It's not easy, but extremely important. They depend on us to care and can't speak for themselves. They have no choice... but we do.

Call the Westland Clinic at 721-7300 or Detroit or Auburn Hills. Be persistent — we are understaffed and it's not always easy to answer the phone. Or stop in and spend some time. The animals will love you for it.

Mary Schaf,
Plymouth

Help protect U.S. jobs

An open letter to Owen Bleier:

You are in the midst of negotiations and striving for job protection and job security. This is just. You want protection from outsourcing and foreign cars. This is just. You are allowing work to be done by foreign workers at the Ford Livonia Transmission Plant, imported by Ford from Germany doing rigging, millwright, electrical and piping. This is not just.

New work has traditionally been done by the same building trades workers who marched in front at the Labor Day viewing stand that you watched the parade from.

We as building trades understand the encroachment of our work by the UAW skilled trades. It is their house and we are guests. But we do not understand the importing of foreign workers. This is as unthinkable as my purchase of a foreign automobile. Owners and business roundtable participants are encouraging scab labor in place of building trades today and UAW skilled workers tomorrow.

If you are too blind to realize this, your own members better wake up and smell the roses. Unions fighting each other is bad enough, without the importation of foreign scabs to fill union jobs. Solidarity forever is now a nightmare and tomorrow will be a tragedy.

Questions on unfit house

To the editor:

Regarding your front page feature article, "Agencies declare house unfit for humans; elderly pair moves," of Thursday, Aug. 16, written by Joe Baumert. As a neighbor, I want to voice my disgust with the city of Livonia for letting this situation get to such a despicable level.

While the picture and article made for sensational front page news, I think Baumert needs some lessons in good reporting. Never was it mentioned how many times, or for how many years, neighbors called to complain, nor does it appear that any neighbors were interviewed for this article. Why didn't any city officials get interviewed and asked why this was allowed to continue?

Also, it has been several weeks now, and nothing has been done. Who will follow up on it? What will happen next? If they are allowed to move back in, what will prevent it from happening again? What can other Livonia residents do to stop a housing disaster like this one from happening in their neighborhood? These questions need to be addressed by city officials and answered.

Julie Witkowska,
Livonia

Don't raise but cut taxes

To the editor:

I am writing in response to a letter entitled "Motivation Without Fees," by Dale Jurcisin, Livonia City Council vice president.

I take exception to the distorted characterization of the "bag and tag" volume-based fee system in the letter as a penalty and fine approach.

The volume-based user fee approach is a rational economic approach that would reward people for doing a good job of separating their trash. The concept is that people who put out mixed waste should pay for the costs of managing that waste and no charge for separated materials. This pay as you go system would be coupled with a tax cut for homeowners.

To increase taxes would be a misallocation and unfair waste of resources. Instead of paying for the services based on how much residents use a service they may pay according to the value of their homes. Under a tax-based system a family that is responsible and conscientious pays the same amount of money as their neighbor that does nothing.

Livonia will not be a model community as Jurcisin mistakenly believes but merely a mediocre community that will make limited progress in recycling at a higher cost than necessary.

Though he acknowledges that Seattle's bag/tag system promotes recycling he adds that the program must not fail. The implication is that it's all right for Livonia's program to fail. The model communities in the U.S. have programs that achieve the largest diversion of waste from landfills and incineration and under the tax-based system that just won't happen.

I call on the city of Livonia to cut taxes by the amounts they are currently paying for waste management and go to the user fee system to reward people for doing a good job of recycling.

Raising taxes is truly an unfair punishment for those who would be responsible citizens.

Dennis Piper,

Disagree with learning tools

To the editor:

Livonia Public Schools will be conducting a random telephone survey to help define overall directions for the district. If chosen, I would ask: Why is CSMP (Comprehensive School Mathematics Program) being used in the early elementary and ACAT classes?

Stories that accompany the math program focus on negative themes and concepts. It is astonishing that these stories, that do not go home, authored by Frederique, have found entrance into our impressionable youths' school rooms. Despair, depression, death, destruction, stealing, fear and abandonment are just some of the emphasized topics.

The back cover of "I Am A Very Happy Boy" states, "It is a little story about a lonely child — perhaps a typical child." Do you agree a typical child is a lonely child? I do not. This absurd reasoning is woven throughout the materials.

Another story, "The Old Shoemaker," illustrates on Page 33 children stepping on nails, a deliberate punishment for vandalizing the shoe shop. The caption reads, "Each child has a nail in the sole of one of his shoes, they said happily, and the nails are hurting them. It is a fair punishment."

Several stories condone thievery. "81 Roses" is the story of an adopted dog that admits, "I am very greedy." His "mother" leaves the room after baking cookies. He continues, "I immediately jumped onto the table and stole three of them." Three dots are circled and subtraction is introduced to the first graders.

A traditional classroom teacher shared with me the fact that her instructions from supervisors were not to supplement the CSMP with normal arithmetic. The dots, strings, arrows, stories and minicomputers confused her beginning pupils so she implemented with real numbers and processes.

"Drill and Kill" is the expression the national director of CSMP used at a workshop for Livonia teachers. Drilling is discouraged. E.D. Hirsch disagrees with this progressive education Dewey-type thinking in his book, "Cultural Literacy."

Is it taking things too seriously to demand quality education and decent standards in the core curriculum? How far can the fear of censorship be stretched?

We are each and all accountable.

Anti-growth zoning column challenged

To the editor:

Steve Barnaby's column, "Public Deserves Say in Development Wars," is breathtaking in its inanity. The writer's suggestion that municipalities re-zone private property to arrest development displays a shocking advocacy of the use of state power for the benefit of a few citizens.

At a time when eastern Europe is freeing itself from decades of state repression of personal and property rights, it is appalling that Mr. Barnaby seeks to tighten government control here at home.

If a municipality wishes to preserve undeveloped land, it should buy the property. This distributes the cost of such preservation across the entire community, instead of forcing the property owner to subsidize the plans of a few influential citizens.

I would here refer Mr. Barnaby to the final clause of the Fifth Amendment, which prohibits the taking of private property for public use without the payment of just compensation.

A restrictive anti-development zoning can strip tens of thousands of dollars from the value of a parcel of land. That Mr. Barnaby considers this a small price to pay is self-evident — his property is obviously not at stake.

I will leave Mr. Barnaby with one final note. Studies reveal that apartment and condominium complexes, as well as commercial businesses, contribute more to a local community than the value of services they consume. In fact, the only type of property which poses a net drain on a community's resources is the single family home.

It is fiscal suicide to continue this inequitable shift of the tax burden from homeowners to renters and business, while at the same time restricting growth of the latter resource. If gambling is Mr. Barnaby's intent, he should visit Las Vegas and cease his manipulations of local economics.

Vote against air pollution

To the editor:

If the expansion of Metro Airport takes place, the departure gates will almost double, which in turn will double the noise, congestion and pollution. The new flight patterns being used now are creating a noise problem in Livonia. A "no" vote on the expansion bonds in November will prevent the skies over Livonia from becoming an aerial parking lot.

'Low voltage' contractor bill sparks Senate panel debate

By Tim Richard
staff writer

A state Senate panel has stripped a bill licensing electricians of provisions requiring low-voltage equipment installers to be licensed journeymen.

Low-voltage equipment includes sound systems, burglar alarms, data processing equipment and closed-circuit TV.

"The low-voltage issue needs to be done with a separate bill," said Sen. Fred Dillingham, R-Fowlerville, chair of the Senate Human Resources Committee.

HOUSE BILL 5168, as it came to the Senate, was vehemently opposed by home builders, hospitals, the burglar and fire alarm installers and the newly formed Michigan Association of Life Safety Equipment Contractors. Some still oppose it.

"They saw the bill, as offered by Rep. Joe Young Jr., D-Detroit, and passed by the House, as featherbedding by Local 58 of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers and the National Electrical Contractors Association.

And Sen. Robert Geake, R-Northville, still thinks it hasn't been fixed enough. "I felt the bill was a blatant attempt on the part of the electricians' union to take business away from burglar alarm and sound companies by requiring that they conform to the licensing requirements," said Geake.

The bill has been modified in an attempt to appease them, but it still requires unreasonable ratios of journeymen electricians to apprentices, said Geake, who was on the short side of a 3-1 vote Thursday.

DILLINGHAM said he would start work on a separate bill to cover low-voltage technicians, currently unlicensed.

"What we have to do is look at the licensing qualifications for low-voltage people," Dillingham said. "The electricians agree to that."

The Senate substitute requires a 1:1 ratio of journeymen electricians to apprentices on a job site.

Mike Crawford of the National Electrical Contractors Association, bargaining agent for 400 contractors with 3,000 workers, said a 1974 court decision had upset the intent of current law. He favors the new bill.

"The apprentice rules are enforced on a shopwide basis (instead of a site basis)," Crawford said. So while a contractor in Kalamazoo may have only one journeyman for four apprentices, he can tell a state inspector, "I have a 15:1 ratio in Marquette."

Crawford said that "so-called apprentices do electrical work without supervision at all. Apprentices are being hurt and killed on sites."

LYN EOBRT, of the 8,000-member Michigan Association of Home Builders, said the ratio of journeymen to apprentices should be governed by collective bargaining, not law.

"The electrical contractors have the lowest workers comp premiums of all the construction trades," said Egbert. "Safety is not a tremendous great issue."

He said wiring of new houses soon will be done by unrolling a 2½-inch rubber strip. When Dillingham asked how many workers it takes to wire a house, Egbert said, "One. I don't think a person to wire a house has to be a journeyman or an apprentice."

Dillingham noted federal law requires a 3:1 ratio of journeymen to apprentices in federally financed projects.

Reno Regary, a St. Clair Shores contractor with one union and one non-union shop, said he favors the bill but would prefer a 3:1 ratio.

Meijer recalls beans

Meijer Inc. has announced a recall for cans of its own label greenbeans.

The recall involves 16 oz. cans sold at all Meijer stores in Michigan with the code number: G-WCYC/28180.

The federal Food and Drug Administration issued the recall after tests surfaced that uncooked beans were mixed with cooked beans.

According to the manufacturer, Meijer was shipped 150 cases of the beans, 76 of which remain in company warehouses. The beans are being pulled from the shelves of Meijer's 58 Michigan and nine Ohio stores.

Customers can return the beans to their nearest Meijer outlet for a full refund, a company spokesman said.

The beans were packaged by Lakeside Packaging Co. of Manitowoc, Wis. The company packages green beans under a number of labels.

Muffins a treat all day

Itty-bitty bite size or main course massive, muffins are marvelously munchable. One of the latest food trends to hit our area is the muffin phenomenon. At one time, muffins were a Saturday or Sunday brunch staple. Nowadays, muffins are garnering more and more shelf space at local doughnut shops, breakfast buffets and even at McDonald's.

And why not? Muffins are diverse. They're suitable for serving as a brunch bread, a succulent side dish, a delicious dessert or a scrumptious snack. They can even be transformed into a powerful nutritional punch while at the same time pleasing the palate.

Muffins started out as a simple quick bread that was baked daily. Nearly every culture had its own form, the first being the Welsh Pice A Y Man, small pancake-like cakes flavored with cinnamon and nutmeg and bursting with raisins and currants, according to "The Joy of Muffins."

The first real muffins were English crumpets — light, circular spongecakes developed in the early 1700s. This was a yeast bread product, while just about every other type is cousin to that original quickbread.

THE MODERN-DAY
American muffin appeared in the 1840s after the development of baking powder, which hastened the rising process, so the dough remained quick but became more toothsome. Muffins soon moved from the realm of breakfast and English teatime to become snacks and fare for every meal.

Although the standard-bearer to some may be the original blueberry muffin (with the corn muffin a competitor), there isn't much that cannot be added to muffins. Among the most popular nowadays are the vegetable and fruit group comprised of the zucchini, apple, banana and pumpkin.

But watch out, because muffins are experiencing a resurgence and can be seen on the best tables featuring the likes of cheese, sour cream, rhubarb and even sausages.

Making muffins never has been a great mystery or challenge, but the key to making a better batter is in the mixing. Liquid ingredients should be blended into the dry ingredients at the last possible moment before baking, and then stirred by hand just until the dry ingredients are moistened. Stirring too long will produce tough muffins. The longer the unbaked batter sits, the longer the gluten (leavening agent) has to break down. Believe it or not, it's okay if the batter is lumpy.

If your muffins are as hard as baseballs, there probably was too much flour added and not enough liquid. Stirring too long and hard also will produce rock-like with the professionals saying that a 10-15 second stir is really all that's needed.

MUFFINS THAT ARE flat and spread out all over the top of tins are usually filled too full. Experts recommend filling muffin tins and cups only  $\frac{1}{2}$  full for optimum results. Also, too much liquid and not enough dry ingredients will make a flatter product.

On occasion, even I produce muffins that pop out of the oven as tall as the Hen Cen only to fall as flat as a soggy pancake. Again, too little flour can be the culprit. And lastly, if your muffins are not browning evenly, make sure that they are placed on the center rack while baking. Muffins too high get too brown, while muffins too low get burnt bottoms.

Great muffins make excellent lunch-box fillers for everyone from kindergartners to office brown-baggers. Why not whip up a batch of homemade goodness today?

Candy apple making is a sticky business

By Larry Janes
special writer

Candy apples and caramel apples are in prominence at all the local cider mills and farmer's markets.

At one time, I thought the only good thing you could do to an apple was dip it in hot melted caramels but the first time Momma made candy apples certainly will go down in history, along with my first apple pie and my first chocolate chip cookie.

There is little art to making a good caramel apple. Just start with a couple of big, juicy Delicious apples and a few old Popsicle sticks and a bag of Kraft caramels. I belong to the eat-one-throw-one-in-the-pot school of caramel apple making. By the time I have unwrapped a two-pound bag, I'm on such a sugar buzz that I can never wait for the hot caramel to cool enough. Just give me more.

But there is an art to the creation of a candy apple. First off, you can have all the apples, sugar, corn syrup and red food coloring in town but if Mother Nature doesn't want you to make candy apples, it isn't worth the hassle.

Reading between the lines, this means that the best days to make candy apples are cool, dry days, not those dog days of 90 percent humidity and air conditioners. Forget rainy days, too. I think I was asleep in cooking school the day the chef told why, but it has something to do with the fact that when there's moisture in the air, the boiling sugar and corn syrup hardens funny or something like that. Next time I talk to Dr. Science, I'll ask him why.

FINALLY, I FIND one thing that you absolutely cannot make in a microwave. In order to enjoy a good candy apple, one must be able to appreciate all the time and effort that goes into the making. You need a heavy saucepan. Forget the ones you bought at the state fair for $12.95. When you want to boil sugar and syrup to almost 300 degrees, you need a heavy saucepan that will retain and distribute the heat evenly.

If you're actually thinking about going through with this, and you want to read on, be prepared to buy, beg, borrow or steal a candy thermometer. This, however, is not necessary if you have a babushka-wearing Momma standing by your side with a little dish of cold water, who takes the tip of a spoon and dribbles a little in the cold water and then tests with calloused fingers just how hard the syrup has gotten.

Although babushka-wearing mommas are more fun, $8 candy thermometers are more practical because the latter will not make you feel guilty about having a dusty refrigerator top or, god forbid, finger-printed sugar canisters.

Equipment and assistants taken care of, all that's needed is a cinnamon stick and some red food coloring. Get a bag of apples and a few leftover Popsicle sticks and the time has arrived.

If you happen to be making these with Momma, now is the time to get the cleanser out and wash your hands. Just scrub until it hurts because as far as mommas are concerned, they will never be clean enough. Cleanser aside, wash the apples and then dry them completely. Using the old ice cream sticks or, better yet, if you happen to be friendly with the meatman behind the counter, ask him for some heavy city-chicken skewers. They work just as well. Plunge the sticks into the stem end of the apple and set aside.

AT THIS POINT, it is recommended you check the first-aid box for burn spray, salve and Band-Aids, and make sure the freezer is full of ice. Whenever I make hard

It's cider mill time once again

NEXT IN LINE for Michigan favorite is the Paula Reds. The apple was named after an orchard owner's wife, Pauline, and, again, this is a great all-purpose apple with a more tart flavor than Jonathans and a more bluish-colored flesh.

There's no secret why Michigan apple lovers enjoy the third most popular variety, dubbed the McIntosh. This apple has a snappy flavor coupled with an unmatched orchard-fresh aroma. All the benefits of the MacIntosh were nearly lost to history. Seems that in the early 1800s, Ontario farmer John McIntosh found some interesting apple trees on his land and transplanted them to his garden. Only one of the trees survived.

All the millions of McIntosh trees planted since then owe their heritage to that one lonely survivor. Also considered an all-purpose apple, it's loaded with juice, and the aroma makes for the best-tasting and best-smelling apple pies around.

Coming around the corner a little later, this fall, will be Michigan's growing crop of Ida Reds. This cross between Jonathan and Wagener varieties was developed at the Idaho Experiment Station and introduced commercially in 1942. The Ida Reds are late-ripeners, usually not coming into the Michigan picture till mid-

October. Again, an all-purpose apple, it is firm, crisp and juicy and makes for a popular lunch-box snack because it keeps well under refrigeration and tends to resist browning.

ANOTHER POPULAR late-variety Michigan apple is the Empire. This apple was developed by Dr. Roger Way at the Geneva Agricultural Experiment Station at Cornell University. The Empire is a cross between McIntosh and Delicious and was developed for excellent storage under controlled conditions, in addition to being mild, medium-sized and a very attractive nearly red/solid red color. Best for eating fresh, it also can be used for baking and cooking because its' firmer flesh tends to hold up well during cooking.

One of our state's best cooking-apples in the Rome variety (also called Rome Beauty). This medium-to-large variety holds its shape, maintains its' firmness and retains its lovely texture during the baking process.

Michigan is considered a forerunner in innovative technologies and improved cultivation techniques, which aid in the development of new varieties. Gaining in popularity among Michigan favorites are the Winesap, one of the oldest known varieties in America, brought here from Washington State and New York, and the Mutsu-Crispin, a Japanese variety that is light green to yellow in color, with a delicate spicy taste, having the barest hint of anise.

IF YOU EVER really doubted the facts, you would be surprised to know that the average apple has 81 calories and is chock-full of good dietary fiber, Vitamin A, potassium, and carbohydrates while having zip in cholesterol and negligible amounts of fat and sodium.

Apples are great for dental health. They clean and massage the gums much like a natural toothbrush. Apples actually can reduce tooth decay, eliminating 98.7 percent of the bacteria in the mouth, compared to three minutes with a toothbrush, plus a mouth rinse, eliminating only 64.3 percent of the mouth's bacteria. Anyway you slice it, Michigan apples are the best.

APPLE CAKE

- 1 ½ cup oil
- 2 cups sugar
- 2 teaspoons vanilla
- 3 eggs, beaten
- 3 cups sliced apples (thin)
- 3 cups flour
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon baking soda
- 2 teaspoons cinnamon
- 1 teaspoon nutmeg
- 1 cup chopped walnuts

Pour oil into a large bowl. Stir in sugar, vanilla, eggs and apples. Mix well. Sift together the dry ingredients. Add dry ingredients to apple mixture, then add the nuts. Stir to mix, about 15 seconds. Pour into a lightly greased 9-by-13-inch pan. Bake at 350 degrees for 1 hour.

FRESH BLENDER APPLESAUCE

- 4 apples, peeled, quartered, cored
- ¼ teaspoon ground cinnamon
- ½ cup water
- 3 tablespoons honey

Place all the ingredients in a blender and blend till smooth. Serve at room temperature or chill. Makes 3 cups.

Apple recipes were provided by the Michigan Apple Committee. For more information about Michigan apples, including some great recipes, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to: Michigan Apple Committee, 13105 Schaeve Road, Suite No. 5, Dewitt, Mich. 48820.

Salmon and veggies: just take them along

AP — Salmon, pink or red, mixed with fresh vegetables, makes a portable meal.

Alaska produces about 90 percent of the total United States production of salmon, according to the Alaska Seafood Marketing Institute. The five species of Pacific salmon caught in Alaska are often known by more than one name: chinook or king, sockeye or red, coho or silver, pink, chum or keta.

The Alaska Seafood Marketing Institute says 30 to 35 percent of the salmon catch is canned. Sockeye and pink make up the greatest volume of canned salmon.

TAILGATE SALMON SALAD

One 15 ½ -ounce can pink or red salmon

One 17 ¼ -ounce jar or can of marinated mixed bean salad, chilled
4 cups salad greens, torn into bite-sized pieces
2 cups shredded spinach
12 cherry tomatoes
4 radishes, sliced
1 cup fresh bean sprouts
5 mushrooms, sliced
2 medium carrots, thinly sliced
4 green onions, diagonally sliced

Transport chilled, unopened salmon, bean salad, greens and vegetables in plastic bags or containers to picnic. Drain salmon; chunk. Arrange greens and vegetables on large board for each person to prepare his or her own salad. Spoon beans and its marinade over salmon, greens and vegetables. Makes 8 servings.

Statistics show that the apple has become the fruit most favored by American consumers, with more than 93 percent of the families purchasing apples regularly.

Small yet special production from Burgundy

Burgundy is not France's largest wine region, but it is its most fabled. The legendary aspects may cloud our view of the region's relatively small wine production.

The region's premium acreage, the Côte d'Or, is 30 miles long. Annual wine production is about one-tenth that of Bordeaux.

Burgundy's major white wine is produced from chardonnay, while the reds are made from pinot noir.

Just over 200 years ago, the French Revolution wrought the single most important transfiguration on Burgundy's vineyards. The vineyards were confiscated from church and monastery ownership and put to piecemeal auction. Today, the system of small ownership prevails. The great vineyards remain intact as appellations, but they are divided among multiple proprietors.

Côte d'Or wines are classified as grand cru, premier cru and village wines. The quantity of grand cru Burgundy wines cannot possibly satisfy world demand for the wines from this region. In recent years, prices of Burgundy wines have escalated in double-digit percentages annually.

Burgundy's system of labeling the region's wines is dependent on geography. If you are not familiar with this geography, the easiest way to select good wines is by the name of the producer or the shipper. Below, we discuss several reputable producers and recommend a wine from each.

Malson Louis Jadot was founded in 1859 by the man whose name it bears. Two succeeding generations of Jadots built the company reputation. In 1962, when Louis Auguste Jadot died, survived only by his wife, she appointed André Gagey as managing director.

The winery is in the heart of Beaune, where technical director Jacques Lardière oversees three cellars, one of which dates back to 1477. In contrast, the most recent cellar, completed in 1988, is ultra high-tech.

In 1880, Joseph Drouhin bought the business rights of a wine firm founded in 1756 and bestowed his name on the enterprise. Today, Robert Drouhin, third-generation family member, leads the Burgundy house standing at the center of the old part of Beaune within the inner circle of the ancient Roman fortifications.

focus on wine Eleanor and Ray Heald

John Mongeard represents the eighth generation of his family to produce wines at Domaine Mongeard-Mugneret in the Côte de Nuits. He is a distinguished proprietor, producing barely 10,000 cases annually of outstanding wines from a host of appellations in which his family owns small vineyard parcels.

"When a proprietor works his own land, there is a conscientiousness that cannot be achieved by hiring people as the large negotiants are forced to do," Mongeard said. "I'm not saying that all small producers in Burgundy make top wines. Hard work and dedication are complementary to the knowledge of the vineyards and how to make the wines."

His production of pinot noir makes traditional use of one and two-year-old barrels except for the Riche-bourg, where 100 percent new-barrel toasted oak enriches the fruit components of the wine. "This wine is always powerful and round," Mongeard said. "The fruit can support the tannin of young wood. The terroir is the difference in quality for Richebourg."

At Domaine Louis Trapet, Jean Trapet is the fifth generation to direct this prestigious estate whose beginning dates to 1680 in the village of Chambolle-Musigny.

Until the end of the 1940s, Louis Trapet sold his harvest in barrels to the local Burgundy trade. In the early 1950s, the Domaine began bottling small quantities. For the last decade and a half, the entire production of 7,500 cases has been Domaine bottled and 50 percent is exported. The portion remaining in France is co-

WINE SELECTIONS OF THE WEEK

1988 Louis Jadot Chardonnay, Bourgogne Blanc ($12) shows ripe apple aromas, fresh fruit flavors and a solid finish.

1988 Joseph Drouhin Saint-Romain ($12.75) boasts lively aromas of butter and toasted oak. Rich fruit components are supported by solid structure and the finish of this white Burgundy is long and flavorful.

1987 Mongeard-Mugneret Vosne vetered by Michelin three-star restaurants.

Blackberry and berry fruit distinguishes Trapet's young Chambertin appellation wines. They develop a complex, concentrated, extracted character as they mature, yet they finish delicate, elegant and long.

"While people will generalize for France and claim the 1988 and 1989 vintages as very good, most will forget that 1987 was very good in Burgundy," Trapet said.

The Corton and Aloxe properties of the Domaine Prince de Mérode have been in the family since the mid-17th century. The family castle in Serrigny is the site of wine production today by the seventh-generation Prince de Mérode.

Romance, Les Orveaux, Premier Cru ($30) is a wine rich, red berry character that lingers in the taste memory long after being swallowed.

1987 Louis Trapet Latricières-Chambertin, Grand Cru ($50) has deep, delicious cherry fruit complemented by intriguing smoky-oak aromas.

1987 Prince de Mérode Pommard, Clos de la Platere, Premier Cru ($34) exhibits exuberant cherry fruit flavors in a fresh, juicy style.

Wines from an average of 28-year-old vines, with a total production less than 4,000 cases annually, have been estate bottled since 1959.

"To make quality Burgundy wines, the proprietor must know the terroir," claims Prince de Mérode. "This is the distinct advantage of ownership and wine production for a few manageable vineyard parcels. We know these vines intimately."

Michigan Chili Cookoff comes up with some winners

A tasty hot chili by Joe Swiderski of Wyandotte took first place at the recent 12th annual Michigan Chili Cookoff at the Lark restaurant in West Bloomfield.

Other winners were Carl Brenner of Detroit, second place; Frank

Klancnik of Walled Lake, third place; Ralph King of Dexter, fourth place, and Jim Weller of Rockford, Ill., fifth place. Best Booth Award went to Carl Brenner of Detroit and the Showmanship award, to Frank smoke in the hole chili team.

Here's the recipe for Joe Swiderski's prize-winning chili:

HEMROYD HEAVEN CHILI
5 pounds ground sirloin
3 pounds chorizo (Mexican sausage)
½ whole garlic
8 onions
2 (8-ounce) cans Rotel brand tomatoes

1 jar chili paste
2 cans tomato sauce
5 ancho peppers
2 cayenne peppers
2 jalapeno peppers
2 chili peppers
4 heaping tablespoons chili powder

4 heaping tablespoons chili pepper
4 heaping tablespoons cumin
1 tablespoon pepper
1 tablespoon salt
1 tablespoon hoisin sauce
1 tablespoon roast beef base
1 bottle Guinness Stout

Candy apples are a sticky business

syrup, I always end up burning one part of my body. By the way, mommas never do.

The next step is to bring the sugar, corn syrup, water and cinnamon stick to a boil. This is easy. Boil for four minutes. This is easy too.

Using a candy thermometer, insert the tip into the bubbling sugar mixture. This is usually where the first burn will occur, especially if it's boiling too hard.

No matter what happens, you are not allowed to stir the mixture once it begins to boil. Again, this is some cardinal sin contrived by chefs who didn't want to dirty another spoon. Supposedly, stirring will make the syrup grainy.

Keep inserting the candy thermometer until the temperature reaches 280 degrees. It is at this point that the boiling sugar mixture will increase temperature at dramatic levels. Don't even think of burning yourself now, for you have crossed a point of no return.

Once the thermometer reads 290 degrees (also called "hard crack" stage) you can remove the pot and place it over another pot with a little hot water in it. This will hold the temperature for a few seconds while you run around the kitchen frantically looking for the recipe.

REMOVE THE cinnamon stick using long-handled pliers or tongs. Add red food coloring, a few drops at a time, stirring after every addition until the desired redness is achieved. How much is enough? Do you want a pink candy apple or a red one? Momma adds a little more than a tablespoon.

At this point, you are ready to dip the skewered apples into the mixture. Of course, you will find that if you used too large a pot, the syrup won't be deep enough to cover the apples and you will have to reach for a spoon to drizzle some syrup over the top. Too bad. By now the mixture has cooled and it is becoming so hard you almost have to yank the apple off the bottom of the pot. Like I said, it's always best to have Momma nearby. Continue with remaining apples if you can.

Once the apples are dipped, simply place on waxed paper or a buttered piece of foil or cookie sheet to harden. Guess what, the recipe only makes four candy apples, and if the apples are really big, it will only make three. Go back to step one.

RED CANDY APPLES
(from "Apples, Apples, Apples" by Judith Comfort and Kathy Chute, Doubleday Press, 1986, $12.95.)

4 medium apples
2 cups white sugar
½ cup light corn syrup
1 cup water
One 3-inch cinnamon stick
Red food coloring
Wooden skewers

Wash apples and dry with a soft cloth. Mix sugar, corn syrup, water and cinnamon stick on the top of a double boiler. Bring to a boil and cook, covered, for 3 minutes. Uncover and cook, without stirring, until a hard ball stage is reached, approximately 290 degrees. Remove cinnamon stick. Stir in food coloring and dip apples into mixture. Place on greased pans or foil and allow to harden. Enjoy.

Chef's note: Recipe can easily be doubled.

2 kinds of squash paired

This dish has a satisfyingly creamy center and crusty finish.

CRISP SQUASH GRATIN
1 small garlic clove, minced
1 tablespoon plus 1 teaspoon all-purpose flour
½ teaspoon dried summer savory, sage, or marjoram, crumbled
1 teaspoon coarse kosher salt
3 ½ pounds Calabaza or Butternut squash, halved, the seeds and strings discarded, and the squash cut into chunks, peeled, and cut into ¼-inch dice (about 6 cups)
2 tablespoons extra-virgin olive oil

In a small bowl combine well the garlic, the flour, the summer savory, the salt and pepper to taste. In a well-oiled, 2-quart shallow baking dish toss the squash with the flour mixture, coating it evenly, drizzle the squash mixture with 1 tablespoon of the oil, and toss it well. Drizzle the remaining tablespoon oil over the mixture, cover the dish tightly with foil, and cut 3 slits in the foil for steam vents. Bake the squash mixture in the upper third of a preheated 325 degree oven for 40 minutes, remove the foil, and toss the mixture gently. Increase the heat to 400 degrees and bake the squash mixture, uncovered, for 40 minutes more, or until it is browned lightly. Serves 4.

Brushing canola oil prevents foods from sticking on grill

AP - Everything from bread to fruit tastes better when it's cooked on the grill. To prevent these foods from sticking, brush canola oil on the grill's surface before cooking.

Shrimp should always be grilled in their shells for two to three minutes to retain moisture. For clams, oysters and mussels, spread them out on the grill and cover, leaving the top and bottom vents half open. Their shells will pop when done, about five to 15 minutes.

To ensure your shellfish are fresh, check that the shells are tightly closed before cooking. For added flavor, marinate shrimp in a Cajun or light barbecue marinade.

Other suggestions:
• For a mild flavor, marinate poultry and meats for 30 minutes prior to cooking. Use extra marinade to baste food while grilling. This will keep the meats from drying out. For a stronger flavor, marinate poultry and meats for two to 24 hours. If marinating for more than one hour, be sure to place foods in the refrigerator.

Vegetables contain little fat, so be sure to brush them with oil before placing them on the grill. For easy turning, place vegetables in a hinged grilling basket. Grill vegetables first, so they won't absorb meat flavors from the grill; then serve at room temperature.

Place pineapple rings on the grill next to halved, pitted peaches, apricots and pears, cut side down. After two or three minutes, remove the fruit. Sprinkle with cinnamon.

• Grill a multigrain or crusty French bread on the grill. Lightly brush the bread with oil and sprinkle with garlic powder or chopped basil. Grill until each side is a golden brown.

Yogurt cheese a neat snack

AP - Tangy in flavor, high in calcium but low in fat, yogurt cheese makes terrific snack. The texture of the cheese is similar to thick sour cream. Only yogurt that contains no gelatin will drain and thicken to make the cheese, so check the yogurt label before you buy.

CURRIED YOGURT CHEESE
Two 8-ounce containers plain low-fat yogurt (that does not contain gelatin)
½ cup calorie-reduced mayonnaise
½ cup light raisins
1 tablespoon sugar
1 teaspoon curry powder
½ teaspoon salt

Ladle a large strainer or colander with a 20-by-18-inch piece of double-thick cheesecloth; place strainer over a large bowl; set aside. In another bowl combine yogurt, mayonnaise, raisins, sugar, curry powder and salt; spoon mixture into prepared strainer. Pull up corners of cheesecloth; twist corners together so that yogurt mixture is completely covered with cheesecloth. Cover and refrigerate about 24 hours or until liquid is drained into bowl and yogurt is of desired consistency.

Remove yogurt cheese from cheesecloth; place in a small serving bowl. Discard cheesecloth and accumulated liquid. Yogurt cheese can be used as a dip for crackers or fruit or as a dressing for chicken or tuna salad. Makes 1½ cups.

Glenn sidetracks Raiders, 23-7

By Brad Emone
staff writer

They'll never appear on Broadway, but Westland John Glenn's football team will certainly get rave reviews after its performance Saturday night at Klonka Field.

The host Rockets ran their overall record to 4-0 by manhandling a good North Farmington squad, 23-7, making themselves the critics' choice to win their fifth straight Lakes Division championship in the Western Lakes Activities Association.

Glenn did it by making big plays, coupled with a pend-but-don't-break defensive philosophy.

"We have a motto that says 'P.Y.P.' play your position, and you can't beat us," said Glenn defensive coordinator Mike Henry. "It's the job of each man to cover their own responsibility."

The Rockets followed their script to the letter, holding a potent North offense, which had racked up 77 points the previous two weeks, to 138 yards total offense, including a meager 45 in the second half. The Raiders ran just 35 plays all night, three in the third quarter.

"WE HAD OUR best practice we've had all year this week and if you would have told me this would happen, I'd never believe it," said North Farmington coach Jim O'Leary. "I would have bet my house and my kids on it, I felt that confident."

Even Dave Rankin's interception of a Chris Scheffer pass midway through the first quarter proved to be disastrous for North.

Rankin made the grab at his own 4-yard line, but three plays later, North backed up near its own goal line, was forced to punt.

Tad Quattlander's 43-yard punt return, although set back by a clipping penalty, put the ball in prime position for the Rockets at the North 27.

And three plays later, Glenn's Chris Bandy booted a 37-yard field goal with 1:56 left in the opening quarter to give his team a 3-0 lead.

"Our defense really played well early on and held them," said Glenn coach Chuck Gordon. "We got field position, which helped. And the field goal gave us a big lift. The kicking game had been a concern for us, but we emphasized it all week in practice. It appears Bandy has stepped to the front and kind of solidified things."

NORTH, WHICH could not make a first down in the opening quarter, got into trouble again early in the second quarter after Quattlander returned a short punt 16 yards to the Raiders' 35.

Eight plays later, the 5-foot-7, 160-pound tailback busted into the end zone from 11 yards out for the touchdown. Glenn had a 10-0 advantage after Bandy's PAT with 7:17 to play.

The Raiders, however, finally came to life on the ensuing series, tallying their only score of the game on a 3-yard run by Brian Gonterman, capping a 63-yard, 7-play drive. Mike Ober's PAT cut the deficit to 10-7 at halftime.

"We really didn't have a chance to move the ball in the first quarter, but in the second quarter we went right down and scored," said O'Leary. "I really thought we'd do something in the second half."

something in the second half."

GLENN, HOWEVER, took control of things by scoring on its first possession of the third quarter.

Scheffer, Glenn's senior quarterback, set up the Rockets' next touchdown when he scrambled out of the pocket and drilled a 43-yard strike to Chris Gord, who hauled in the bomb at the North 1.

Three plays later, John Ward blasted in from 1 yard out. Bandy's extra point with 6:51 to go in the quarter made it 17-7.

"He (Scheffer) was getting some pressure, he got out of there and saw the route break open," Gordon said. "He was able to set his feet and throw it. It was a big, big play. We made a lot of big plays."

Jon Molnar then intercepted a North pass at the Raiders' 45 in with 4:50 remaining in the third quarter.

Quattlander then broke loose for an apparent 45-yard TD run, only to have the play called back because of a clip.

But the junior speedster was not deterred, putting the game out of reach with a 57-yard TD run with 5:33 left in the game.

Quattlander finished the night with 87 yards in eight carries, while running mate Ward, the team's leading rusher through the first three games, added 47 in 18 attempts. Glenn had 215 total yards.

"BOTH OF OUR backs have different abilities," Gordon said. "Ward is a bigger and more powerful runner, but Quattlander has good quickness. They both complement each other."

Streaking Zebras smack Lincoln Park

By Brad Emone
staff writer

Wayne Memorial's football squad doesn't appear to be hampered by a recent Pay-to-Play plan.

The Zebras, who shell out $210 per man to play because of a series of millage election setbacks, continued to get their money's worth Friday, winning their fourth straight against visiting Lincoln Park, 14-7, in a Wolverine A encounter.

Thus far in 1990, unbeaten Wayne has to be the area's biggest surprise. The team's success has even made head coach Chuck Howton sit up and take note.

"I'm totally amazed because we had only three kids back who started last year and we have a junior quarterback," said the Wayne coach. "What we've had is Pay-to-Play, but we have a lot of enthusiasm from the kids and the coaches. Of course winning helps, but the attitude has been great. We're fortunate to be in the position we are."

The Zebras came up with the right stuff at the right time, especially the defense, which forced three turnovers.

In the final quarter, Lincoln Park mounted a serious threat, but fumbled away two excellent scoring chances.

THE RAILSPITTERS' back-up quarterback, Matt Horvath, who came on in relief of starter Phil Barbosa midway through the fourth quarter, fumbled just before crossing the plane of the Wayne goal line with 7:05 remaining.

Wayne's Jerry Rogers came up with the ball, which was ruled a touchback.

"I couldn't see it," said Lincoln Park coach Jim Kalbfleisch. "He (Horvath) reached for the goal line, but the officials said he didn't get it. What can we do?"

After a short punt, which left the ball at midfield — coupled with a 7-yard run by Shane Bone and an unnecessary roughness call against Wayne, which tacked on an additional 17 yards — Lincoln Park was knocking on the door again.

football

at the Wayne 26 with just four minutes remaining.

But tackle Jason Boden sacked Horvath for a 13-yard loss and Greg Carrico broke up a Horvath pass near the goal line on fourth down to end the threat.

Lincoln Park got the ball back one more time with just under two minutes to play, but this time Barbosa fumbled at his own 25 and Joe Ramsey recovered to preserve the win.

"WE'VE BEEN a big play team all year," said Howton. "We've been living on big plays and hopefully it will continue to come."

Lincoln Park jumped out to a 7-0 lead on a 57-yard drive capped by a 1-yard run by 220-pound senior fullback Bill Coleman, who carried the ball 10 of the 14 plays.

Chris Ferry added the extra point with 10:36 left in the second quarter, but the lead didn't last long as Wayne quarterback Jason Wetmore went to work.

He engineered a 61-yard drive, connecting on three of four passes, including an 11-yard touchdown toss to Rick Barnes.

Wetmore converted the PAT with 6:39 to go in the quarter to knot the score at 7-7.

Wayne then took advantage of a Lincoln Park fumble on the ensuing series when Juan Jones recovered at his own 45 with 8:35 to play in the half.

Wetmore completed five passes, including a key fourth-and-6 pass to a diving Barnes, good enough for a first down, in what proved to be the winning scoring drive.

Rogers' 1-yard run with 36 seconds remaining put Wayne ahead for good.

Despite a soggy field, Wetmore finished the night completing 10 of 32 passes for 125 yards.

"WE HAVE to throw to win the ballgame," said Howton. "We'd like to throw it 15 times. Even if it's raining or dry, we have to throw to keep the opposing defenses honest."

"We've been able to throw the ball to several different receivers and I think that's paid off for us."

Wetmore's play has also been a pleasant surprise for Howton.

"I've never had a junior quarterback start," said the Wayne coach. "But this kid is a damn winner. He does whatever it takes to win. He punts, kicks extra points and field goals, too."

Kalbfleisch, whose team allowed the Zebras only one first down in the second half, says Wayne is for real.

"He (Wetmore) doesn't run quite as well as some of the other quarterbacks they've had, but he throws well and puts it (the ball) right in there," said the Lincoln Park coach, whose team is 2-2 overall.

Although Lincoln Park applied the pressure for most of the second half, the Railsplitters could not score the equalizer.

"THEY (WAYNE) jammed our No. 98 (Coleman) in the second half, but I thought what we did offensively was good, only we didn't get it in the end zone," Kalbfleisch added. "We moved it every time, but the big fumble the first time killed us."

Wayne outgained Lincoln Park in total yards, 209-198.

The Railsplitters had 10 first downs to Wayne's nine.

But despite the nearly even statistics, Wayne found a way to win.

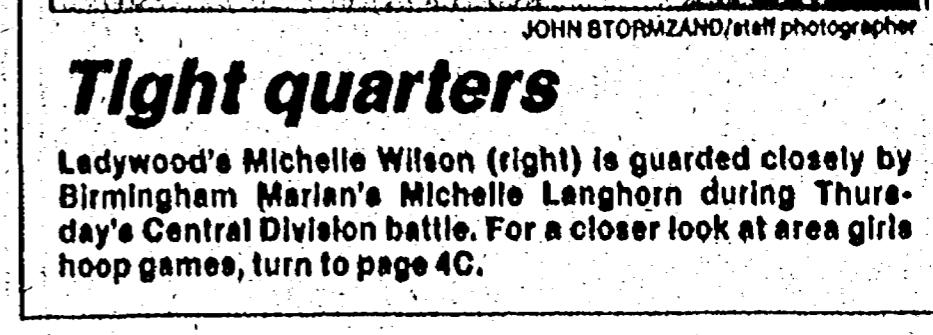

"We have great senior leaders by our three co-captains — Dennis Edwards, Adam Moran and Joe Ramsey," said Howton. "They've been a great inspiration and great leaders. A lot of them play both ways, offensively and defensively. We don't play a lot of kids. We have only 30."

Through the first four games, Howton feels a sense of gratitude for the team has produced under some difficult circumstances.

Central gets rare win vs. Spartans

By Bill Parker
staff writer

Put the coffee on and turn the alarm off.

The defense is awake.

Walled Lake Central's defense arose for the opening kickoff Friday and turned the lights out on Livonia Stevenson's three-game winning streak as the Vikings posted a 6-0 shutout victory in Western Lakes Activities Association action.

Central's defense had trouble getting started in the Vikings' first three games of the season, allowing 21, 28 and 21 points in the first quarter of each game, respectively.

Friday, that same defense limited previously unbeaten Stevenson to six plays and six yards total offense in the first quarter, and just 17 plays and 53 yards in the first half.

"The first quarter has always been a problem for us this year," said Central coach Gary Tuz. "I told the kids, 'Let's stuff them in the first quarter and get over this first quarter jinx.' This is a big win for us. We have (Westland John) Glenn and (Plymouth) Salem in the next two weeks. It's a real big win. Now the kids believe in the defense."

CENTRAL'S OFFENSE also got the job done, scoring the winning touchdown on a 76-yard drive late in the third quarter.

football

Senior wide receiver Andy Malczewski scored on a spectacular diving catch at the left side of the end zone with 1:19 remaining in the third.

"Malczewski ran a great pattern, beat the defender and had to make a great catch," Tuz said.

Churchill opened the second half with a time-consuming drive which stalled on an interception by Mike Lalonde at the Central 24-yard-line. The turnover set up Central's winning drive.

Facing third-and-nine from the 25, Central senior quarterback Lawrence Kerver connected with senior tight end Jon Drake for a 20-yard completion and a first down at the 45-yard line.

Moments later, again facing third-and-long, Kerver hooked up with Malczewski for a 12-yard gain and a first down at the 39.

After a Stevenson penalty gave Central a first down at the 17, Kerver and Malczewski hooked up for the winning TD.

Kerver completed 17 passes for 110 yards, three to Drake for 56 yards.

"Drake has caught four or five passes each week," Tuz said. "If he's not leading the lead I want to know who is."

THE LOSS WAS hard for Stevenson to swallow, after the Spartans had opened the season with three straight victories.

The Spartans continually hurt themselves Friday, turning the ball over eight times, including on all four of their possessions in the second half.

"We haven't done that (turnovers) all year," said Stevenson coach Jack Reardon. "But you get on a field under these kind of conditions (rainy) and most games are decided by a turnover. I can't take anything away from Walled Lake Central, though. They played a good football game."

The Spartans biggest threat came late in the fourth when they took over on downs at their own 38-yard line.

Chad Myers opened the drive with a 24-yard gain and two plays later gave the Spartans a first down at the 30 with a 7-yard pick up. Two plays later the Spartans fumbled the ball away and Central took over at its own 25 with 3:19 remaining in the game.

CENTRAL ALSO made some costly mistakes, turning the ball over three times including once at the Stevenson 20-yard line.

The Spartans marched to the nine-yard-line before Kerver eliminated any hopes of a comeback with an interception at the goal line with 1:05 left in the game.

"We played an undefeated football team tonight and every time we had a chance to break we came right back. I think that's a good sign."

"We've got a brand-new defense this year," continued Tuz. "The kids have never played it and it took a little while for the kids to adjust. We're getting better every week."

BILL BRESLER/staff photographer

Aaron Shakarian carries the ball for the Livonia Franklin, which could muster only 134 yards total offense in a 26-0 loss Friday to Canton.

Devine intervention key to Harrison win

It was so wet and cold Friday night that Livonia Churchill football coach Herb Osterland called it "shriveled-toe night."

It also could be dubbed "Gary Devine's Night" since the senior tailback from Farmington Hills Harrison gained 213 yards on 31 carries and scored all three touchdowns in the Hawks' 21-0 win over host Churchill.

The Hawks, 3-1 overall and 2-0 in the Western Division of the Western Lakes Activities Association, rolled up 361 yards in total offense, including 261 on the ground.

Harrison quarterback Plamen Magdevski completed six of 10 passes for 100 yards. The Chargers, who fell to 0-4 overall and 0-2 in the Western Division, trailed 14-0 after three quarters.

Devine scored twice in the second quarter on runs of 3 and 13 yards and once in the fourth quarter on a 1-yard dive.

"Devine really had a good night," Osterland said. "They did a real good job of running, but I thought we played pretty well until the fourth quarter when we got tired and they started taking over."

(Harrison coach) John (Herrington) said to me after the game that they couldn't get their offense going as they wanted it, but I said, "John, you don't have Mill Coleman anymore." Any time you rush for 245 yards, that's a heck of a night for any club."

Harrison's defense held Churchill to 77 yards in total offense and limited fullback Mike Brooks to 27 yards on 18 carries. The Chargers managed to complete four of eight passes for 27 yards, but all were made by Brooks out of the halfback option.

Three of the passes were caught by Ryan Kukla, for 24 yards. Brooks had a fine overall game, returning the game's opening kickoff 55 yards and also intercepting a pass from his free safety position.

"We could not get blocking to get Brooks going," Osterland said. "Even though they held him down, he still had a solid football game."

Lineman Tony Shaleb led Harrison's defense with nine tackles.

LUTHERAN WEST 28, CLARENCEVILLE 0: In a Metro Conference encounter Friday, visiting Detroit Lutheran West ran over Livonia Clarenceville as the senior backfield combination of Damon Butler and Brian Sparks combined for 259 yards rushing and all four touchdowns.

Butler, the halfback, scored on TD runs of 1 and 26 yards. He finished with 151 yards in 22 carries.

Sparks, the fullback, contributed scoring runs of 1 and 36 yards. He rushed for 108 yards in 12 carries.

Clarenceville dropped to 2-2 overall and 1-2 in the Metro, while West increased its record to 3-1 overall and 2-1 in the conference.

Campau added a first in the 200 freestyle relay (1:52.38).

Lessig, who figured in four firsts, also captured the 50 freestyle (25.5) and 100 butterfly (1:03.52). She also teamed up with Amy Kalinowski, Hammann and Sorokac to win the 200 medley relay (2:00.53).

Hammann, also a part of four firsts, took the 200 individual medley (2:27.31) and 500 freestyle (5:38.27).

Churchill, which captured 11 of 12 events, gained individual firsts from Amy Rozelle, diving, 150.15 points;

Kalinowski, 100 backstroke, 1:11.72; and Sorokac, 100 breaststroke, 1:14.45.

Jill Hawkins recorded the Falcons' only first place, capturing the 100 freestyle in 56.8.

The victorious Spartans, now 2-0 overall, took the first three places led by Stacy Prala (20.32), A.J. Koritnik (20.58) and Carrie Ceehan (21.00).

Allison Davis paced Farmington, finishing fourth with a time of 21.48.

Other Spartans in the top 10 included Gail Grewe, who was fifth in 21.59; and Becky Adamczyk, who took seventh in 22.30.

WESTLAND JOHN GLENN was no match Thursday against Plymouth Salem in both the boys and girls WLAA-Lakes Division dual meets at Cass Benton.

Salem, led by first-place finisher John Thomas (16.57), took eight of the top 10 places in a 15-50 victory.

Joe Rajewski finished eighth for Glenn in 19.18. Teammate Mark Coleman was 10th in 20.11.

In 15-49 girls' victory, Salem captured the first six places led by Stacy Withiff, who covered the hilly 5,000 meter course in 21.34.

Tina Honeycutt and Jennifer Caplis finished seventh and ninth, respectively, for Glenn in 23.55 and 24.51.

Muddy CC can't shake off DeLaSalle

By Steve Kowaleksi
staff writer

Redford Catholic Central's brand new soccer uniforms didn't look so new Friday, after the Shamrocks' 3-1 loss to Warren DeLaSalle.

Playing in the rain and mud at Bell Creek Park, CC brought out its new attire, but couldn't shake an old nemesis: DeLaSalle, which has now won three of the last four meetings between the two schools.

"We play a ball-oriented offense and it was terrible trying to get the ball on the ground today," CC junior Kerry Zavagnin said. "I love these new uniforms, but it's going to take a lot to get these clean."

He's right on both accounts.

DeLaSalle scored once in the first half and took a 3-0 lead midway through the second half en route to winning its seventh game against one loss. The Pilots, who beat CC last year in the Catholic League final, are 3-0 in the Central Division.

THE SHAMROCKS, meanwhile, slipped to 4-2-2 overall, and 2-1 in the Central Division. CC coach John Boots already is looking forward to the next meeting between the two teams, Oct. 9 at DeLaSalle, when he hopes to see sunny skies and a dry playing field.

Besides losing the game, the Shamrocks also lost defender Matt McIntosh, who injured his nose in a second-half collision with a DeLaSalle player.

"It's like everyone has got skin on," said Boots, commenting on Friday's conditions. "It's pitiful. We like to pass and keep the ball on the ground. We look for exact passing, and it's almost impossible to do in this weather."

"This was not to our advantage. (But) honestly, I'm not worried at all. We just try to get better each game and do something positive."

Three different players scored for the Pilots, who might not have been bothered as much by the playing conditions. Playing CC was enough incentive regardless of the weather, according to coach Terry Mukhtar.

"We've always had pretty good luck against CC, even in the days of Andy Rama (a former CC player in the mid-1980s)," Mukhtar said. "Our team gets so fired up for them. Of course, before the game, I make CC sound like a college team."

"FOR US TO WIN we had to stop their big guns — and we did that until the last 10 minutes — and we had to force their defense to make mistakes. Both teams are extremely well-coached. When I play against Boots, it's like a chess match. He makes a move and I counter-move."

CC's first mistake came in the first half when DeLaSalle's Tim Hardy caught up to a long pass from Marcus Cudnik and punched the ball past CC goalkeeper Tim Bobar for a 1-0 lead. The Pilots took a 2-0 lead midway through the second half on a goal by senior Brian Maisonneuve, his 11th of the year.

Maisonneuve, one of the state's top seniors, scored the goal when he headed a pass from Dale Baginski into the CC net, shortly after a goal kick by CC. Boots, upset by the Shamrocks inability to clear the ball out of their zone, gave some of the credit to his players for the goal.

"We had an assist on that goal," he said. "We don't think sometimes."

Brian Fulton finished DeLaSalle's scoring later in the second half, giving the Pilots a commanding, 3-0 lead. CC's only goal came with about 10 minutes left when Brendan Sullivan re-directed a corner kick by Zavagnin into DeLaSalle's net.

The goal was one of the few bright spots for the Shamrocks, who used three strikers — Sullivan, Rich Walosz and Dana Orsucci — instead of one to try to generate more offense in the mud.

BOOTS THOUGHT the ploy worked — but not for long.

"I thought we completely dominated the first 20 minutes, then they scored the cheap goal and we lost concentration," he said. "Sullivan is normally my sweeper back but I'm pretty creative and I was trying to generate something. You have only so much space and you try to fill it the best way you can."

In a game played Wednesday, Orsucci scored four goals and CC routed host Harper Woods Notre Dame, 10-2.

Zavagnin and Sullivan had two goals apiece, while Walosz and Jay Worley contributed one goal each for the Shamrocks. Zavagnin and Walosz also chipped in a couple assists each.

Brian Maahs was the winning goalkeeper for the Shamrocks, who led 5-0 at halftime.

Upstart Franklin boots Northville

The Patriots are now 4-3-1 overall.

On Wednesday, the Patriots pulled a mild surprise by beating host Northville, 2-1, as sophomore Richard Burnette tallied the game winner with seven minutes to play after Northville had tied it with 15:30 to go in a penalty kick.

Franklin freshman Victor Rodopoulos scored his sixth goal of the season to give his team a 1-0 halftime advantage.

Earlier in the week, Burnette scored a pair of goals and Patrick Curtis and Todd Freeman added one each as the Patriots downed visiting Walled Lake Centaur, 4-2.

Franklin is 2-2 overall in the Western Lakes Activities Association and 1-1 in the Western Division.

Chargers post state cuts

Tara Ditchkoff figured in a pair of state qualifying efforts Thursday, propelling Livonia Churchill to a 126-57 girls swim victory over visiting Farmington.

Ditchkoff was clocked in 2:00.0, a state cut, in the 200-yard freestyle. She also teamed up with Amy Kalinowski, Hammann and Sorokac to win the 200 medley relay (2:00.53).

The team of Ditchkoff, Carla Karoub, Renee Tomlinson and Julie

Campau added a first in the 200 freestyle relay (1:52.38).

Lessig, who figured in four firsts, also captured the 50 freestyle (25.5) and 100 butterfly (1:03.52). She also teamed up with Amy Kalinowski, Hammann and Sorokac to win the 200 medley relay (2:00.53).

is 3-1 overall. "When you got all five in the 17's, you're in business, but we're not quite there yet."

Meanwhile, the Franklin girls, despite a personal best of 21:03 from first place finisher Stacy Hewett, lost to the Mustangs, 24-32.

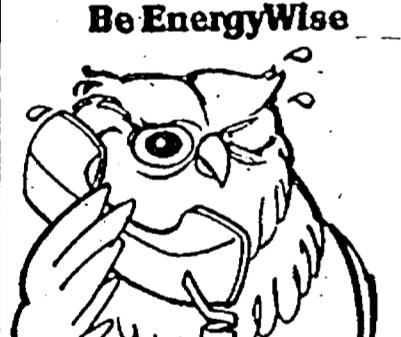

Northville's Marcie Dart finished second in 21:33.

Other Patriots in the top 10 included Tammy Bauer, fifth, 22:02; Keri MacKay, seventh, 22:30; Kelly Gustafson, eighth, 23:02.

The Franklin girls are 1-1 overall.

LIVONIA STEVENSON handed the Farmington girls their first dual meet loss in three years Thursday, 18-42, in a Western Lakes Activities Association

Stevenson rebounds to topple Western

Livonia Stevenson rebounded from its 22-point loss last week to city rival Franklin, defeating Walled Lake Western in a Western Lakes girls basketball encounter, 55-51.

The Spartans, who won on the road, increased their overall record to 5-1 overall and 2-0 in the Western Lakes Activities Association.

Stevenson jumped out to a 36-30 halftime lead and held off a late Western rallying by airing out the ball.

Junior center Teresa Sarno paced the visitors with 16 points. Sophomore forward Karen Groulx added 10 points.

Western's Holly Miller paced all scorers with 18. The Warriors are 3-4 overall and 0-2 in the WLAA.

Stevenson won despite making only two of 12 free throws. Western was 12 of 29.

CHURCHILL 48, FARMINGTON 39: Sophomore Chrissy Daly pumped in 14 points and senior Lori Place contributed 12 Thursday, leading host Livonia Churchill to the WLAA win.

Churchill, coming off a 48-18 loss two days earlier to Northville, ran its overall record to 4-2 and 2-0 in the WLAA.

The Chargers led 23-18 at halftime and took a 39-25 advantage through three quarters before coasting home.

Tammy Allen tallied 10 points for the visiting Falcons, who slipped to 1-6 overall and 0-2 in the league.

FRANKLIN 56, JOHN GLENN 45: On Thursday, junior guard Dawn Warner tallied 16 of her game-high 17 points in the second half to spur Livonia Franklin to its seventh straight win without a loss.

Franklin won despite hitting only 30 percent from the field (22 of 73).

girls basketball

"We missed a ton of layups," said Franklin coach Dan Freeman, whose team is 2-0 in the WLAA. "We just had to hang in there and play defense until the shots started dropping."

Senior center Jenny Mayle and senior forward Julianne Steslik contributed 12 points apiece. Senior forward Tracy Parenti chipped in with 10.

The 5-10 Mayle got into foul trouble, but junior forward Christie Celeste helped pick up the slack inside.

Glen, which slipped to 3-4 overall and 0-2 in the WLAA, got 16 points from junior guard Carrie Ratchwell and 12 from junior center Cathy Murk.

MARIAN 82, LADYWOOD 58: In a Catholic League (Central Division) opener for both teams Thursday, host Birmingham Marian jumped out to a 44-25 halftime lead and never looked back to run its unbeaten streak to seven.

The loss leaves Livonia Ladywood with a 2-4 overall record. Five Mustangs scored in double figures: Carmie Garofalo (15), Trina Covin (14), Stephanie Stoen (12), Molly Ferguson (12) and Diana Hudson (10).

Hudson also had 10 rebounds and five steals.

Rebecca Willey paced Ladywood with a game-high 23 points. Teammate Tracy Mocon added 10.

LUTHERAN EAST 77, CLARENCEVILLE 13: Despite eight points from junior guard Leandra Hoffman and some hustling defensive play by sophomore guard Bree Lyons, Livonia Clarenceville was no match Thursday for host Harper Woods Luther.

an East in a Metro Conference opener for both teams. "When we start running the plays, we'll start winning ballgames," said Clarenceville coach Wendy Kelchen, whose team is 0-3.

Jill Gossard led the victorious Eagles (5-1) with 23 points.

Clarenceville was outscored 29-2 after one quarter and trailed 68-9 after three quarters.

HURON VALLEY 36, PLY. CHRISTIAN 34: Brenda Mayworm saved her best for last — pumping in Huron Valley Lutheran Westland's last eight points, including six in the final 20 seconds, to propel her team to a come-from-behind victory Friday over Plymouth Christian.

The win evened Huron Valley's record at 3-3 overall; the Hawks are 2-0 in the Michigan Independent Athletic Conference's Red Division. Plymouth Christian is 0-2 overall, 1-1 in the Red Division.

Huron Valley trailed 34-30 with 20 seconds left when Mayworm got loose on a breakaway. On the Eagles' next possession, Mayworm stole the ball and was fouled. She hit two free throws to knot the score.

A traveling call against Plymouth Christian gave the ball back to Huron Valley, and with two seconds left Mayworm sank a 10-footer for the win. She finished with 13 points and nine rebounds. Sandi Dengel had nine points.

Jenny Moore paced the Eagles with 14 points.

LUTHERAN WESTLAND 67, FAIRLANE CHRISTIAN 22: Stephanie Locke poured in 35 points Friday to ignite host Lutheran Westland over Dearborn Heights Fairlane Christian.

The Warriors (6-1 overall) were never in danger, leading 17-6 after one quarter and 39-10 at the half. Kristen Strang added 10 points for the winners; Heather Pace topped Fairlane (2-3) with seven points.

Avoid injuries by using proper form

AS IF YOU DIDN'T have enough to worry about already, such as the lane conditions, your next opponent, the price of gasoline. Like all sports, bowlers can't avoid nagging injuries.

Maybe I can tell you why your thumb (or is it the elbow) hurts. I went to the people who know all about bowling ailments, the Center for Athletic Medicine at Henry Ford Hospital. Dr. Sheldon Cohn, a Birmingham resident, was able to provide his knowledge for the Observer & Eccentric readers.

Bowling injuries, the cause and effect,

The essential parts affected are: Thumb, wrist, elbow and knee. Other problem areas such as the shoulder or back are not usually caused by bowling. The conditions may have pre-existed and later became aggravated.

In general, most conditions are caused by either or both of two factors: over-use or improper technique. Yes, you can overdo a good thing, and if you indulge in too much bowling, injuries can occur. If your form is incorrect, you may pay for it with an ailment and the pain that goes with it.

Your own body will tell when you have done too much — in the form of aches and pains. If the technique is wrong, get help from a good coach or instructor.

Let's start with the thumb.

"Bowler's thumb" is caused by excessive pressure on the small nerve at the base of the thumb. It results in irritation and scarring around the "Ulnar Digital Nerve." This will cause some degree of pain and a loss of feeling in that area. If you have this condition, go to a good pro shop and have the thumb hole of the ball checked.

Perhaps re-drilling with negative pitch will relieve this pressure, or you might want to change from a conventional grip to a semi-fingertrip or a "relaxed" fingertrip fitting. It may also help to have the thumb hole "ovalized" to fit the shape of the thumb.

If you are unlucky enough to get a blister, it is best to let it heal, do not try to break it. Callouses can also cause discomfort if they get too big.

You can keep them down with a pumice stone. Wrist problems can be a pain, particularly those tendons that move the thumb. These can become inflamed and swollen around the wrist, causing pain and swelling. The treatment and cure is rest and/or anti-inflammatory medication.

It is usually an inflammation where the muscle attaches to the bone. Again, these ailments are usually due to overuse or poor technique.

The knee is another likely source of misery, particularly if there is a pre-existing arthritis condition, that would be aggravated by the sliding step of the delivery. If the soreness is in the kneecap, the pain is more severe. A knee brace would be beneficial, also arthritis medication. The sore elbow, commonly called "tennis elbow" is basically the same cause and effect as the wrist problem.

Try to keep the legs strong with proper exercise, check with your own physician for your individual needs.

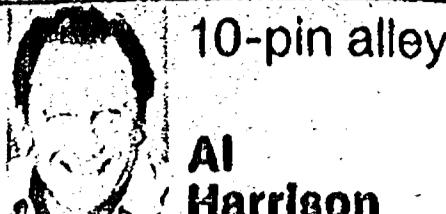

Carelessly removing a bowling ball from the rack can result in a fractured toe, so do not drop the ball. Be careful around the ball return, this can be a very hazardous area and do not reach inside if the ball is not coming all the way out. Call for assistance.

• This week's Ten Pin Personality is Ken Lauterbach. To a lot of bowling people, Lauterbach is known as "Mr. Brunswick." He started out as a "Floor boy" in a bowling center back in Lincoln, Neb., and worked his way up to the manager.

Lauterbach was on the University of Nebraska bowling team for four years and has worked for Brunswick for 15 years as an area sales manager. A talented bowler, Lauterbach averaged 195 last season in the Sunnybrook Business and Industrial League. No company can prosper without good representation and Lauterbach has been instrumental in the success of Brunswick's bowling division.

He also is this year's honorary chairman of the "Make a Wish" Charly Bowling Tournament and auction on Sept. 30 and Oct. 7 at Astro Lanes (14 Mile Road and Dequindre). This is to benefit terminally ill children. Lauterbach also has helped handicapped bowlers, encouraged and instructed many to get involved in bowling.

"Bowling has always been very special to me, so I've always tried to give something back," he said. Lauterbach would like to see more "Learn to Bowl" instructional programs to teach people the basic fundamentals, and help more bowlers improve their game.

10-pin alley

"Bowling is fun, competitive, and a relaxing night out with friends to relieve the stress of the work-day world we live in," Lauterbach said.

I've seen a lot of new faces in the bowling centers, and the image of bowling has been much improved as the centers have been upgraded, especially in the Detroit area. Lauterbach asks that if you would like to make a child's dream come true before it is too late, come to Astro Lanes for the "Make a Wish" event.

• In celebration of its successful "Bowling Just for the Fun of It" campaign, the Bowling Centers Association will hold its grand-prize drawing of $10,000 on Thursday, Sept. 27, in the Center Court of Oakland Mall in Troy. A semi-final drawing will be held at the BCA office on Friday, Sept. 21. Then on Thursday, the 27th, all semifinalists will be invited to try their luck at opening a treasure chest worth $10,000 in the center court of Oakland Mall. All remaining semifinalists will receive a gift certificate redeemable for dinner for two at any Charley's Restaurants in southeast Michigan.

Senior transportation is generally available

Q. I am 89 years old and my wife is 87. We live in Detroit. We would like to be able to go to a senior center for meals and companionship but we have no way of getting to the center. Do any of them offer transportation? We are in good health, but I can no longer drive.

A. Many Detroit senior centers will provide transportation to and from the center sites. Most centers offer hot meals, usually at noon time, and a variety of activities for older adults. Some senior centers also offer transportation for shopping, medical visits and even some special senior entertainment trips. Fees, if any, for the transportation are determined by the individual sites. Meals are usually offered on a donation basis but no one is refused a meal. There is usually a small charge for social trips. For the names of the centers closest to your home, call the Detroit Health Department at 876-4559 Monday-Friday, 8 a.m.-4:30 p.m.

Q. My husband will soon be released from the hospital. I cannot care for him alone at home and my family lives in other states. I will need help before he comes home and I don't know how to go about arranging for assistance.

A. Most hospitals offer discharge planning which assists patients and families prepare for health and home-care needs once the patient is discharged. This service is often provided by a registered nurse, social worker or the hospital may have a staff of specially trained discharge planners. Discharge planning is offered so that, if needed, a visiting nurse, hospital equipment, home delivered meals or other services are arranged prior to patient discharge. The discharge planner can arrange for ambulance transfer if it is needed, too. Questions concerning follow-up care and those agencies to contact for additional assistance or information can usually be answered by the discharge planner, also. Ask your nurse to help you contact the hospital's discharge planners.

Q. I will soon be able to apply for Medicare and am interested in purchasing a supplemental insurance policy that will cover the medical services and expenses that Medicare does not. Where can I get unbiased information to learn about the best protection I can buy for my money?

A. Since everyone's needs and economics are different, the first thing you should do is to carefully consider your present and what you think will be your future needs before buying a supplemental health care policy. Your local Social Security office has an informative free publication entitled "Guide to Health Insurance for People with Medicare." This pamphlet explains supplemental insurance and how to go about investigating the available policies. In addition, the booklet contains the names, addresses and telephone numbers of the Michigan State Insurance Department and the Office of Services to the Aging. These agencies will provide you with additional information that will help you make your decision about buying additional medical insurance protection. You should make certain, however, that the policy you are considering purchasing does not duplicate the protection you will receive from Medicare. Duplicate protection is not only unnecessary but costly.

Only one other environment is as well suited for the development of a healthy child.

The womb is a unique and nearly perfect environment. Designed specifically by Mother Nature for a developing child's needs. And dedicated solely to that child's well-being.

To those in the health care field, however, it presents a most difficult act to follow.

But on September 25th, the University of Michigan will open the doors of what may be the most complete and innovative health care environment outside a mother's womb. The Maternal and Child Health Center.

Here, four nationally known hospitals have been integrated under one roof: C.S. Mott Children's Hospital; Women's Hospital; James and Lynelle Holden Perinatal Hospital, and the Child and Adolescent Psychiatric Hospital.

All their combined skills will work to meet the specific needs of each individual patient. Pregnant women and new mothers. Infants, children and teenagers.

The Maternal and Child Health Center. After Mother Nature has done her usual, impeccable job, it's our turn. Knowledge Heals.

Antiques and lace: A B&B experience

By John Monaghan
special writer

Time was, you had to drive three or four hours to reach a favorite bed-and-breakfast destination. Now, as three inns in Detroit, Northville and Milford have proven, the B&B experience is getting closer to your own backyard.

Located off Jefferson Avenue near Belle Isle, The Blanche House Inn counts Coleman Young and other prominent Detroiters among its neighbors. The eight-room inn has experienced great success, especially with business travellers.

"A lot of them look for a way to break from the impersonal chain hotel," said innkeeper Mary Jean Shannon. "They come here for the personality. We remember their names, often become good friends, and provide all the amenities of a hotel — and more."

Mary Jean and her son Sean both had nine-to-five jobs before purchasing the 1905 Blanche House and the 1898 "castle" next door. She was an interior decorator for properties on Mackinac Island. He was a budget analyst at Chrysler.

The renovation has been a labor of love for the Shannons, who appreciate Detroit's historic architecture.

"We basically did all the work on The Blanche House ourselves," Sean said. "On the castle renovation, I'm more of a general contractor."

THE EXTERIOR and landscaping have been low priorities, so you may be disappointed when approaching the tatty lawn and peeling paint of The Blanche House's colonial revival facade. Walking inside, however, you will find an exquisitely decorated inn.

Paintings, prints, and fresh flowers accent the antique-filled guest rooms, many named for Detroit historical figures. The Stanton Canal River Room, after original owner Marvin Stanton, is one of two rooms affording a riverside view.

The Snugger, the third-floor suite, offers pastel-colored, hand-painted murals, a house-warming gift executed by a Kentucky cousin of the Shannons. This is the priciest room at $105 per night. All rooms include full breakfast with fresh fruit, juice, baked goods and an entree, perhaps quiche, French toast or cheese strata.

Restoration is in full force at the castle, which architect Louis Kampf patterned after a castle in Ireland. The Shannons hope to have guest rooms open by fall. On the weekends, scaffolding and paint brushes are set aside as the castle hosts catered weddings and banquets on its first floor.

Both homes were once part of the Detroit University School, which counted G. Mennen Williams and members of the Ford family among its pupils. The building served for many years as dentists' offices and apartments. Multiple residential zoning made things a lot easier when the Shannons purchased the home as a prospective inn in 1988.

INNKEEPERS SUSAN Lapine and Don Mroz came up with the initial five-step plan for Northville's Atchison House.

House on the back of a restaurant napkin. Exactly one year later, in July 1988, they opened to guests.

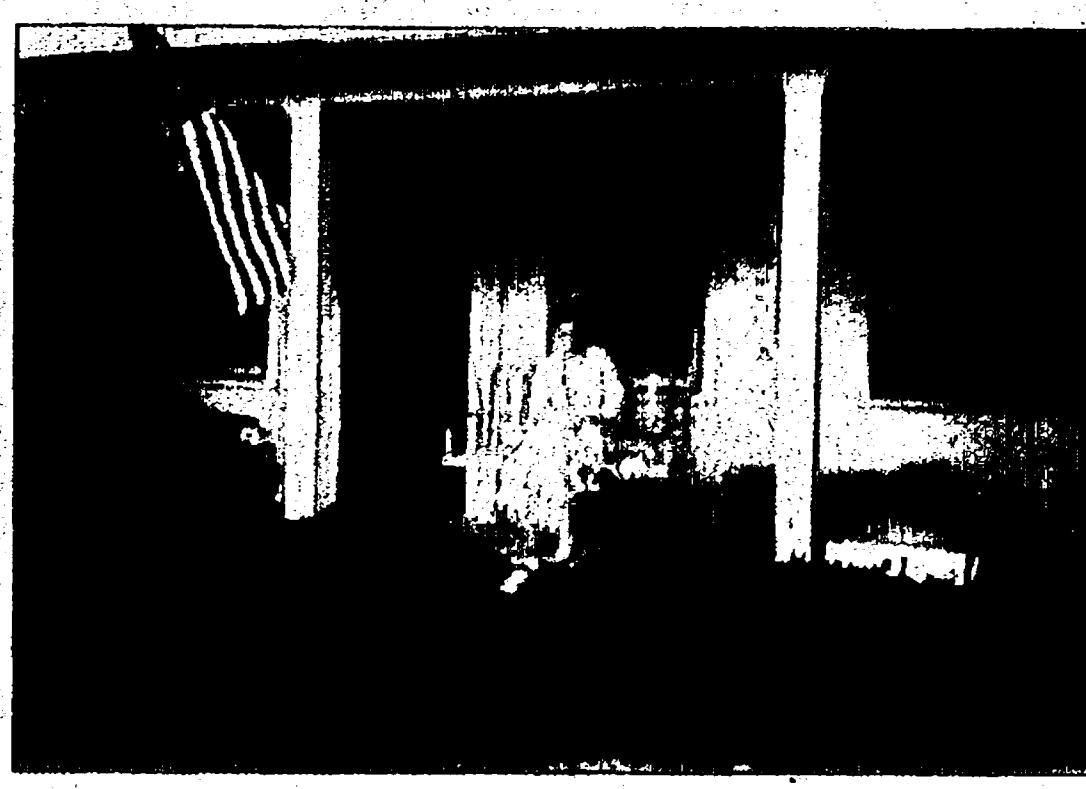

"In between, I spent three months doing research into zoning, feasibility, everything," said Lapine. "The city at the time had no idea how to address a bed and breakfast, but they were very helpful in pushing it through."

She was concerned about the reaction of the neighbors, many of whom opposed the project because of increased traffic downtown.

"We did cold calls," she explained. "We introduced ourselves, said we would soon be neighbors, and told them about our plans."

Today, The Atchison House blends perfectly with the beautifully preserved small town of Northville. The talents of several local designers and architects have

The "GoodFellas" include Ray Liotta as Henry Hill, Paul Sorvino as Paul Cicero and Joe Pesci as Tommy DeVito.

'GoodFellas' is a good look at mobs and mob violence

Much has been written, and filmed, about family problems these days so here's one about three "GoodFellas" (B+, R, 145 minutes) who live, love and bash people around for their "family," a New York mob.

The title characters — James Conway (Robert DeNiro), Tommy DeVito (Joe Pesci) and Henry Hill (Ray Liotta) — moonlight outside the family as well and perpetrate violence on their own with manic glee. Nice to see guys enjoying their work. The film centers on Henry Hill, the least despicable of these "GoodFellas," whose childhood ambition to be a mobster and not wait in line like all the other schmucks in the world is fulfilled when he is accepted into the Cicero family. As announced in the opening credits, "GoodFellas" is based on a true story including a multi-million dollar heist at Kennedy Airport several years ago.

The Cicero Family, of course, is not organized by conventional familial standards even though it does care for its members, have strong bonds severed only by death and is headed by a patriarch, Paul Cicero (Paul Sorvino).

Sorvino's godfather is a gentleman of great reserve and dignity who, for the most part, speaks only through intermediaries. Often his slow, stately appearance is sufficient to establish authority. So strong are his commitments to family and so well does Sorvino project those commitments that viewers are warmed by the paternal/familial relationships that evolve.

But wait a minute. These guys are murderers and thieves who delight in enforcing their wishes with great and graphically depicted brutality. While it is difficult to fault director Martin Scorsese for telling it like it is — presumably — "GoodFellas" is a credible view of mobs and violence characteristic of 20th century urban America. It is possible to question the pleasure he seems to take in presenting gangsters as heroic figures.

"GoodFellas" is what used to be termed a "male movie" — fast and intense action, fighting, brutality and continual gratification of adolescent male desires. Hill takes what he wants and is well-regarded for it. Women are highly traditional figures, sexist stereotypes bearing children, cooking food and providing sexual pleasure.

But the acting, directing, camerawork, music and other production techniques are innovative and so well done that the film is intense and compelling. "GoodFellas" has an attitude which glorifies evil, by effect-

ALTERNATIVE VIEWING

'Dreams:' An interpretation

By John Monaghan
special writer

Japanese director Akira Kurosawa is no stranger to the hypnotic power of dreams. Several of the films he's made over the past five decades have had the effect of existing in another world — a dream state.

In his latest project, "Dreams," the director depicts seven dreams he's had at various stages in his life. While full of memorable moments, it should be viewed more out of respect for the venerable director than for its merits as great entertainment.

The first sequence, "Sunshine through the Rain," finds a young boy confronted by life-sized visions of his sisters' dolls. They perform a strange dance, full of color and raining flower petals, that pays homage to the orchard that once thrived there.

In "The Blizzard," mountaineers inch through a sea of snow, not sure how far they are from camp. Collapsed with exhaustion, one of them must wrestle with a beautiful vision of death, whose long black hair swirls in the wind.

The later episodes — in which a single wandering character encounters bizarre situations — stress environmental concerns and the futility of war. Dream characters comment time and again that "people are so stupid." Not since the '60s has a major director worn his causes so openly on his sleeve.

As in the highly personal "Dersu Uzala" In 1974, the vignettes here lack the power Kurosawa can display with a strong narrative. This isn't to say that there aren't moments here that rank visually among Kurosawa's best work.

"Mountains of the Moon" (1990, color, R, 140 minutes) is one of those major motion pictures which should have been better than it was and, because it wasn't, did very poorly when released theatrically earlier this year.

It will be available Thursday, Aug. 30, at your corner video shop with the additional deficit of being an African adventure whose wide-screen grandeur translates poorly, if at all, to small home screens.

"Mountains of the Moon" is the epic story of Sir Richard Francis Burton, one of those larger-than-life 19th century British explorers whose adventures in Africa were instrumental in expanding the British Empire.

"Mountains of the Moon" concentrates on Burton and Lt. John Hannibal Speke and primarily their 1854 expedition searching for the headwaters of the Nile.

One of the film's problems lies in its episodic nature — African footage and adventures, Royal Geographic Society politics in crediting travellers for their discoveries and financing further trips. "Credit" involved publication and the politics there leads publisher Laurence Oliphant (Richard E. Grant) to manipulate Speke and ultimately destroy his friendship with Burton. Further complications include Burton's love affair with Isabel (Fiona Shaw).

Cutting back and forth among all these episodes requires many linking

Jesus Jones: Doing it right

By Larry O'Connor
staff writer

"When Jesus Jones begins its first tour of the United States, band member Mike Andrews will be content just to skate by."

Not on stage, that is, but rather on the street. Along with Jesus Jones' keyboard player Barry D, the techno-beat Brit is quite the avid skateboarder.

"Your architecture, your streets . . . they scream to be skateboarded on," said Andrews, whose band performs Friday, Sept. 28, at Saint Andrew's Hall in Detroit. "I'm packing my board right now in fact."

What the Beach Boys are to surfing, Jesus Jones' street boys could be to house music — big. The five-man outfit has a sound encompassing heavy metal, dance and punk music — all through sampling.

The band's debut LP "Liquidizer" (SBK) has been lauded for merging many musical elements — most notably hip-hop and metal — while retaining some melodic quality.

And, unlike other groups that snarl at comparisons to other bands, Jesus Jones loves them.

"The more, the better," Andrews said. "We've been compared to some ludicrous people . . . Freddie and the Dreamers, Duran Duran. It makes me feel good because we're getting such wild ones we must be doing something right."

TO REFER to Jesus Jones as retrospective is a misnomer; to call the outfit futuristic doesn't appeal to members either.

Jesus Jones — Barry D, Gen, Mike Edwards, Jerry De Borg and Al Jaworski — has a sound encompassing heavy metal, dance and punk music.

Andrews said the latter conjures up images of the 1950s where artist conceptions produced some ridiculous artifacts — such as cars that drive themselves and Jetsonsque city models.

JJ's music is very much in the present, Andrews contends, inspired by the house music phenomenon gripping English cities such as Manchester. So comparisons to Pop Will Eat Itself or Wonder Stuff might be more in line.

Everything starts with a beat with Jesus Jones. Then Edwards pulls out the guitar and begins providing some type of structure or pop hook. Lyrics go on the top.

Strip those things from the core and you have dance music, he said.

"There's a certain point where the song takes a direction of its own," he said, "and leaves you running and screaming after it. That's what I wait for."

Jesus Jones has found it has been worth the wait. The group formed in October 1988 and signed with British Indie Food Records two months later.

The group's first single, "Info Freako," reached No. 42 on the BBC charts. Jesus Jones went on to release two other Top 50 singles, "Never Enough" and "Bring It On Down."

SUBSEQUENT TOURS led many to herald Jesus Jones as the best new band in England by the music press there.

But where reception to other UK rages, such as Happy Mondays, has been lukewarm stateside, Jesus Jones appears to be winning Americans over as well. The band's LP "Liquidizer" charted in the Gavin Report's Top 10 College/Alternative charts, necessitating a tour here.

Skateboarding and otherwise.

ADVISORY

Here are the top 10 songs on "Detroit Music Scene," which is heard 4-5 p.m. Sundays (repeated 5:30-6:30 p.m. Tuesdays) on WDTR-FM 90.9.

1. "Come in Doves," Wrath of Christian.

2. "Charm Life," Billy Idol.

3. "Violator," Depeche Mode.

4. "Language of Life," Everything But the Girl.

5. "I Do Not Want What I Haven't Got," Sinéad O'Connor.

6. "I'm Breathless," Madonna.

7. "Passion and Warfare," Steve Val.

8. "Best of Van Morrison," Van Morrison.

9. "Changes Bowle," David Bowie.

10. "Killmarno," Rippingtons.

MUSIC NOTES

THE TRUNCHEONS are here. But chances are you've seen them before. At least in other bands.

Karen Monster, Paula Boufford and Monic Reynolds (Vertical Pillows), Carolyne Strilbo (Detroit Emergency Asylum) and Raquel Salaysay (Plasma Bats) have pooled their creative talents in what has to be one of the best all-female bands assembled in Detroit.

Monster and Boufford all fronted their respective former groups. Strilbo is still the lead singer of DEA.

KAREN MONSTER

They've opted for something a bit louder.

"It's really a fun band," said Monster, whose Truncheons perform Saturday, Sept. 29, at Finney's Pub in Detroit. "It's a case of everyone trying to get to the same place. We figured why not do it together."

"We don't sound like a girlie band, that's for sure."

In fliers heralding their arrival, The Truncheons recommend patrons who bruise easily to wear protective equipment.

PAULA BOUFFORD

Boufford and Reynolds, though, come from a bit more of a pop-rock background.

"It was getting non-productive," said Boufford, citing her experience with the Vertical Pillows. "I wanted to play something harder."

Unlike other collaborations of this type that tend to be short-lived, the Truncheons are playing for keeps.

The band has been rehearsing since June, putting together a batch of new songs. One set was completely "trashed" as members had to start over.

Already, there's enough material to go into the studio, according to Monster, who is doing most of the songwriting.

Surprisingly, three frontwomen sharing one stage hasn't exploded into an exchange of machine gun fire.

"Everyone gets along really well," Monster said. "There's a lot of respect for each other's talents."

"Everyone listens to everyone," Boufford added. "If there was a leader, I would have to say it would be Karen because she has written most of the songs. It's working out great."

RITUAL DE LO HABITUAL

— Jane's Addiction

Yes, this is that album, the one that was causing so much trouble for the owners of Off the Record. The point of contention was the album cover which shows three people who aren't wearing very many clothes.

Apparently, Perry Farrell, singer and creative leader of the band, anticipated sort of a backlash to the cover (or he remembers the uproar over "Nothing's Shocking") because inside the album, there is a little pamphlet in which he writes, in part,

"I used to wish sometimes that I was a woman. A woman is the most attractive creature nature has to offer a man. Why then is it a shame to see her unclothed? I feel more shame as a man watching a quick-mark being built."

But on to the music. "Ritual" is a toned-down and more melodic effort. Roughly, side one is the "fast" side and side two the "slow." Oddly, the slower side is the more interesting because it gives us Jane's Addiction trying out some new styles, instead of their usual loud'n fast variety.

"Then She Did" finds Farrell and the gang sounding quite a bit like Yes. It's a long, meandering song with plenty of '70s "art rock" flour-ishes. Farrell's high-pitched voice adds to the general Yesness of the song.

"Of Course" is even more experimental. Its sound is vaguely Middle Eastern and is set to an uncommon waltz-like tempo — one, two, three.

One, two . . . pumped-up guitars and apocalyptic vocals. Unfortunately (or fortunately, depending on your point of view), the band sounds disconcertingly like Rush on several of the songs.

Still, the album is a step forward for the band. The album was familiar-sounding stuff for old fans but also shows the band trying out some new styles, sounds and song structures. With "Ritual De Lo Habitual," Jane's Addiction proves that they still have a few tricks up their sleeves.

JILL HAMILTON

and "Jungle Love" all set to a new Prince chorus.

"Graffiti Bridge" is sort of a hoedown of funk music. For this effort, His Purpleness brings in some old friends like the infamous Morris Day and the Time, throws a few women into the mix like Tevin Campbell and Mavis Staples and even has the king of the funkmeisters himself, George Clinton, on the song "We Can Funk."

His reunion with the Time is one of the best parts of this album. The songs featuring the Time are heavily laced with references to their past hits. Remember Grace? Or Morris Day's crazed cackle? Well, you'll get plenty of reminders throughout this album, especially on "The Latest Fashion." (For those of you who aren't as hip as Prince, the latest fashion is, of course, passion.) "The Latest Fashion" is a sort of medley of old Time tunes like "The Bird" and "Jungle Love" all set to a new Prince chorus.

This is funk at its funkiest and most of the rest of the album is just as good. Often Prince's albums seem to be made in a musical vacuum because they usually don't reflect what is currently going on in other funk horizons but on "Graffiti Bridge," he seems to have finally noticed what his peers are up to. The album has several Technotronic-type tunes and even a bit of rap here and there.

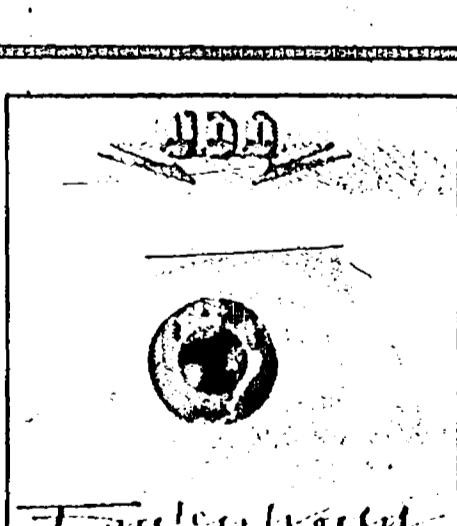

Two songs — "Still Would Stand All Time" and "Graffiti Bridge" are lesser efforts because they fall back into Prince's old preachy/religious pattern. But that doesn't matter because they're at the end of the album. So just ignore them and enjoy the rest.

Hey, Prince, welcome back.

REVIEWS

FACELESS WORLD — U.D.O.

Fasten your seatbelt, this one rocks. The latest CD from the German heavy metal group U.D.O. is called "Faceless World," and it's energy packed.

The opening song "Heart of Gold" is probably the best of the 12 on the album, and it sets the pace for the rest of the package.

The singer Udo Dirkschneider's raspy vocal quality sounds almost like an imitation of Ronnie James Dio. Fans of U.D.O. might remember him from his former band Accept.

Some of the other songs like "Blitz of Lightning" and "System of Life" sound a lot like early Judas Priest.

This happens to be much more varied here as compared to the band's other two releases. Guitarists Matthias Deth and Wolla Bohm rip out some electrifying Van Halen style guitar riffs in "Stranger," then tone it down nicely in "Unspoken Words."

Much of the remaining cuts on the disc sounds like some vintage AC/DC. This one has a little something

'Margin': It's entertaining

"Margin" in the Canadian Rockies.

"Narrow Margin" has too many long shots of the train traveling through the terrific scenery. What that does, along with a number of slow fades to black, is reduce the intensity of the chase and continually draw the audience back and away from the action. Since there's little mystery and no romance, the action needs constant emphasis.

As well the film concludes with a little too much hokum but nonetheless is entertaining and worth an evening's trip to the movies.

"Funny Above Love" (PG-12) is director Leonard Nimoy's essay on that very subject with Gene Wilder as a New York cartoonist married to Meg Lloyd (Christine Lahti). Their interests in love, marriage and babies get all mixed up in this comedy which also features Mary Stuart Masterson.

Despite the New York Times lukewarm reception, I'm looking forward to Clint Eastwood's "White Hunter, Black Heart" (PG) which screened too late for inclusion in this column. Based on Peter Vieret's novel of the same name — Vieret collaborated on the screenplay — "White Hunter, Black Heart," is the fictionalized story of how John Huston ended up in Africa directing Bogart and Hepburn in "The African Queen."

Although James Agee is credited with the final script, earlier Vieret worked with Huston on "The African Queen" screenplay and left under less than the best circumstances.

"White Hunter, Black Heart" should be an interesting investigation of art, life, reality and illusion. How often are films based on novels about making a motion picture adapted from another novel, one by C.S. Forster. Indeed, what is real and how do we discover the truth about anything?

STILL PLAYING:

STREET SENSE

Don't confuse outburst, love

Dear Barbara,

I go for weeks, even months, without getting angry and then I lose it. Something, and it can be small, sets me off and I lose control. I mean I explode.

Sometimes, I am with my mother and at others I am with my wife. I love both of them and want to hurt them less than anyone — but at those times, I cannot seem to remember this. I say things I don't mean and then, of course, any trust between us is broken.

Can you help? — Peter

Dear Peter,

I don't know what your problem is with women. As a generalization, men who love their mothers protect and support their wives. The picture that you present is hardly one of love. I have a slew of questions which I could ask in a clinical setting, but not in a column.

Often, people who are unaware of their emotions on a moment-to-moment basis store up anger. The more it is buried, the greater the subsequent eruption. What might have been a minor annoyance builds to a major outbreak. The fear of rejection then experienced is called love and stimulates clinging, placating behavior. This is an effort to hang on to the offended parent, partner or friend. It is not love.

I do not know if this description applies to you. Think about it. — Barbara

Dear Barbara,

What is the difference between self-esteem and self-confidence? Can an individual have one and not the other and, if so, why?

A Reader

Dear Reader,

The dictionary does not make a sharp distinction between these two terms. Both mean a high regard for one's self, one's power and one's abilities.

What was it in your experience that raised this question? If you can transmit that to me, I will try to respond to your situation in a meaningful manner.

VIDEO VIEWING

elements and transitional devices to maintain continuity and a clear sequence for viewers. But they just aren't there.

DESPITE A major production staff led by director/co-writer Bob Rafelson ("Five Easy Pieces," "King of Marvin Gardens"), the excellent cinematography, fine costumes and credible performances are lost in an episodic jumble that fails to convey the epic accomplishment these 19th century heroes achieved in trekking through "darkest Africa."

Devotees of older motion pictures are in for a treat this month with the Aug. 22 debut on home video of 10 MGM/UA films selected by ballotizing video dealers nationwide. The ballot listed 100 titles as yet unreleased from the vast MGM/UA library.

By rank order, here's the results:

The first choice was "The Teahouse of the August Moon" (1956; color, no rating, 123 minutes) with Marlon Brando, Glenn Ford and Eddie Albert in a story of the U.S.

Army on Okinawa shortly after World War II. No doubt the well-known cast and the nostalgia of old soldiers propelled this one into first place.

Having visited the actual Teahouse of the August Moon on Okinawa in the mid-'50s, I share the nostalgia despite the fact that it was, indeed, more than a teahouse and rather shabby. The film, however, is pretty neat.

Far be it from me to second-guess why "The White Buffalo" (1977, color, PG, 97 minutes) is second on this popularity list. Good cast in an unusual western is the most-likely answer.

CHARLES BRONSON is Wild Bill Hickok. He and Crazy Horse (Will Sampson) search for the title animal of fame and fable. Good supporting cast includes Jack Warden, Kim Novak, Stuart Whitman, John Carradine and Slim Pickens.

Next is the sensitive "A Patch of Blue" (1965, no rating, 105 minutes) with Shelley Winters, Sidney Poitier and Elizabeth Hartman. Winters

Number four is the African action film, "Khartoum" (1966, color, no rating, 134 minutes), starring Charlton Heston and Sir Laurence Olivier.

Fifth, "Boom Town" (1940, black and white, no rating, 115 minutes) is unintentionally appropriate at this time as Clark Gable and Spencer Tracy appear as rough-and-tumble wildcatters who strike it rich in Oklahoma oil fields. Claude Colbert, Hedy Lamarr, Frank Morgan and Chilly Wills also star.

In order, numbers six through 10 are:

- "Chato's Land" (1972, color, PG, 110 minutes), an Indian/Western with Charles Bronson, Jack Palance, James Whitmore and Richard Basehart.

- "Torpedo Run" (1958; color, no rating, 98 minutes) with Glenn Ford, Ernest Borgnine and Dean Jones.

- "Destination Tokyo" (1943, black and white, no rating, 135 minutes) with Cary Grant, Alan Hale, Dane Clark and John Forsythe in his film debut.

MAPLE THEATRE, 4135 W. Maple, Bloomfield. Call 855-9090 for show times. ($5.50 general, $3.50 twilight)

"Metropolitan" (USA - 1990). A group of young socialites gather nightly to discuss life and love. Irritating at first, but strangely compelling if you stick with it.

"Dreams" (Japan - 1990). The latest and most personal film from director Akira Kurosawa, examines dreams he has had since a child.

MICHIGAN THEATRE, 603 E. Liberty, Ann Arbor, 688-8397. ($4.50; $3.50 students/seniors)

"Mahabharata" (Britain - 1990); through Sept. 29. Peter Brook's rendering of an ancient Sanskrit poem which mixes mythology, religion and epic into one unusual tale.

TELE-ARTS THEATRE, 1540 Woodward, Detroit, 983-3918. ($3.25 adult; $2.50 students/seniors)

"Murmur of the Heart" (France - 1971), Sept. 28-30 (call for show times). The uncut version of Louis Malle's irreverent family comedy returns. The director has claimed that the tale of a sexy bourgeois woman and her precocious 14-year-old son is partially based on his own young life.

"The Bicycle Thief" (Italy - 1949), 3:30 p.m. Sept. 30. Vittorio De Sica's genuine classic about a father in a post-war Italy who can only hold a job as long as he has a bicycle. When he loses it, he's frantic and goes to amazing, frustrating extremes to get it back.

"Ben Hur" (USA - 1959), 10 a.m.

Sept. 25. This grand '60s epic might be dwarfed on the mall's screen, but it still beats television. The final film of a month-long tribute to Charlton Heston takes place in the time of Christ, highlighted by the still exciting chariot race sequence.

Peter Brook's rendering of an ancient Sanskrit poem, "Mahabharata," will screen at the Michigan Theatre in Ann Arbor through Sept. 29.

Penn plus Teller equals magic?

By Larry O'Connor
staff writer

He was ripped off, Penn Jillette says in bitter rancor.

The childhood incident, though, undoubtedly would later shape Penn & Teller into one of the most astonishing and entertaining acts on stage today. Also, it's part of the reason why magician is a dirty word to him.

Those are people, in Penn's words, who conjure up images of "greasy guys in tuxedos pushing women around." He wouldn't include Houdini in that crowd.

A magician also happened to be the one who swindled him.

As a child, Penn recalls watching television with his mother when a magician was selling an ESP testing set through the mail. Penn had his parents order the kit.

Penn sat with his mom for two weeks trying to use the apparatus. He gave up disillusioned and hurt.

"I couldn't believe this adult was lying to a 12-year-old boy and was wasting this boy's time with his mother just because he was out to make a buck and because he had no talent," said Penn in a huff. "I felt so betrayed and ripped off, I never got over it."

Both Penn and his partner in illusion, Teller, are members of the Committee for the Scientific Investigation of Claims of the Paranormal (CSICOP), which is based in Buffalo.

N.Y. The mere mention of existential icons Uri Geller or Shirley MacLaine sends Penn into a profane diatribe.

AS A RESULT of their skepticism, Penn & Teller violate the No. 1 magician rule. Sometimes, they reveal the secret of a trick. For shame, Doug Henning would say through his overbite.

One fly-by-night magician was so upset. In fact, he took a swing at Penn. There is a method to their madness, however.

"Magic tricks done on stage should be an intellectual endeavor strangely enough," said Penn, who stands 6-foot-6. "You should question this. You should have a chip on your shoulder."

"Magicians, ever since they got thrown into the bars in the 1950s, have been going on this weird rampage that the audience should be childlike . . . in other words be stupid would be the last term applied to Penn & Teller's act, which has won Emmys and has a long run on stage.

Their own television show on PBS, "Penn & Teller Go Public" netted the pair two Emmys and The International Golden Rose Award in 1985.

The same year, Penn & Teller's debuted on both "Saturday Night Live" and "Late Night with David Letterman." Their stunts became legend. Let's see, there was the water tank bit, the electric chair and the upside down routine on SNL.

THE MOST queasy skits, though, are usually saved for one curly-haired Ball State University graduate.

"David (Letterman) is quite squeamish without which he needs no help from us," said Teller, who is perceived as the quiet one. "We are aware, however, we can exploit that."

A knife through the hand illusion sent Penn's blood squirting on Letterman, who was shocked and amazed enough to invite the duo back on. In several appearances since, late night's funnyman has been treated to a cockroach convention on his desk, rodent roulette and leeches going up Teller's sleeve. Teller lets go with one anecdote of how he was "accidentally" sawed in half on stage.

"Penn went too deep," said Teller, with a flippant laugh. "We had a heart that dropped on stage."

Teller assures that there is little danger involved in such stunts. For their stage show, tricks are developed with audience safety in mind.

For example, a bit involving 100,000 bees will be forsaken during their live show. Again, it all stems to Penn & Teller's undying respect for their audience.

"I BELIEVE if we're doing something dangerous, watching us would be an immoral act," Penn said. "It's like a roller coaster ride. There is part of you on the roller coaster that is scared. The more important part is that you know you are safe."

Of course, a lot of planning goes into their work. Teller describes their Manhattan office as an apartment building "heavily populated by hookers." One wall is gray, one is orange and both are decorated by some paintings.

With five computers at their disposal, Penn and Teller sit down with a white board in hand and talk through the stunt. Teller has the vast knowledge of magic, or as Penn puts it: "Teller brings the trick to the trick."

Contrary to their stage persona, it's at these times Teller talks and Penn listens.

"We're very, very different in terms of our personalities," Penn said. "Philosophically and artistically, there isn't anything we don't overlap on."

PENN & TELLER, perform Tuesday, Sept. 25, through Sunday, Oct. 14, at the Fisher Theatre in Detroit. For ticket information, call 872-1000.

Penn Jillette and Teller, members of the Committee for the Scientific Investigation of Claims of the Paranormal, sometimes violate the No. 1 magician rule by revealing the secret of a trick.

Stop motion animator Dave Heitmer, 27, of Ann Arbor works on the special effects for a movie in which the lead character dreams that spiders have crawled along his optic nerve and popped up in his brain.

Creating monsters and other FX things

By Greg Kowalski
staff writer

Jeff Ginyard is a monster maker.

And he's proud of it.

The 29-year-old hobby shop salesman has a dual career as an expert in movie special effects — FX, as it's called in the trade.

Ginyard specializes in model making — often models of creatures that like to eat people's brains. Yuck!

Ginyard was responsible for building the killer robots in the locally produced film "Moontrap." He also animated mini astronauts and built space ships and various contraptions that appeared so lifelike in the film.

"Moontrap," which starred Walter Koenig, best known as Pavel Chekov in the "Star Trek" TV show and movies, opened last year. The film didn't exactly set box office records. In fact, after its premiere in Ann Arbor, it went straight to video stores.

But rentals have been brisk.

"It's really done well," said Mark Schaffer, manager of a Block Buster Video store in West Bloomfield. "A lot of local people knew about the film and were excited to see it."

And while critics found a few holes in the plot and some painful acting, it's difficult to knock the film's special effects.

THESE DAYS, film special effects are at the forefront of movie technology. And for a movie made in a warehouse on Rochester Road in Troy, "Moontrap" holds up quite well.

If you haven't seen the film, here is a brief synopsis:

Astronauts on the moon discover a race of robots that are half organic and half machine. The grisly creatures incorporate human bones and muscles into their metallic skeletons. Their goal is to come to the Earth and take over the planet.

In the process, astronaut Koenig finds a beautiful alien who helps him destroy the robots' invading ship.

"Moontrap" was a challenge to the 12-member FX crew. Working on a budget of about $1.5 million — pocket change in Hollywood — the film's producers had to create a movie that would compete with the likes of "RoboCop," "Batman" and "The Abyss," at least in the area of special effects.

There they succeeded. The effects in "Moontrap" are first rate. The film's presentation of the lunar surface closely matches what the Apollo astronauts saw.

That was no accident.

"Everyone knows what the moon looks like," said Gary Jones, owner of Acme Special Effects in Mt. Clemens.

JONES WAS technical director for the movie's special effects. His crew was responsible for creating the killer robots, disembodied heads (one of which became a studio mascot) and other assorted horrors.

Perhaps the greatest problem faced by the FX crew was making the sets look lunar-like. B.K. Taylor, the film's art director, used sand and cement dust to recreate the lunar surface. But making special effects in that kind of setting was difficult.

"The moonscape is in shades of black and white," Jones said. "You can't hide anything."

Contrast that with interior scenes where aerosol oil can be used to give a misty, glowing atmosphere, almost like a barroom haze. That can't be done on the lunar surface where there is no air to keep a mist airborne, Jones said.

The huge robots that pop up from the lunar dust also had to stand on their own. Either they looked real or they didn't.

They did.

Making scenes look authentic took an enormous amount of effort, said Ginyard.

Working with a tight budget and even tighter deadlines, the FX crew kept a seemingly impossible schedule.

"The designers can come up with an idea and expect us to make it in a day . . . Well, sometimes, it takes longer than that for the fiberglass to set," Ginyard explained.

MOST MODELS are made of clay that is coated with fiberglass and baked. Additional pieces, such as for a detailed space ship, come from plastic model kits and can be added to make the final product look real.

That's where working at Joe's Hobby comes in handy. By way of an appropriate plug, Joe's Hobby has outlets at 1035 Livernois, Rochester Hills, 35203 Grand River,

Farmington, 7845 Wyoming, Dearborn, and 17900 E. 10 Mile Road, East Detroit.

"I knew what pieces were available from kits and how we could use them," Ginyard said.

The finished models were equipped with motors and "squibbs" as needed. The motors gave the models limited movement, although a nudge from Ginyard's foot was needed to get a temperamental moon rover roving on cue.

Squibbs are small explosive charges that are electronically detonated to simulate bullets, or in the case of "Moontrap," blasts from space guns. In any case, the effect is loud, burning and effective.

The film minimized the use of stop-action photography, which is used to give models movement, because doing that is expensive.

However, the robots were given a amazingly lifelike movement by filming them at a slow speed. When projected at normal speed, the robots move with a realistically fluid motion.

EVEN THE simplest appearing scenes involved detailed work. Near the end of the film, Koenig and his alien friend approach the giant robot ship where they find a lunar lander attached to its hull.

Two lunar module models were used for the scene. One, about 1.5 feet high, was used for the distant shot, the closeup was done with a more detailed model about 3.5 feet tall.

Both Ginyard and Jones are film veterans, of a sort. They have worked on other locally produced films and commercials.

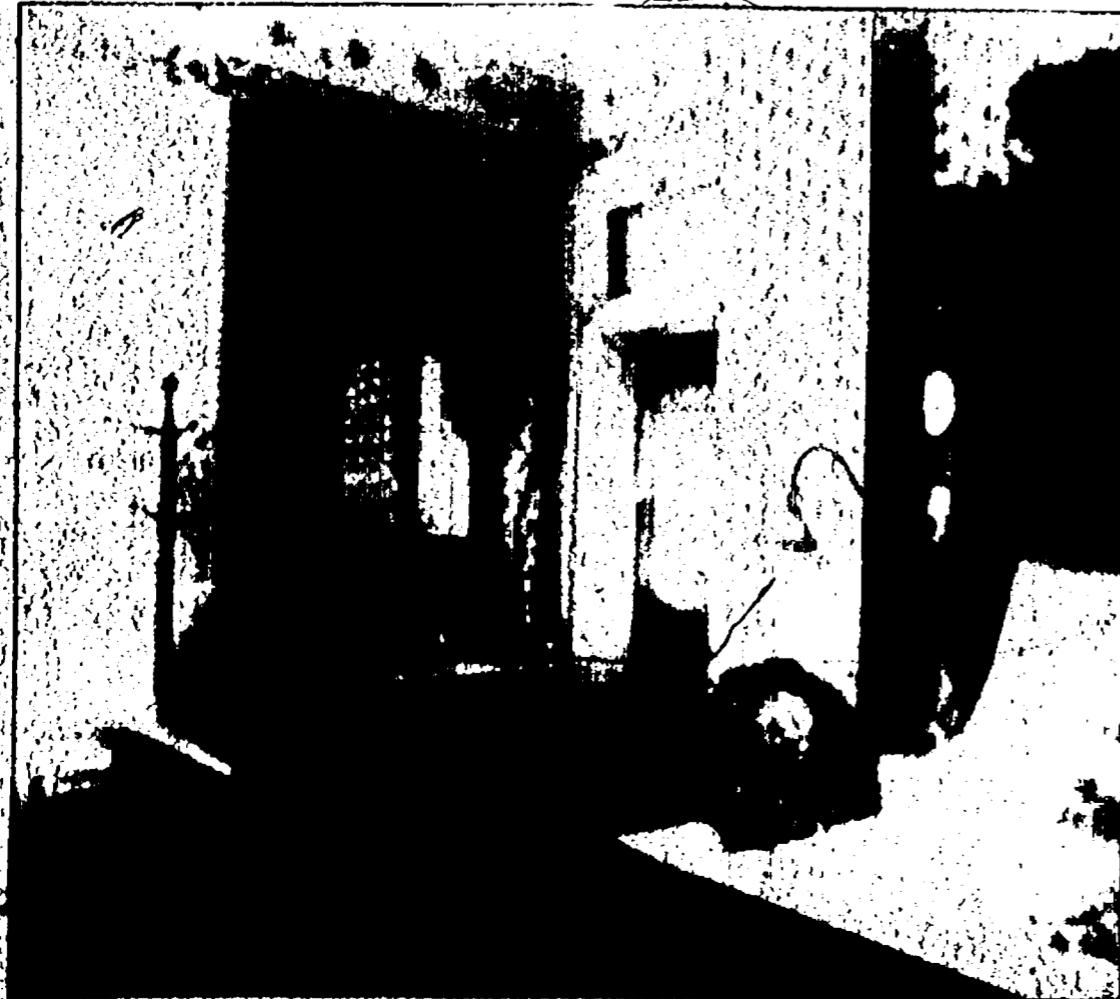

And they're ready for more.

Jones has a project in the offing called "Skeeters," which is about giant mosquitoes. The script, which he co-wrote and hopes to direct, is complete. And he has definite ideas on how to make a respected feature, comparable, he hopes, to the 1953 classic "Them," which is about huge ants.

There's no guarantee "Skeeters" will be produced or that it will be a box office smash. So are Ginyard and Jones ready to take on the grueling challenge of more seven-day-a-week work schedules with no guarantees of success?

Ginyard's answer: "In a heartbeat."

The B&B experience: Closer than you think

One of the most popular rooms, Anna's Room, is decorated around a quilt that belonged to Lapine's grandmother. The rose pattern of the quilt complements the hand-painted rose border around a clawfoot tub.

FULL BREAKFAST is served here, including homemade muffins, fruit, coffee and a hot entree like banana nut buckwheat pancakes and omelets. Rooms are priced between $70-$85 per night.

Since The Atchison House is located just 30 minutes away from both Ann Arbor and Detroit, business travelers often stay here. The inn also attracts Detroit-area couples who "want to get away, but not too far away," according to Lapine.

Weddings have also been popular at the inn, which has hosted close to 70 since opening just two years ago.

A former stagecoach stop now houses the Hibbard Tavern Bed and Breakfast Inn, which sees its busiest season during Milford's September tour of historic homes. Innkeeper Barbara McGraw-Beckstrom worked at Greenfield Village before deciding to transform the 1848 building for guests.

Hibbard Tavern offers four guestrooms. The Coo Suite, named for two generations of the tavern's owners, sports Laura Ashley decor, a brass queen-sized bed, even a miniature Tudor home built by Barbara's father.

THE $70 PER night room is only available on weekends. This is the only room with a private bath.

Aside from attracting business travellers, Barbara uses special events — from herbal garden kitchen workshops to folk music concerts — to boost the inn's occupancy rate.

"The fascinating guests" are what keep Barbara fresh after two years of innkeeping.

"Very special people — adventurous, outgoing people — come to bed-and-breakfasts. It's fun to be part of their lives and to have them be a part of mine."

B&Bs are popping up in other nearby communities, including Ann Arbor and Romeo — not to mention well-known historic inns such as Plymouth's Mayflower Hotel and The Balsford Inn of Farmington Hills.

Could the bed-and-breakfast concept translates to other Detroit-area cities, such as Birmingham or Royal Oak? Detroit innkeepers answer with a resounding "yes."

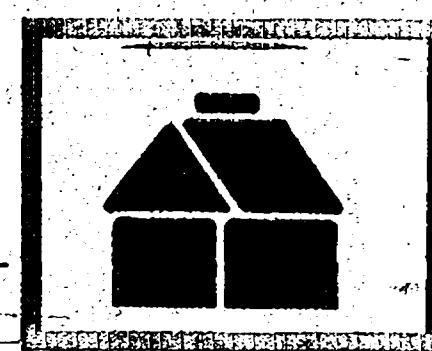

The most critical caveat for the prospective innkeeper is to discover their niche in the community and the market," advises Lapine. "Identify who the client is and work with the uniqueness of the location."

Ruth Mossok Johnston and David McCall Johnston think his new painting, "End of the Chase," looks great on the dining room wall, but they know it will probably soon be gone, when some collector sees it and falls in love.

Artist donates painting for benefit

By Corinne Abalt
staff writer

PAINTER DAVID McCall Johnston would fit nicely into one of his paintings. Not only is there a touch of the country philosopher about him in looks and speech, but he has a keen interest in and appreciation for history.

But he lives in this century and continues to be one of the most successful artist/illustrators living and working in Michigan, possibly in the country.

For the first time in his career, he will donate an original painting for a benefit. It will be for auction at the Juvenile Diabetes Foundation's Evening of Brilliance on Friday, Oct. 19, at the Ritz Carlton of Dearborn.

The painting is being reproduced on the front of the ad book and the invitations. It's a cause that he and his wife/business manager, Ruth, feel very strongly about. She is on the Evening of Brilliance committee and both have a strong commitment to this area and this state.

His painting alone should increase the proceeds from the auction significantly, even when compared to some of the other exotic items, such as the use of a yacht in the Barrier Reef, cosmetic surgery and a year-round playhouse designed by Betty Lee Sidler-Sweatt of Franklin.

FOR THE curious, the would-if-I-coulds and actual Johnston collectors, a special exhibition of his paintings will open Tuesday and continue through Saturday, Oct. 20, at the Ritz Carlton.

In all it will contain about 25 paintings, some that Ruth has managed to borrow back from collections for the occasions and some for sale. And since he always has a backlog of commissions, Johnston originals for sale are rather unusual.

"I work in two styles," he said, "a fantasy style for children's books — which isn't totally different, as you might think, from the other Americana style."

He recently did four paintings of dragons for Simon and Schuster (publishers) and has illustrated books for Magnum Classics, Harper and Row, Bantam, the New American Library, MacMillan, the Green Willow Press and the Franklin Library.

His Americana paintings have been bought and in many instances reproduced by the likes of the Jules Verne Museum of Nantes, France, the Whirlpool Corp., the Michigan Apple Growers, Carson Business Interiors, Dr. Norman Vincent Peale (first published in Good Housekeeping Magazine), Berringer Wine, the Franklin Mint and Bradford Exchange, Maker's Mark Distillery and lots of national magazines.

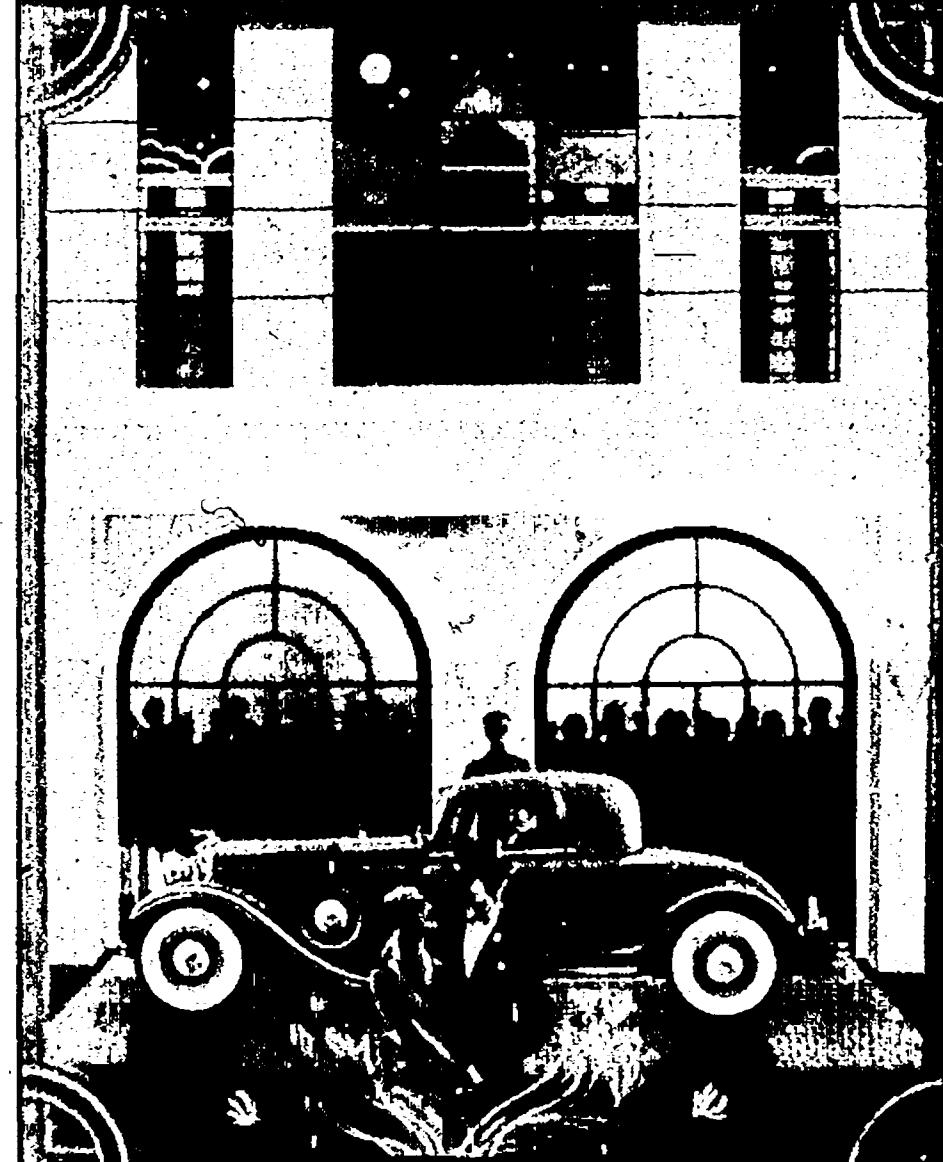

THE JOHNSTONS share a love of collecting.

Their Farmington Hills house, the fifth he has restored (this one is the Gravlin farmhouse, moved to a new location), is filled with outstanding examples of early American furniture and decorative arts — primitives, Shaker and New England, Amish and other quilts. Ruth has a fine collection of button and glove hooks.

"Sometimes we travel and I don't find anything. When we were in New England last summer, I found some wonderful ones," she said.

He loves his collection of early American light fixtures, "but I don't believe in electrifying them."

Their home, with its quiet, stark beauty, lack of pretense and total absence of any kind of gimmickry, is testament to the purity of his approach to all things — especially his art.

David McCall Johnston's painting for "Evening of Brilliance" was donated for auction to help the fight against juvenile diabetes. It was reproduced in stunning color on the auction invitation.

Singer leads quarterfinals

By Janice Tigr-Kramor
special writer

You could say 18-year-old Michelle Rott of Farmington Hills has been practicing voice for a lifetime.

Rott, who comes from a family of entertainers, won the quarterfinalist round in the pop category of the "Quest for Excellence" competition for 18-24-year-old musicians and singers.

The contest, sponsored by WJR-radio, Dodge and the tri-county Dodge dealers, was held at the Smith Theatre, Oakland Community College, Orchard Ridge Campus, Farmington Hills, on Sept. 12.

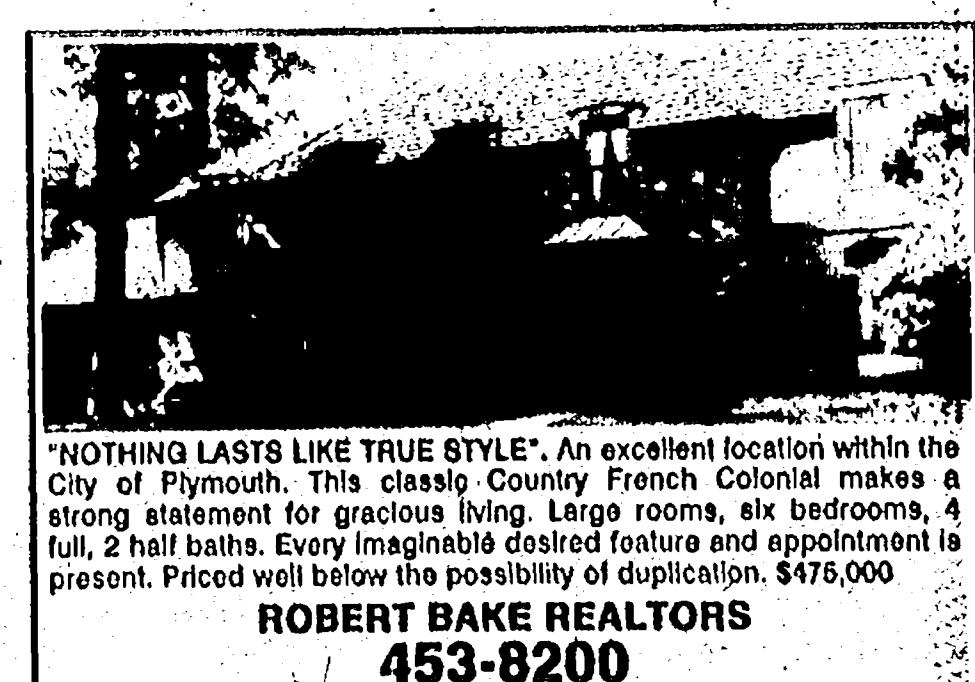

Rott returns to the Smith Theatre on Oct. 3 for the semifinal round, where she competes against 10 singers in the pop category. If she wins the semifinals, she and seven other pop singers go on to the grand finals on Jan. 8, 1991 at the Fisher Theatre in Detroit.

The winner of grand finals earns $5,000.

Pop singer eyes semifinals

The college freshman won over the judges at the quarterfinals by singing "On My Own" from "Les Misérables." She will sing "I Dream a Dream" from the same show during the semifinal round.

A 1990 graduate of North Farmington High School, Rott studies music and business at Eastern Michigan University, but she dreams of a career in music.

"I love singing. I'm always practicing and listening to tapes of my favorite artists," she said.

Rott will begin studio work in the university's music department this semester and will study piano there next year.

The oldest of four children, Rott comes from a family of celebrities. She clearly recalls performing in her parents' band at age 5.

"I used to sing 'You Light Up My Life' at weddings and other events," she said. "I loved performing even then."

Rott's mother, Carol, sang on the Decca record label in the 1960s and believes singing is something that her daughter was destined to do.

"It's in the genes. We're a show business family," she said. "When I performed on television, Michelle always watched. Performing became second nature to her."

CAROL, WHO performed popular tunes under the stage name of Vickie Carroll, admits she was more anxious during Michelle's recent competition than she was years ago during her own appearances on the Tonight Show and Merv Griffin.

Though Michelle's talent was apparent even when she sang with Sheldon and Carol Rott's band in the late 1970s, the real training began in high school where she sang with the Northern Lights and the Starlettes.

Besides being coached through the years by her mother, Michelle worked on her voice by singing at the Guest Artist Recording Studio, which her parents owned at the old Tally Hall in Farmington Hills.

Until the October competition, Michelle plans to keep her thoughts on college work. But she admits that the excitement of appearing in the semifinal round is always on her mind.

"My dream has always been to sing on radio," she said. "But winning the next competition and performing at the Fisher would be right up there — almost as thrilling as radio."

Irritants bane for each of us

Q: Several years ago, when you were speaking at a meeting I was attending, you referred to things that need doing that you see over and over again but don't get done. What did you call that and can you refresh my memory about it, please?

A: The term you are referring to is "irritant." An irritant is something, as you say, which needs doing, that you see repeatedly, but which isn't getting done.

Almost everyone has a few of these around — things like medical forms that need to be filled out, pictures or slides that need to be stored away properly or filing that needs to be done.

It's typical as you run across the "To Do" once again, to mentally snap your fingers and remind yourself, "I've got to get that done." However, you are too busy at that moment and promised yourself you'll do it "later."

Ironically, most of these irritants are left out where we can see them as reminders so we won't "forget" to do them — even though, if we were honest with ourselves, we'd admit we have no intention of doing them any time soon.

"Later," of course, then turns into days, months or even years, as the dreaded article gathers dust.

IF YOU see one of the irritants once a day, you have had one reminder of something to do. If, however, you see the same irritant five times a day, you have had five reminders of something to do.

Even though you know logically it's the same reminder over and over, your subconscious can't sort out that fact. All it knows is it's getting "hit" again and again with reminders of things that need to be done.

Now, let's suppose you have five irritants that you see five times a day each. By multiplying, you realize you had 25 reminders of things to do — none of which you have any intention of doing today!

The ironic thing is that many of these irritants are just small little niggles that may take only five or 10 minutes to do, yet we put them off and put them off.

Not only do irritants multiply, they also inhibit productivity. One person desperately needed new carpeting but didn't want to carpet until she painted. She didn't want to paint, however, until she putted the windows.

And since she didn't know who to get to putty her windows, she lived with the irritant of old ugly carpeting for a long time.

I will discuss how to get rid of irritants next week at my "Organizing for Success" classes in Birmingham.

Correction: The telephone number of the Birmingham Community House was listed incorrectly in last week's column. It is 644-5832. You can also still enroll in my Schoolcraft College classes by calling 462-4448.

Condo's best interests overlooked

I am a board member on a five-person board. There are four women and one man. He wishes to inflict his will not only on the board but upon the advisors that we have including the managing agent and the attorney. It seems that if the attorney says something is black, he says that it is white. He is continuously undermining the attorney and the managing agent in connection with their deliberations. How can we deal with this man who apparently has his share of problems?

I have observed over the years the tendency on the part of certain persons who assume leadership roles on the board to get carried away with their new found control and power sometimes to the detriment of not only their fellow board members but of the persons who are providing services to the association.

In the case of the managing agent or the attorney, they are presumably providing their best advice with the expectation and hope that the association will follow their advice. That is why they are being utilized.

condo queries

In the last analysis, the decisions have to be made by the board with the benefit of the advice and consent of the managing agent, the attorney, the accountant and other persons. The board has to evaluate their recommendations and make an independent analysis.

If members of the board allow their egos or personal problems to interfere with their ability to make reasoned decisions or to follow the reasoned opinions of their consultants, you have a serious problem that could result in the undermining of the board's ability to effectively carry out its responsibilities and in some cases to commit malfeasance. It would appear timely in your situation to have a meeting with the board member in question, expressing your concerns and asking for his understanding and cooperation so that he might temper his "control problem" in the best interest of the association.

Our board is interested in finding out whether a co-owner who is seriously delinquent in her assessments can place a lien against a unit. The co-owner may also be in jeopardy of foreclosure by her mortgage company. It is not our intent as a board to intimidate the resident, but we wish to protect the common interests of the association as a whole, preserving the association's assets at this time.

The condominium statute and presumably your condominium bylaws provide the association with a right to place a lien on the unit of a co-owner for the non-payment of assessments. This lien is secondary, to the right of the first mortgagee to assert its lien for non-payment of mortgage payments.

Accordingly, if the first mortgagee forecloses, the priority of the association in regard to using the lien as a security may be wiped out, depending upon the circumstances. Nonetheless, the association should perfect its lien and begin foreclosure proceedings on its own, to the extent that the circumstances so provide. The association may also pursue a claim for money damages against the co-owner, which is unsecured by the unit. This action may be combined in one lawsuit.

The association should be prepared to pursue the delinquent co-owner aggressively and consistently. Keep in mind, of course, that the condominium statute provides that the association's reasonable attorney fees and costs are chargeable to the delinquent co-owner.

I am not a board member but want to examine various bids that were obtained on a job, one of which was tendered by an affiliate of the managing agent. The board refuses to provide me with a copy of the bid. They have already given a copy of that bid to another co-owner who is not on the board. What can I do?

The board sounds as though it is playing games. Whatever basis the board may have had to withhold that information from you was obviously waived when it provided that information to a co-owner who is not on the board, or did not have any fiduciary responsibility in behalf of the association.

That, of course, assumes that there was any basis in the first instance for the board depriving you of that bid since it presumably would be a part of the records of the association to which you are entitled. This would be so stated not only under the condominium documents of your condominium, but under the condominium statute that mandates your right to inspect the books and records of the association. If the board continues to refuse after reasonable attempts by you, I would contact a lawyer and begin legal proceedings against the board for intentional malfeasance and perhaps a host of other potential abuses.

"The ideal way to use it is close to curbs," Kraemer said. "It's more subdued lighting. It adds illumination, but not to (the point of) brightness."

More developers seem to be investigating decorative lighting applications in an effort to stand out from one another, said Mike L. Herman, a new business development supervisor for Detroit Edison.

"Frankly, our lighting is very utilitarian," Hermann said.

If nothing else, developers and builders are becoming conscientious about lighting their subdivision entrances, Kraemer said.

"It's almost a reaction to the marketplace," said Leon Zolkower, vice president of land development for Billmore Properties of Troy. "People's tastes are more sophisticated today, so they look for these things."

KRAEMER SAID he offers one-stop lighting service.

"I offer design, installation, maintenance and financing options. As far as a package, I'm able to make it easier so he doesn't have to deal with a lot of entities."

Individuals account for a majority of fixtures sold at Nightlighters, while dollar volume is evenly divided between individual sales and architectural area projects, Kraemer said.

By Doug Funke
staff writer

Ken Kraemer, a retailer of outdoor lighting systems, believes that one look can be worth more than a lengthy explanation or pictorial summary.

To that end, he and partner Jerry Wallgora have relocated and upgraded their business — Nightlighters — from Livonia to a 3,500-square-foot showroom in Farmington Hills.

"This is the first store of this kind in the world we know of," Kraemer said. "Most light companies sell a mixture of interior and exterior lighting products. We carry only exterior."

The physical orientation of the showroom also sets the business apart.

"We wanted to demonstrate outdoor lighting products in a somewhat natural environment."

SO, THE partners installed black ceiling tiles. They decorated a rear wall to simulate the back of a house. They built a deck, bridge, gazebo and patio. They put in a fountain, rock gardens, trees, plants and flowers.

Now they can demonstrate different kinds of fixtures and lights in an indoor setting that more realistically reflects the outdoor experience.

Dozens of electric lights, including decorative yard lamps, illuminated patio stones, outdoor table and floor lamps, porch lights, architectural area lighting and low-voltage lights, line the showroom.

"Builders, once they see what we can do, will be excited by it,"

Piece of history adds atmosphere to newest houses

(AP) — Not everyone can live in an architectural landmark, but installing a piece of history such as an old mantel or door, a sink or wood paneling is a growing option.

Once considered fair game for the wrecker's ball, buildings parts are now salvaged and sold at retail through a network of architectural antiques dealers.

THE CURRENT mail-order catalog of New York-based Irreplaceable Artifacts, for instance, lists cast-iron railings from Louis Sullivan's Chicago Stock Exchange Building; a bar from the Normandie, a French ocean liner; and a marble sink from the apartment of Marjorie Merriweather Post.

"Demand for architectural antiques has increased at least tenfold in the last 10 years, and the best usually sell first," said Herman Cole, owner of Ramase in Woodbury, Conn.

THOSE SEARCHING for a special piece are willing to cast a wide net, said Peter Hill of American Architectural Antiques in New Haven, Conn.

He recently sold paneling, bath fixtures and lighting from a late 19th century Stamford, Conn., estate to two far-flung restaurants and a New York antique dealer.

The most impressive pieces are, of course, the most expensive. Recently in Hill's showroom were, for $5,500, the entryway to the Stamford house once owned by Sir Douglas Alexander, a president of Singer Sewing Machine Co.; its chestnut staircase, for $15,000; and a bathtub, for $1,200.

Not all old parts are pricey. Old handmade door latches, for example, cost about $35 to $45, about the same as new handmade ones, Cole said. There are still plenty of antique building parts to go around.

"Demand runs in fads," he said. "For a while we couldn't turn up enough barn siding. Now I can't sell it, but demand for flooring and beams for country kitchens hasn't cooled."

They typically stock doors, fireplaces, window glass, wood paneling and sheathing, old beams, early 20th century sinks and tubs, columns, old lighting fixtures, hardware and iron fencing.

General antiques dealers also stock parts, said David Dunton, a dealer in Woodbury. These tend to be choice bits that are bought as art objects rather than as building parts.

Exterior light fixtures and lamps run the gamut in style. Long gone are the days of a simple wood or metal pole and a round globe.

MOST PEOPLE buy only a few items to dress up a home. But Margaret and Charles Gure of Westborough, Mass., assembled an entire house from old building parts they found and bought from many places.

Their new colonial saltbox looks as if it has been standing in place for 250 years. Among the salvaged parts are its wooden staircase, ceiling beams, cornice moldings and posts, as well as wood sheathing, paneling, wainscoting and flooring.

"It took us eight years to find all the parts for our 18th century saltbox, but it was absolutely worth it," said Margaret Gure, an antiques dealer. "Knowledgeable people walk in and are amazed that this is a new house."

IT'S MORE practical than a novice might imagine to buy used building parts for an existing house, said Evan Blum, owner of Architectural Artifacts in New York City.

It is simple to install an old fireplace or a door — the two architectural antiques are most popular with homeowners — he said.

When shopping for an old fireplace mantel, you have to know the exact dimensions of the firebox and the wall surrounding it. You can change the size of the firebox opening by having it rebricked, but it is easier to make it smaller than larger.

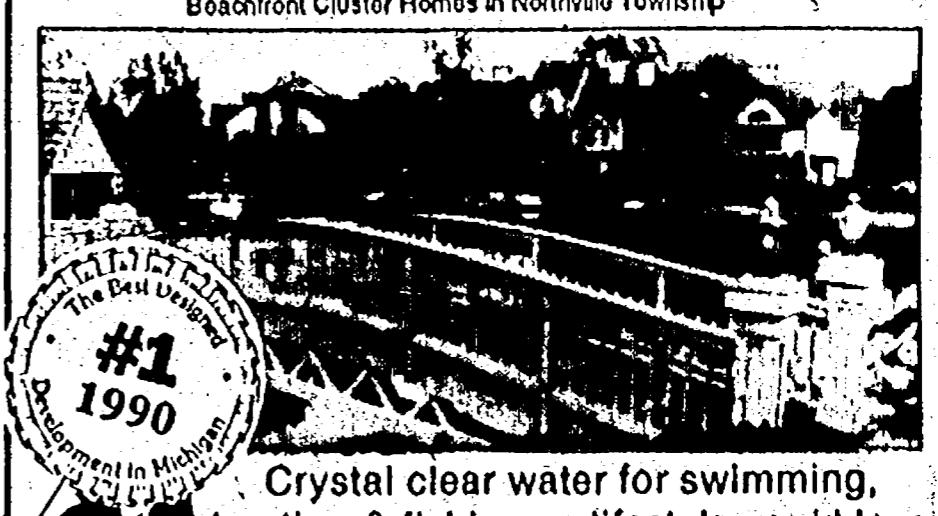

Panels rooms present a more complex problem, especially if the room you buy needs to be cut down.

ALTHOUGH THE anonymous building parts are the bread and butter of the trade, Blum said the fun is in the unusual.

When he took down the Vanderbilt mansion on West 52nd St. in Manhattan, he discovered there once had been a private basement entrance into the neighboring 21 Club restaurant.
