Jogger killed in hit-and-run

A Garden City driver is being held by sheriff's deputies today after witnesses reported he struck a woman jogger who died of her injuries.

The hit-and-run fatality occurred on the Hines Drive east of Merriman Wednesday night.

Sheriff Robert Ficano credited several witnesses who used cellular phones to quickly call the police and give them the car license plate number, which was traced to a Garden City home.

One witness even followed the driver from the scene of the accident to his Garden City home where he was apprehended, Picano sald.

That witness, the sheriff said, waited at the driver's home until police arrived. He said the witnesses, including three who stopped to help the injured woman, will later be publicly recognized for their actions. Paul Sadler, 42, of Garden City, was arrested

Wednesday night, a sheriff's spokesman said. The victim was Caryn Casaz, 24, of Farmington Hills. She was visiting her sister in Westland before going jogging along the Hines Drive by herself, Ficano said Thursday morning.

When the woman didn't return to the Westland home, her sister called police.

In a TV news report, police said the car's impact led to the woman being thrown onto the auto's hood and smashing the windshield.

She was rushed to Garden City Osteopathic Hospital.

The suspect refused to take a Breathalyzer test, Ficano said. A search warrant was then obtained by officers to draw blood which will be analyzed to see if there was any drug or alcohol content. The results from the State Police lab in Northville are expected to be available today or Friday, the sheriff said.

A department spokeswoman said that several witnesses are still being interviewed. Possible charges could be negligent homicide or manslaughter.

The suspect is being held in the sheriff's Hines Drive station at Newburgh.

Parents lodge safety complaints

Wildwood School parents are upset about safety problems experienced by children who walk to school and are forced to cross the busy Wildwood Street. One mother reported an attempted abduction two weeks ago.

A petition signed by about 200 people, seeking bus service for Wildwood Elementary School, was submitted Monday night to the Wayne-Westland school board.

Parent Janice Pare told the board has become even more congested with

In tears, Pare said a neighbor of the school yelled obscenities at her because she drove her car into a driveway to turn around.

"We should not have to go through this to get our children to school," she told the board.

Pare was one of several parents who lodged busing-related complaints at the Monday night school board meet-

The problem for Pare and other Wildwood parents is that their children live within a mile of the school. The district generally buses elementary pupils only if they live a mile or more away from school.

Pare said busing would be provided for her child if she lived only one block further from Wildwood.

Pare submitted the petition, which she said was signed by some 200 people, that seeks better bus service. She said some 400 other people have signed petitions that haven't yet been given to the school board.

911 tape reveals

BY DARRELL CLEM

A Westland police 911 audiotape, played in a Detroit court Wednesday, revealed in graphic detail the terror surrounding the Jan. 29 shooting death of Joseph Dues, a Flint man who had just repossessed a car in the city's south end.

Dues' companion, Julie Santel, made the frantic phone call reporting that Charles W. Burgess, whose car was seized from his Bannister Court residence, had followed Dues to Grand Traverse and Alberta Court. Dues, repossessing a car for Chrysler Credit Corp., had stopped to adjust the vehicle on his tow truck.

Santel spoke briefly to dispatcher Candy Vinnay from a cellular phone before turning her attention to Dues, 52, and Burgess, 48. "Joe!" Santel screamed. "He's got a

"Yes, he shot him!" Santel replied. Burgess also is accused of making gunpoint threats against Santel and another motorist. Delores Turner of Westland, who stopped at the scene because she believed a car accident had occurred.

Santel could be heard on the audiotage saying, "Get away from me." As Santel and Turner tried to help Dues, Vinnay could hear Santel on the line saying, "Joe, don't die. Joe, stay with me.

Vinnay was sending police and rescue vehicles to the scene, but she had some difficulty pinpointing the exact location because of the hysteria on the other end of the line.

Portions of the tape are confusing and somewhat inaudible. During that time, Santel said Wednesday that she was performing cardiopulmonary resuscitation on Dues while Turner was pressing on his chest.

Volunteer crime fighters have a slow night

Valovick and Turnbull didn't know each other until they joined the program, initiated last month by Mayor Robert Thomas. But Friday marks their sixth night patrolling city streets as a team.

Valovick, a 51-year-old self-cinployed caterer, used to sit in his favorite chair at home and keep an eye on any auapicious cars on his street. He figured the neighborhood watch program was a way to become more directly involved.

"I heard about it, and I figured it was needed because of all the vandalism that you hear about all the time," he said. "It even happens in my neighborhood, which is a halfway decent neighborhood."

The team's six-hour duty, which will end at 2 a.m. Saturday, begins with Valovick behind the wheel. It is his 51st birthday.

"Paul drives until he gets tired, and then I take over," Turnbull says. Turnbull was the program's first volunteer. There are now 37, and Valovick handles the scheduling.

Man gets prison in rape, kidnapping

By DARRELL CLEM STAYP WRITER

William Joseph Lavack has been sentenced 12 to 20 years in prison for kidnapping and raping his former Westland girlfriend during a nine-day abduction last Lavack, 31, also received a twoyear term for a felony firearms charge when he was sentenced Monday by Detroit Recorder's Court Judge Robert Ziolkowski.

Lavack, a Lincoln Park resident, will serve the two-year term before he begins serving the long-

The sentencing came 15 months after Lavack abducted Karen Stewart Perez on June 27, 1994, and forced her on a nine-day trail of terror from Redford Township to the Upper Peninaula.

Perez, an admitting room clerk at Botsford Hospital in Farmington Hills, had gone to Redford to meet Lavack for dinner. She has said in court that she wanted to sever ties with him and to be repaid money that he owed her.

But Lavack abducted her and held her captive for nine days, repeatedly raping her and threatening at times to kill her, Perez has said in court.

Lavack finally surrendered to state police on July 6, 1994, after he and Perez were found at a cabin in a wooded area 25 miles south of Marquette. Lavack was armed with an assault rifle, a 9mm handgun, explosives, knives and a bayonet.

Police learned of Lavack's whereabouts when Perez managed to give a crumpled note to a grocery store clerk during an outing with Lavack. He had warned her not to say anything or he would: kill her, Perez has said.

Lavack had been acheduled for trial in August, but he decided to plead guilty to first-degree criminal sexual conduct, kidnapping and felony firearms charges.

The abduction drew extensive media attention as family members and friends anxiously waited for word on whether Perez was still plive. After Lavack surrendered, Perez was escorted 450 miles home by police.

In a press conference when she returned, Perez visibly shook in fear as she told of staying alive by pretending that she still loved La-

In one of her more terrifying moments in captivity, Perez said Lavack bound her with thick tape and placed a grenade between her breasts, telling her not to move or she would be "blown to bits."

Among other parent complaints: Parent Dan Wilkinson said students who were moved to Kettering Elementary from the now-closed Titus Elementary need more bus stops. Some parents believe that students have to walk too far to a bus stop at the Titus building, and they are concerned about youngsters crossing busy roads.

One Walker Elementary bus driver reportedly told students at one bus stop that the bus was too full to pick them up. Another bus didn't arrive for a half-hour or more, one parent said.

bus picks up kindergartners at 12:30 p.m. for an afternoon session, but isn't there to take them home, one parent said.

In a non-busing complaint, foster parent Debra O'Leary has withdrawn two of her eight school-age children from school because she is concerned that one child was placed in a split class of first- and second-graders.

She said the child, who was neglected before she was placed in a foster home at age 21/2, has emotional problems and may not get the attention she needs in a split

School officials tried to reassure O'Leary that the pupil would receive the attention she needs. but O'Leary said she knows what's best for her own child.

Moments later, the team drives down Manufacturers Drive, an industrial area where illegal dump. ing sometimes occurs. Not tonight.

that we're out here, that helps. People will tell us that they're glad to see us."

One apartment manager told Valovick and Turnbull of a tenant who is suspected of selling drugs. The neighborhood watch team told the police department, which can now do some surveillance.

At Kmart on Wayne Road, shoppers turn their heads as the two man team drives by. "That's the whole idea," Valovick said, "Let them look at us." A short time later, Valovick drives by Jefferson Elementary School, which was vandalized several times a few months ago. All is quiet, so the men decide to show their presence on some that have had gang problems.

"The cool weather must be keeping people in," Turnbull remarks, but he points out a troubling observation: Many residents have their front doors wide open late at night.

"That's asking for trouble," Turnbull says.

At the Salvation Army building on Venoy at Dorsey, Valovick spots a car idling in the parking lot. He drives up behind it and eventually flashes his high beams.

No major crimes

A man gets out and informs Valovick that he's only waiting for his wife, who is running an errand at a residence across the street.

Deputy Police Chief John Reddy says police officers have responded to a few tipe from neighborhood watch volunteers, but the participants haven't encountered any major crimes.

For the most part, it has just been insurance (against crime) so far," he says, adding that the program is new. Meanwhile Friday, Valovick and Turnbull pull into The Landings, an apartment complex on Warren Road near Central City Parkway. Again, the atmosphere is quiet this night. That doesn't bother this neighborhood watch team, which just wants to help Westland be a safer place.

Valovick talks about a recent crime in which a woman was sexually assaulted at The Landings. He drives around a corner, and then he utters a familiar line: "Let's see what's happening around here."

Human skull is found

By Darrell Clem STAFF WRITER

Wayne County investigators are trying to match an identity with a human skull that was found Sunday afternoon in Hines Park in Westland, Sheriff Robert Picano

The badly decomposed skull is believed to be that of an adult male, he said.

Sheriff deputies also found part of a leg bone and "other bone fragments," Ficano said. Investigators can't say with certainty that a homicide is involved. he said, but added that "we're treating it as a crime scene."

Some youngsters playing on the banks of the Rouge River found the skull between noon and 12:30 p.m. Sunday, not far from Middlebelt Road and Hines Drive, Ficano said.

The find was reported to an adult who, in turn, contacted the Westland Police Department, the sheriff said. Westland police called in the sheriff's department, he said, because Hines Park is under the county's jurisdiction.

Porensic investigators are examining the skull, Ficano said. "Our forensic people are looking at it, and it appears to be (the skull of) an adult skull," he said. "They believe it is a male adult."

Investigators haven't been able to match an identity with the skull, but they are checking missing-persons files for possible leads, Picano said.

"The case is currently under investigation," he said early this

Over protest, school land is declared surplus

BY DARRELL CLEM STAPP WRITER

Westland residents living near Patchin Elementary School told the Wayne-Westland school board Monday night that they oppose the possible sale of land around the school for residential development.

"I don't see any reason whatsoever to sell that property and dispose of any of it," lifetime Patchin area resident Wilfred Green, 70, said.

Green's longtime support of Patchin included the 1991 donation of a school bell used in the original one-room Patchin schoolhouse, built in 1852.

Green told the board that he believes the environment should be protected around the school, on Newburgh Road south of Warren. The natural beauty is ideal for biology lessons for students. he said.

Despite opposition from Green and other residents, the board voted 5-1 to declare an unspecified portion of the 24-acre Patchin property as surplus. The board also authorized Superintendent Duane Moore to negotiate with Dearborn Real Estate Co. for the possible sale.

However, the motion by board member Patricia Brown omitted recommendations from Moore that the property be sold for no loss than $450,000 and that it include only 60 feet of frontage on Newburgh Road.

Board members said they wouldn't support a developer's request for a 300-foot frontage on Newburgh, but board president Francis "Bud" Winter indicated Monday that a 120-foot frontage is possible.

The board appeared united in saving a kindergarten playground that would be eliminated under the developer's original proposal.

In a new development, former Wayne-Westland school board member Laurel Raisanen raised questions about whether the board can legally sell the Patchin

She said she has heard that a former landowner donated vacant land to Patchin on the condition that it can't be separated from the school, until a school no longer exists on the site.

Harris was stabbed three times before one of the witnesses threw a chair at Koco, causing him to retreat and flee the apartment, the reports said.

Koco was arrested a short time. later at his own apartment.

Old-time fix-it man fixes just about everything

The bread is baking at Sorg Electric Repair Co.

It's repairman Westland's Otto Sorg at the bread machine, as he tests out the results.

"This bread is not correct," Sorg said. "It looks like those wrinkled dogs, the shar peis:"

It's not always the cook with the problem, it can be the unit itself, Sorg explained.

Sorg spends his life taking things apart, and in Sorg's home few things get thrown out. -

Sorg fixes everything that is electrical at his repair shop located at 8589 N. Lilley in the Golden Gate Shopping Center, which is across the street from Mettetal Airport in Canton.

"We sell a lot of reconditioned vacuum cleaners and accessories and parts," Sorg said, "The small repair business has gone to the wayside. There's not a lot of money in it. It's not a profession that you can go in and make a million dollars and retire."

About 50 customers a week tell Sorg their woes. "We do everything from electric shavers, VCRs, microwaves to TVs," he said.

The rule is that if you can repair something for half the price of a new one, do it," Sory said.

There's many good vacuum cleaners that cost $200-300 that should be repaired rather than replaced, he said. "They will outlast a new one."

Sorg services uprights, canisters, hand-held, Shop Vacs, shampovers, buffers, polishers, and bags/belts/hoses.

Sorg strives for realistic repair evaluations. He knows that if he doesn't, the customer will be back with the product.

He also gives advice. "It's good to get your VCR cleaned at least once a year if you use a lot of rental tapes," he said.

Sorg doesn't do home servicing but he does repair toasters/ovens. coffee makers, irons, blenders, mixers, fry parts, hair dryers, food processors, electric shavers, saws, drills, routers, sanders, grinders, lawn edgers, trimmers, mowers, weed trimmers, shop motors. sump pumps, pool pumps and all types of fans.

"Anything that we sell or recondition, we offer a guarantee from 30-90 days, depending what the product is," Sorg said.

Parts, cords, batteries, switches, fuses and the like are stocked, "We do a lot of antique lambe and glass shade work and I do repair work on stained glass," Sorg said. "Master Lighting and Brose Electric send their customers to us." Splane Electric does also.

"What I'm trying to do establish is a one-stop repair center concept," Sorg said. "So many repair shops specialize."

Sorg Blectric Repair has been in its location almost four years. "I have 20 years experience in the repair business," he said.

Sorg was born in Austria. His stepfather was a displaced refugee from Yugoslavia. "When we came over from Austria on a ship, we were on the ocean for 11 days and my mother was deathly seasick for 10 days out of the trip. So they gave her a small cabin in the front of the boat. She remembers that that wasn't working and I climbed up there to try to fix the fan to make it comfortable for her." The family settled near Philadelphia when he was 8.

Sorg has a lifetime of taking things apart.

In the electronic field, it's important to keep current. Sorg has two technicians, Rick Hilton of Belleville, and Mike Spore of Brighton. Paula Stubblebine of Canton is the office manager.

Sorg was trained as a licensed technician. He is also an authorized repair center dealer for several companies, including Mr. Coffee, Bissel, and Royal Dirt Devil vacuum cleaners, among others.

Turnaround repair time is about three or four days and Sorg there was a small fan in her cabin admits many customers want repairs done yesterday, so to speak.

> He puts a high priority on some items like restaurant equipment that is needed quickly. He also does dehumidifiers and carry in air conditioners. He's also sensitive to those warm weather needs.

"Just because something is old doesn't mean it can't be fixed," Sorg said. "Just like people, as they get older they become more valuable."

He tries to restore antiques in a way that preserves their original look.

l've always been mechanically inclined and inquisitive," Sorg said. "I enjoy the satisfaction of taking something that doesn't work and getting it to work again. Landfills are full enough."

Hospice fall training program to start for volunteers

Community Hospice Services has finalized its fall volunteer training sessions.

An eight-week, 24-hour training course is offered, starting from 9 a.m. to noon, Tuesday, Sept. 26, and meeting weekly for three hours for eight weeks.

The eight-week course focuses on all aspects of hospice care. The 24-hour program provides a complete overview of hospice and summarizes several aspects of patient care.

Community Hospice, which has its main office on Warren Road at Venoy, offers the volunteer education program free to potential volunteers in an effort to further their mission of compassionate patient/family care as well as ongoing community education, a spokeswoman said.

Guest speakers will present pertinent topics including comfort and direct care measures, spirituality and the hospice family, family dynamics and more. The area of grief is also explored and the volunteer will learn how the loss of a loved one impacts a person's life from childhood through adulthood.

"Volunteers come from every walk of life and nearly every age group," said Doreen Vivyan, the organization's director of volunteer services.

"So often I hear that a volunteer is very grateful for past kindnesses shown to their family during a loved ones illness, and they in turn would now like to give back to the community. Many people feel they can use the same skills they learned in caring for their family member to assist someone else.'

Not only do volunteers give to others, they also receive back.

"Our dedicated volunteers indicated that they receive a sense of satisfaction from helping others," said Vivyan.

Elaine Flagg, a volunteer for more than 12 years, agrees. "Hospice has given back to me more than I can ever give to the program.' The caliber of our volunteers is impressive. Bach person generously brings his or her own special gift to blend so beautifully with the needs of our hospice agency," said Vivyan. "Our compassionate volunteers give of themselves in many ways, companionship, patient care, bereavement, clerical needs, fundralsing, marketing, and many more areas.

"Volunteers will also learn about themselves and their interests and skills will be considered when volunteer assignments are

"Each and every volunteer has unique skills and talents. These qualities are channeled to meet the needs of our patients and their families, to be rewarding to our volunteer, and helpful to our agency in furthering our commitment to our community."

Volunteer activities can involve working directly with patients and families, or those numerous service functions which support the delivery of patient care.

Those interested in volunteering may contact Vivyan at 522-4244.

Community Hospice, a private, non-profit organization, was established in 1981 to offer compassionate, skilled home care to those individual who face an incurable illness. Hospice offers supportive care, promotes quality of life and provides comfort and emotional healing for the patient and family members, the spokeswoman said.

Area alumni lead school cleanup effort

BY MARY RODRIQUE STAFF WRITER

What do actor George C. Scott, Wayne County Executive Edward McNamara, and state Rep. Lyn Bankes, R-Redford, have in com-. mon?

They are all graduates of Redford High School, and two of them (sans Scott) are doing something to rehabilitate the old Detroit school near Six Mile and Grand River.

"It's a lot of fun, but it's also a great way to give back to the community," sald Banks, a veteran lawmaker and class of 1959 alum-

McNamara established the Redford Alumni board of directors when he marked the 50th anniversary of his graduation from Redford.

An official board of directors with 25 members was established in April 1994. Since then, the group has increased membership to 250, raised $10,000 during its first annual golf outing to benefit the school, obtained free landscaping for the school grounds, participated in a career day, and set up Saturday, Sept. 23 as paint-the-school day.

"We've had a newsletter and done one mailing. The word is spreading," said Dick Harrick, class of '59, and owner of a Livonia insurance agency.

Other local members of the Redford Alumni Board include Mack Carpenter, Jo Griffing of Livonia, Dave Palmer, Julia Foster Belcher and Kenneth Kelsey of Farmington Hills, Megan Miller of Farmington, Gary Bailey of Plymouth, Ned Liddle of Birmingham, Gerald Levin and John Artz of Bloomfield Hills, Jim Garpow of Beverly Hills, Walter Neal of Southfield, and Chuck Childrens of Northville.

Also on the board are Livonia buinessman and Novi resident Phil Zimmerman, Triette Lipsy, Ernest Peck, Angelique Madison and Kenneth Davies of Detroit, Don Kleckner of Rochester, and Bruce Berend of Plante & Moran in Southfield.

Harrick came on board a year ago and has worked on various projects.

"If one person tried to do something, it wouldn't work, but a group can do many things together," he said. "We're meeting every week now. We have a lot of people willing to volunteer time or materials.

With 2,400 students today, Redford High is the largest high school, both in terms of student population and size, in the city of Detroit, according to Harrick.

"We're providing the impetus to continue this arrangement long-term. We're trying to get residents and students involved in a partnership," he said.

For the painting project on Sept. 23, Harrick anticipates 300

'Customers' like middle schools

roviders of a product or service like to brag about how well they are doing in their business or profession. But the true test is whether the consumers of that product or service are satisfied.

That's the situation in the Wayne-Westland school district; where there was a major transition from the traditional junior high schools to middle schools now housing sixth-, seventhand eighth-graders. Previously, sixth-graders were part of the elementary school program.

Initial reports from students are generally positive.

While adult school leaders debate the need to have a revised curriculum, staff training and parental involvement, the students themselves are more interested in lunch menus, locker assignments and hallway traffic between classes. The comments from sixth-graders during the first week of school made it clear that they like the atmosphere of a middle school.

The school administration admitted a few glitches, but that shouldn't be unexpected in such a massive change as the one undertaken.

But the key issue to remember is that the new middle school program will help improve the quality of education for those students at a time when businesses as well as federal and state government leaders are clamoring for a higher level of performance from graduates.

The middle school program, recommended within the past school year by then-Superintendent Larry Thomas, should go a long way toward achieving that goal.

Which is why local cable commissions and the state Public Service Commission, which regulates phone companies, will take on increasingly important roles in the communications revolution. The three are Artman's Westland Nursery, 32593 Cherry Hill; Barson's Greenhouse of 6414 Merriman, and Panetta's Landscaping, 8500 Middlebelt, who came to the aid of the Friends of Nankin Mills and the Wayne County Parks Department when funds for adding flowers and plants around the exterior were running low.

The huilding is beautiful and we wanted the grounds to look the same; I approached the three longtime retailers for help. All quickly donated a large stock of perennial garden plants.

Their generous donations really helped beautify the grounds. Both Nancy Darga of Wayne County parks and I want to give them our heartfelt thanks.

Don't merge courts

he proposed legislation to merge Wayne County Circuit Court and Recorder's Court will compromise the efficiency of Wayne County's case flow and result in increased rights for felonious criminals. Therefore, we respectfully urge you to oppose the legislation and maintain local control over crime prevention.

In 1987, Recorder's Court agreed to help Wayne County Circuit Court with criminal cases where both the Wayne County prosecutor and defendants consented. Perhaps due to their specialization in trying criminal cases, statistics of capital cases show that Recorder's Court judges are tougher on crime than Circuit Court judges. As a result, the Circut Court's five-year backlog has been eliminated. In fact, in 1989 and 1990 the National Center for State Courts recognized the leadership of the Recorder's Court due to its effective case flow management as one of six "Profiles of Success" in the nation.

As a result of the proposed merger, judges will not specialize in criminal or civil law, and Wayne County Circuit Court will return to its five-year backlog. Justice will creep along at a snail's pace, and criminals will be the only winners.

Wayne County's sovereignty is threatened by the proposed merger, which is just another attempt by Lansing politicians to usurp local authority. State government is intruding into the lives and safety of Wayne County residents by interfering in its criminal justice system. The Circuit Court judges, elected by all Wayne County residents, have agreed to the current system to secure efficient and equitable justice for their constituents.

Wrong priorities

s it too much to hope that our politicians will ever learn to put the most important issues on the top of the list?

We hear all this hue and cry about a new baseball stadium when our public schools are in urgent need of restructuring.

Our roads and overpasses are falling down around us, and we worry about a sports complex.

Compared to the state's population, very few would benefit from a new stadium --built, incidentally, to make the rich richer.

We already pay a large tax on gasoline that is supposed to go into road repair but our roads are atrocious.

Decent roads and top-flight schools would benefit a large majority of our citizens.

Everyone talks about schools and roads but we aren't getting any action.

Somehow we need to shake them up in Lansing and get things moving.

POINTS OF VIEW

State board leads the way in improving education

On Aug. 16, the Michigan State Board of Education adopted a resolution recommending the Legislature reform Michigan's system of public education through a program of mission, choice, freedom and quality. If the Leg-Islature takes bold action in this matter. Michigan will lead our nation in education reform. Pamilies, children and educators will profit as a result.

We live in an age of choice and freedom. The Iron Curtain has been torn down and the command and control economies of the past have given way to the freedom of competition. The world is adopting the premise of our Declaration of Independence and moving toward freedom by embracing democracy and free markets. Americans, after years of frustration with a failing welfare system, demanded fundamental change in 1994 and elected a new Congress.

Yet, as Albert Shanker, president of the American Federation of Teachers. has pointed out, our system of public education more resembles the failed

East European command and control economies than our own free market system.

Our schools are defined by attendance boundaries and administrative bureaucracy — not by their mission. With the exception of a few new public school academies, students and families have no public school choices residency determines where children must attend school.

The tax system pays for schools regardless of students' or parents' satisfaction. The state, not parents and teachers, determines curriculum and controls schools. No one would serious. ly suggest that this system be applied to food or housing. The result would be public monopolies of collective farms and public housing projects. Indeed, no one even suggests that such a system should apply to postsecondary education.

Public K-12 education is a public monopoly, and by many accounts, it is failing. Surveys reveal that many parents are dissatisfied with public schools. Students are falling behind other major nations. Business and parents demand improvement. Other states have undertaken public education reform. It is time for Michigan to be bold and lead the nation to more fundamental change in the organization and delivery of public education.

The state board, therefore, has proposed that the system of public education be reformed by focusing on mission, expanding public school choice, expanding public school freedom, and ensuring quality.

The board asks the Legislature to define schools by mission - providing teaching for learning. The board proposes that all public school students be entitled to attend any public school, while ensuring that students be able to enroll in their local schools if they so choose. The barriers to the development of public school academies should be removed by eliminating the artificial cap in the number of academies and who may attend them.

Parents should have a Public Educa tion Savings Account through which they could choose where to spend their allocation of public education dollars within the public school system and retain any savings for postsecondary education. Schools should be permitted to waive burdensome and nonessential components of the School Code so long as they disclose those waivers.

Through a petition and vote, local educators and parents should be empowered to more directly affect education in their local schools.

New, smaller locally controlled districts should be created through a vote if a community so desires. The board also stands for quality and recommends that all schools be subject to state assessment through a periodic academic test, state accreditation standards, model content standards, and requirements to disclose vital information in an annual prospectus.

Today most parents have no choice in public education. Our proposals provide parents and teachers a wide array of public school choices — their local district, neighboring districts, public school academies, new districts, and empowered schools - all with parents directly controlling their Public Education Savings Account.

By injecting mission, choice, freedom and quality into the system, these proposals would hold those responsible for the education of children accountable.; Unlike failed top-down reforms, by opening up the public school monopoly to competitive forces, choice, and local! accountability, these proposals will dramatically increase the quality of public education. We hope parents and teachers will embrace the new opportunities - and challenges - choice and freedom will bring.

Bill Ballenger - entrepreneur of the Inside Michigan Politics newsletter, a former county GOP leader, former legislator, and former Milliken administration department head — comes up with a new set of facts based on this year's voting records: "All 56 Republicans were more conservative than all 54 Democrats." No longer is there a middle ground. Ballenger's reasons:

"1) The GOP's razor-thin margin of control instilled a sense of discipline in the Republican caucus that it didn't need when it was in the minority, or deadlocked for control with Dems in 1993-94.

"2) This year's session, tilted heavily toward economic and tax policy questions, was largely devoid of some of the incendiary social-cultural roll calls that gave some Republican leaders a chance in years past to cast 'liberal' votes on issues like abortion, assisted suicide, et al."

Case in point: Reps. Barbara Dobb, R-Union Lake, and Susan Munsell, R-Howell, have been "pro-choice" or liberal votes on anti-abortion bills in the past and had "moderate" scores. This year they're to the right of far right types like Alan Cropsey, R-DeWitt,

Business community joins the fray over gutting education in our state s usual, last week's big news failed to get much coverage on TV or in the big daily newspapers. But it was both important and timely.

Michigan's business community finally weighed in — and how! — on the eve of what promises to be a noisy fight in the Michigan Legislature over required classroom standards.

Business leaders have been growing increasingly concerned at the damage the radicals now controlling the State Board of Education might do in their quest to reform our public schools by destroying them.

The State Board, for example, wants to throw out the mandatory school curriculum standards adopted by the Legislature in 1993 and allow each school district to follow them or not, as it pleases. The board also is very hostile to the tough new statewide achievement tests that will supplement the MEAP tests later this year.

For years the husiness community has been grumbling that it's paying most of the taxes to support the schools whereas many kids leaving high school are largely unemployable. Some can't reason well or write clearly. Others cannot add fractions or read bluoprints. Worse, the expensive task of remediating those students on the job amounts to throwing good money after

Earlier this spring, business leaders realized hat the slash-and-burn majority on the State Board, led by Grosse Pointe lawyer Clark Durant, was serious about gutting the steps to school reform that were made possible by the passage of the Proposal A package. They started pulling a coalition together linking heavyweight organizations: the Michigan Chamber of Commerce, the Michigan Manufacturers Association, the Greater Detroit and Grand Rapids Area chambers of commerce.

They created something called the Michigan Business Leaders for Education Excellence to obby for tough curriculum standards and accurate assessment tests to make sure that kids really learned what was in the curriculum, not just in the good schools but in all of them.

And last week's news was that the coalition held its first press conference, making it clear Bhat the business community was going to be in the thick of the fight over school standards.

John Thodis, president of the MMA, was plunt: "Since the passage of Proposal A, there has been an ongoing attempt to back away from hese accountability measures, and away from he promises made to the people of Michigan. he latest threat to this new system is an effort o remove the mandate from the academic core

Which is why local cable commissions and the state Public Service Commission, which regulates phone companies, will take on increasingly important roles in the communications revolution. They provide residents the best opportunity to voice their concerns about local service. They are nonpartisan and have more clout, by nature of their collective power, than individuals.

. But how many people know who their local cable commissioners are, or when the group meets? And when was the last time anyone called the Public Service Commission (1-800-292-9555) or attended a hearing on phone

People need to abandon the notion that cable television is strictly entertainment, or that the telephone is merely a convenience. Phone lines, remember, are the data transport system on the information superhighway.

Information is power. It would be smart for consumers to recall this as the free enterprise feeding frenzy among communication companies picks up speed.

Therefore, we respectfully urge you to oppose the legislation and maintain local control over crime prevention.

In 1987, Recorder's Court agreed to help Wayne County Circuit Court with criminal cases where both the Wayne County prosecutor and defendants consented. Perhaps due to their specialization in trying criminal cases, statistics of capital cases show that Recorder's Court judges are tougher on crime than Circuit Court judges. As a result, the Circut Court's five-year backlog has been eliminated. In fact, in 1989 and 1990 the National Center for State Courts recognized the leadership of the Recorder's Court due to its effective case flow management as one of six "Profiles of Success" in the nation.

State board leads the way in improving education

BY CLARK DURANT

On Aug. 16, the Michigan State Board of Education adopted a resolution recommending the Legislature reform Michigan's system of public education through a program of mission. choice, freedom and quality. If the Logislature takes bold action in this matter, Michigan will lead our nation in education reform. Families, children and educators will profit as a result.

We live in an age of choice and freedom. The Iron Curtain has been torn down and the command and control: economies of the past have given way to the freedom of competition. The world is adopting the premise of our Declaration of Independence and moving toward freedom by embracing democracy and free markets. Americans, after years of frustration with a failing welfare system, demanded fundamental change in 1994 and elected a new Congress.

Yet, as Albert Shanker, president of the American Federation of Teachers. has pointed out, our system of public education more resembles the failed

East European command and control economies than our own free market

Our schools are defined by attendance boundaries and administrative bureaucracy -- not by their mission. With the exception of a few new public school academies, students and families have no public school choices --residency determines where children must attend school.

The tax system pays for schools regardless of students' or parents' satisfaction. The state, not parents and teachers, determines curriculum and controls schools. No one would serious. ly suggest that this system be applied to food or housing. The result would be public monopolies of collective farms and public housing projects. Indeed, no one even suggests that such a system should apply to postsecondary education.

Public K-12 education is a public monopoly, and by many accounts, it is failing. Surveys reveal that many parents are dissatisfied with public schools. Students are falling behind other major nations. Business and parents demand improvement, Other states have undertaken public education reform. It is time for Michigan to be bold and lead the nation to more fundamental change in the organization and delivery of public education.

The state board, therefore, has proposed that the system of public education be reformed by focusing on mission, expanding public school choice, expanding public school freedom, and ensuring quality.

The board asks the Legislature to define schools by mission - providing teaching for learning. The board proposes that all public school students be entitled to attend any public school, while ensuring that students be able to enroll in their local schools if they so choose. The barriers to the development of public school academies should be removed by eliminating the artificial cap in the number of academies and who may attend them.

Parents should have a Public Educa tion Savings Account through which they could choose where to spend their allocation of public education dollars within the public school system and retain any savings for postsecondary education. Schools should be permitted to waive burdensome and nonessential components of the School Code so long as they disclose those waivers.

Through a petition and vote, local educators and parents should be empowered to more directly affect education in their local schools.

New, smaller locally controlled districts should be created through a vote if a community so desires. The board also stands for quality and recommends that all schools be subject to state assessment through a periodic academic test, state accreditation standards, model content standards, and requirements to disclose vital information in an annual prospectus.

Today most parents have no choice in public education. Our proposals provide parents and teachers a wide array of public school choices - their local district, neighboring districts, public school academies, new districts, and empowered schools - all with parents directly controlling their Public Education Savings Account.

By injecting mission, choice, freedom and quality into the system, these proposals would hold those responsible for the education of children accountable. Unlike failed top-down reforms, by opening up the public school monopoly to competitive forces, choice, and local accountability, these proposals will dramatically increase the quality of public education. We hope parents and teachers will embrace the new opportus nities - and challenges - choice and freedom will bring.

Study underscores Legislature's growing partisan split ur friendly state representatives in Lansing are becoming more polarized politically. That much is fact. Some of us disagree on why. I've said it's term limits. During the Proposal A voting, I ran a study of how first- and second-term lawmakers voted on replacement taxes versus how veterans of three or more terms voted.

The newer group tended to vote no Democrats for liberal ideological reasons (the sales tax was "regressive"), Republicans for anti-tax reasons (don't replace lost property taxes; just cut 'em). The older hands learned the necessary art of compromise.

Bill Ballenger — entrepreneur of the Inside Michigan Politics newsletter, a former county GOP leader, former legislator, and former Milliken administration department head -- comes up with a new set of facts based on this: year's voting records: "All 56 Republicans were more conservative than all 54 Democrats." No longer is there a middle ground. Ballenger's reasons:

"1) The GOP's razor-thin margin of control instilled a sense of discipline in the Republican caucus that it didn't need when it was in the minority, or deadlocked for control with Dems in

Tim RICHARD

and Dave Jaye, R-Utica. IMP based its scoring on 30 roll calls, rating perfect conservative records as zero and perfect liberal records as 100. So how did your local state representatives do?

Eileen DeHart, D-Westland, and Tom Kelly, D-Wayne, both 77.8 percent; Jan Dolan, R-Farmington Hills, 16.7; Lyn Bankes, R-Redford, 14.3; Jim Ryan, R-Redford, 10; Deborah Whyman, R. Canton, 7.4; Gerald Law, R-Plymouth, 3.3.

Well, now, what does that mean to you? Did your local hero or heroine... vote your philosophy? How liberal or conservative are you? Here are some of the easier-to-understand bills, where a yes vote is conservative and a no vote liberal:

■ Immediate effect to HB 4229 reducing the single business tax.

Final passage to HB 4233 to reduce and eliminate the intangibles tax. Final passage of a state anti-racketeering law (HB 4367) allowing prosecutors to expropriate property from people for crimes defined as racketeer-

Final passage of SB 322 reforming unemployment compensation in ways friendly to business but opposed by unions.

Final passage of SB 386 easing cleanup standards for leaking underground storage tank (LUST) sites. Cutting off welfare for fetuses less than five months and using savings to encourage pregnant minors living alone to return home or to adult supervised care (SB 300). Adopting Walberg amendment to HB 4425 eliminating Indian tuition waiver from the fiscal 1996 budget.

Concurring in Senate amendments to HB 4596 undoing part of the "polluter pay" law.

Passing HB 4508 eliminating "joint and several liability" in civil suits for medical malpractice, product and premises liability - sought by health care and industry, abhorred by the trial

Business community joins the fray over gutting education in our state

s usual, last week's big news failed to get much coverage on TV or in the big daily newspapers. But it was both important

Michigan's business community finally weighed in - and how! - on the eve of what promises to be a noisy fight in the Michigan Legislature over required classroom standards.

Business leaders have been growing increasingly concerned at the damage the radicals now controlling the State Board of Education might do in their quest to reform our public schools by destroying them.

The State Board, for example, wants to throw out the mandatory school curriculum standards adopted by the Legislature in 1993 and allow each school district to follow them or not, as it pleases. The board also is very hostile to the tough new statewide achievement tests that will supplement the MEAP tests later this year.

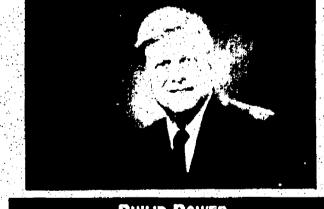

For years the business community has been grumbling that it's paying most of the taxes to support the schools whereas many kids leaving high school are largely unemployable. Some can't reason well or write clearly. Others cannot add fractions or read blueprints. Worse, the expensive tesk of remediating those students on the job amounts to throwing good money after bad.

Earlier this apring, business leaders realized that the slash-and-burn majority on the State Board, led by Grosse Pointe lawyer Clark Durant, was serious about gutting the steps to school reform that were made possible by the passage of the Proposal A package. They started pulling a coalition together linking heavyweight organizations: the Michigan Chamber of Commerce, the Michigan Manufacturers Association, the Greater Detroit and Grand Rapids Area chambers of commerce.

They created something called the Michigan Business Lenders for Education Excellence to lobby for tough curriculum standards and accurate assessment tests to make sure that kids: really learned what was in the curriculum, not just in the good schools but in all of them.

And last week's news was that the coalition held its first press conference, making it clear that the business community was going to be in the thick of the fight over school standards.

John Thodis, president of the MMA, was blunt: "Since the passage of Proposal A, there has been an ongoing attempt to back away from these accountability measures, and away from the promises made to the people of Michigan. The latest threat to this new system is an effort to remove the mandate from the academic core curriculum and make it a recommended set of standards.

"If we believe that these standards are essential to providing a quality education for our students, how can we believe that it is acceptable if some schools choose not to provide the solid educational foundation that the core curriculum establishes? This is too important an issue to leave to chance, and we are not content to say to the students of this state that they may get a good education - if they choose the right school and if their school chooses to adopt the academic core curriculum.

"The MMA believes that the only way to ensure that all students receive a solid educational foundation is to require, rather than merely recommend, the standards that all students will be expected to achieve."

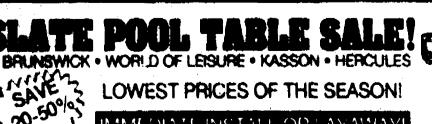

Right on, John Thedis! Right on, Michigan business leaders!

You and your husiness colleagues, of all people, have a direct stake in making sure the kids who leave school have the skills to become productive workers in an increasingly competitive world economy, That's a far more important stake to us than the rantings of a bunch of ideologues who happen to control the State Board of Education.

Budget juggling act

School retirees' benefits funded — for now

By Tim Richard

State lawmakers this week are belping school districts pay for retiroes' health benefits in fiscal 1995 by dipping into the 1998 budget.

"This resolves it for September (of '95), and that's all," said Rep. Maxine Berman, D-Southfield, a member of the House Appropriations Committee.

"This is a shell game, but there's not even a pea under the shell. School districts and retirees should be worried," Berman said Tuesday before the unanimous: committee completed its borrowing act.

Added Rep. Lyn Bankes, R. Redford: "To resolve this, we took money from June of 1996 and put it in the September '95 budget."

The June '96 date was picked because the Supreme Court is expected to resolve the issue of school retirees' health benefits by then, Bankes said.

The money juggling act is contained in House Bill 4084, a onesection measure that appropriates $139.5 million from the '96 school ald fund into the '95 budget, "It's the shortest school aid hill ever,' quipped the sponsor, Rep. Glenn Oxender, R.Sturgie.

Without it, Oxender said, Michigan's 560 public school districts would suffer a 47 percent shortfall in their abilities to pay retirees' health benefits.

Panel chair Don Gilmer, R. Augusta, called for swift, bipartisan action in both chambers to waive a waiting rule, give the bill immediate effect and facilitate state aid payments by Sept. 21, only one day behind achedule. The unanimous vote Tuesday indicated lawmakers would respond.

The problem arose with the Supreme Court's April 25 decision in the so-called "Musselman case," the short title for the suit by Ann Musselman and seven

A few years ago I found out just how befuddling. That's when I had my very own courtroom experience, It was quite brief, fleeting really. And most unpleasant.

I was contesting a traffic citation, just like the policeman who issued it said I could. He told me so right there in the parking lot of the doughnut shop, in front of my children and the crowd of early morning doughnut buyers who happened to witness everything from inside the glassfronted shop.

He pointed to the back of the expensive bit of paper, showing me where the lines were that I. needed to fill in to indicate my dissatisfaction with this whole business. I paid very close attention, in spite of the children's commentary; "Look at the lights flashing on the police car, that's cool. That man has a gun on his belt. His hat is scary. I bet that gun is real. Mommy, don't forget I want the red-jelly-inside-froating-on-top doughnut. I think you're going to be real late for work, Mommy."

At 99, she recalls exercising right to vote in 1918

Agnes Reingans remembers the first time she voted — in a local election in South Milwaukee. It was a milestone because she was one of the first women to vote in the U.S. before the 19th Amendment was ratified.

By Sue Mason STAPP WRITER

Sometimes, Agnes Reingans has a hard time remembering. When you're almost age 99, it's understandable. Sorting out so many years of information and memories can be mind-boggling to say the least.

But the long-time South Milwaukee, Wis., resident and current Livonia resident does remember the year she voted for the very first time and who was president. It was 1918 and Woodrow Wilson was atcering the country through World War I.

No, the date isn't wrong. Yes, Reingans voted two years before the 19th Amendment to the U.S. Constitution was ratified, giving women the right to vote. A change in the Wisconsin Constitution allowed her to vote in a local election, a vote that makes her one of the first women to have done so in the entire country.

"I had an aunt who said, 'Finally, I've got the right to vote, but I didn't pay much attention to it," said Reingans, "We had voting machines and I more or less knew how to work them, but they did explain it to me."

She also became active in the Republican party through a "gentleman friend" and, with his daughter, attended state and national conventions in the 1970s-'80s in Portland, Albuquerque, New Orleans and Dal-

He taught his family not to judge people by the way they dressed but by their actions. He loved animals, people and nature. Kitto was a skilled blacksmith who thought nothing of creating treasures for friends and family.

When he passed away earlier this year at age 91, Ham-Kucharski and her husband, Rich, decided the ultimate tribute would be to honor people who embraced the same beliefs and for them to carry on his love for people.

So they created the Cantonbased QCK Foundation, a scholarship organization to help students and individuals who want to focus on technical and vocational studies ranging from automotive repairs to computer technology.

"He was such an incredible man." Ham Kucharski said. "We just wanted to become involved in the community because that's what a citizen should do. He always put children first. He thought they were the light of importance for our future.

On Sunday, Sept. 17, the QCK Foundation is holding its second fund-raiser — a two-mile walk-athon through Griffin Park on Sheldon Road just north of Cherry Hill, Canton. The $12-per-person registration fee, payable at the door, includes a T-shirt, drinks and fruit. So far the organization has raised $1,200 through a bowl-a-thon held in June.

Kitto, the father of one, worked for 60 years as a blacksmith for A.C. Delco in Flint, but he took his talents a stop further by creating pieces for friends and family. Ham-Kucharski and her husband keep Kitto's memory alive by decorating their Canton home with pieces of his artwork.

We have many of the artifacts still around - a candleholder that he made for the people who used to be in the mining business, a lemp that he made, and photos of wrought-iron artwork," Rich

Rich came up with the idea of the foundation and serves as director of operations. When he met Dawn seven years ago, it didn't take long for him to realize the wife's family possesses.

"It's amazing; I walked in for my first family get-together and everybody embraced me like I've been in the family forever," he said. "At the time I was just a boyfriend of the family. It took a year to actually get used to that."

And it didn't take long for Kitto to charm Rich.

"It was mostly his honesty and his blunt opinions," Rich said with a laugh. "Many of his opinions were based on a mixture of Old World logic and New World awareness. As I drove to the babysitter's house, I got to thinking . . . about my expensive expired tabs ticket. I'd paid for new license tabs well before my birthday and sent the check to Lansing. After a few others shuffled into the courtroom, the judge came in. And the proceedings began. Six men were called before me. And they were bad men who had done very bad things. And some even had lawyers with them because they'd been so bad. And they were, at that very early time in the day, looking very disheveled, dirty, and utterly disrespectful of the arena and the justice system itself. The judge made sharp speeches at each one of them.

And each one of them got pun-

I listened. And then quietly, I'm sure no one noticed, became rather unstrung. Sitting by myself, in my sensible suit with my sensible portfolio, I just knew the judge would laugh at me. And then lock me up and toss the key into a volcano. I just knew it.

Finally, my name was called, I held my head up, put my chin forpodium of prisoners, I'd noticed. The judge prompted me and I began. I presented my cut and dried and verifiable substantiation. And then, with the judge's permission, I launched my oration. It was eloquent and moving and full of truth and serious thought and respect for the law and it was a page and a half long.

I'd won, I guessed. I gathered my papers back into my sensible portfolio and with all the dignity I could muster, made my way out of the courtroom. Five scruffy men still awaiting their turn gave me a scruffy look. And I ... I simply walked.

For this young writer, taking charge comes naturally

Green: I find the ability to discern personalitraits through common handwriting to be fascinating. However, I stopped "writing" in high school, as I feel printing is much more natural, easier to read, and quicker. Also, I only print in the upper case, never lower.

I am right-handed and will be 28 in September. It occurs to me the art of handwriting, and writing as well, will begin to diminish due to the influence of computer and voice communications.

Thank you for considering this handwriting sample.

Best regards.

Novi

I, too, feel the art of handwriting will have a diminishing role in the future. To me, however, a handwritten note or letter is a beautiful gift. I have boxes of letters that I have saved from mychildren when they were in col-

Because the research on printing is somewhat limited, I feel it is important to offer a disclaimer. This analysis may not be quite as accurate as one done on handwrit-

I have found that printing is often the preferred choice of those who have art, drafting, engineering aptitude or a good aesthetic sense. Sometimes, printing is selected by those who want to communicate and be understood by others. A seeming contradiction, however, may be seen in that they do not always make it easy for somewhat limited. Quality apothers to do this.

Aun Mahoney in her excellent book "Handwriting and Personality" has this to say about print-"Whether you learned to print in school, or at an architectural drafting table, or just adopted the style for legibility, it does. reveal a preference for quick, intuitive thinking and ability to appraise a situation and formulate an answer on gut feeling. It also creates a certain amount of emotional isolation. But it is important to know why the person chose printing and how he writes when scribbling a phone message for himself.'

I was drawn to this neat, attractive printing almost immediately. I felt this was a young man with many superlative traits that I admired. He is a person who wants to be in control of his life. Taking charge comes naturally for him.

His circle of friends may be pears to be more important than quantity.

He has high standards for himself. Procrastination, incompetence, carelessness and/or vulgarity can turn him right off.

Ambition stands out here. His aspirations are aimed high. He knows what he wants from life and can move right into action. His goals are challenging, and I feel he will work until he achieves Self-discipline does not permit him to relax until he has completed all of his work. His motto is probably "Business before plea-

In addition, he is extremely conscientious, dependable and meticulous in all things. Punctuality is high on his priority list. When he makes an appointment, he will be there at the stated time and will expect the same consideration from others.

Nothing less than his best effort is ever acceptable to him. I see a perfectionist when I study this printing, and I can't help wondering who exerted that much pressure on this young man.

In his bailiwick, he is neat, tidy and clean. His grooming is fasti-

Our printer is optimistic and upbeat. For him, the cup is half full and never half empty. He looks on the positive side of life and living. This furnishes him with additional confidence in his capabilities.

Golfers make WRC classic a success other Nature was slow to cooperate, but that didn't dampen the spirits of volunteers and golfers who turned out for the Schoolcraft College Women's Resource Center's firstever Tee Time Golf Classic Sept.

Held at the Cattails Golf Club in South Lyon, the tournament attracted 127 golfers, far more than the hoped for 100 golfers on which organizers had set their

"We're delighted with the turnout, especially for the first time." said Nancy Swanborg, WRC director. "This is shaping up to be the biggest fund-raiser ever for the center."

Initial estimates are that the benefit will raise close to $6,000. more than raised by the center's popular annual spaghetti dinner. The money will be used for scholarships to cover such things as tuition, books, child care and licensing for women who utilize the center's services.

Early arrivals took advantage of the club's driving range and putting green to warm up, and some staged a quick "raid" on the proshop, taking advantage of discounts on golfing paraphernalia, especially monogrammed Cattails Golf Club sweatshirts.

Barbara Mansfield was one of the golfers who decided to buy a sweatshirt because she "travels. with these things. My clubs are always packed."

Sign in, please: The Tee Time Classic's first stop was at the registration table for the foursome of Rene Finger, Mary Frommeyer, Mary Ann Clement and Kay Crowley.

The weather did delay the start of the scrambles, with golfers finally teeing off just after 2 p.m. "The golfers were really patient; they realize that the weather is one thing you don't have control of," said Swanborg, who also played in the tournament. "But the day really turned gorgeous."

The winners of the classic with a 2 under par for the five holes that were counted was the foursome of Stephanie Hall, John Hall, Don Lynch and Dave Duncan. Lynch also won one of three putters given as prizes in the putting contest. Putters also were won by Gretchen Dunfee and Hel- borg said.

Capturing the longest drive was Jim Sproul, while Barb Graning was closest to the pin.

ing at business college and it was there that she met her late husband, Alfred.

"He sat in back of me," Reingans said. "I wore my hair long and he would dip it in the ink well. The teacher would say, 'Reingans, atop that.' "

They waited until after the war to wed on Aug. 21, 1919, and Reingans closed the book on her career just prior to the nuptials. Back then a married woman didn't work, she said.

The Reingans had four children Dolores, who died in 1926, Grace, Gerald and Germaine. During the Depression, she put a tourist lodging sign outside their home in the summer months, a boon for the family as they lived on the main highway to Chicago. But with Alfred laid off, Reingana decided to go back to work as a clerk in the lamp department of the Boston Store. She worked when she could.

"At that time you didn't get a babysitter for a week, and my mother told me, 'I raised mine, you raise yours," Reingans said.

With Civil Service opportunities opening up, she changed jobs. Her first job was checking in clothing at the swimming pool at the county park, an ideal setup, because she could bring her youngest daughter with her. Germaine, according to her mother, 'did all the awimming,'

"That's why she was such a good swimmer," added her daughter Grace.

At summer's end, she went to work at Mitchell Airfield's snack bar where she meet such notables at Esther Williams and Eddie Cantor and even rubbed elbows with Bob Hope. Sometimes, she did all the cooking, and "I was a good cook."

"How well I know because we'd blke there," sald Grace. "They had the best hot fudge sundaes and we figured with all the biking we did we could have one of those fudge sundaes."

In 1951, one month shy of 10 years and a pension, Reingans retired, devoting her time to her hobbles, especially card playing. She also did volunteer work at Trinity Memorial Hospital which provided medical care for three communities, including South Milwaukee.

Her South Milwaukee roots date back to before there was a South Milwaukee - her father moved there in 1892 and married her mother in 1896. And such longevity did not go unnoticed in the town, which tapped her to be its bicentennial queen in 1976. Her children, grown and married, came back from California, Louisiana and Michigan for the cele-

"The mayor and I led the parade," Reingans said. "It was more or less a thrill. They wanted me to wear a crown and all that, but I said no."

Leaving her home was hard, but she retains her membership in the Fraternal Order of the Eagles, which she joined in 1950 and keeps in touch with the American Legion Post where she served as chaplain. However, all her other friends, she said, have passed

Documentary looks at church's founder

"Everywhere you go in New Hampshire, you see a Mary Baker Eddy plaque," points out public television producer Jim Gilmore. "I started wondering 'Who was this lady?""

The result of his wondering is "Soul of a Woman: The Life and Times of Mary Baker Eddy, which received a Wilbur Award for best film documentary for 1994 from the Religious Public Relations Council.

The one-hour special, produced by New Hampshire Public Television, will be shown on WTV8-Channel 56 in Detroit at 5 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 24.

As the documentary's narrator, Fritz Wetherbee points out that Christian Science Church founder Mary Baker Eddy's life "as she saw it, was a constant sacrifice to her mission, a radical mission of spiritual healing in a scientific age." Eddy herself said, "What I am remains to be proved by the 1821, at a time when women had few legal rights and were not allowed to vote. A daughter of strict Calviniat parents, at an early age she learned to love the Bible, but her youth was marked by frequent illness and frailty.

Widowed by her first husband, separated from her son, and deserted by her second husband, her challenges seemed overwhelming. But as she studied her Bible, hopelessness was replaced with hope and fear with love.

Her health improved and she began writing, healing and teaching. She produced her major work, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," in 1875, and it has gone on to sell eight million copies. She established The First Church of Christ, Scientist, as well as an award-winning international newspaper, The Christian Science Monitor.

Rosedale Gardens inspires artist

The Neighborhood: (Top) This mauve colonial is the first house built in Rosedale Gardens in 1925. (Above) Eileen Bibby has created a series of watercolors on Rosedale Gardens in Livonia. It is now on exhibit at Livonia City Hall through Sept. 29 month to complete because of all the detail laid in the brick wall that serves as a background for the rocking horse, flower pots and patio set:

A retired senior industrial designer, Bibby's mastered the ability to accurately portray objects from all angles while a student at Wayne State University and Society of Arts and Crafts (now Center for Creative Studies) in Detroit.

"Anyone who has an engineering background knows perspective," said Bibby, former president of the Visual Arts Association of Livonia and a long-time member of the Farmington Artists Club, and the Scarab Club in Detroit.

Part of the show is devoted to watercolor monotypes where the image is painted on a plexiglass plate then transferred to paper by hand or through the use of a printing press.

Monotype is not a medium of multiples. Only one print is obtained from this process, hence the name, monotype. Bibby will illustrate this lengthy process by displaying the original drawing for her "Auburndale Garden" monotype, the plate after it's printed, and the final work.

"Monotype comes out in reverse. There's some residue lest but not enough for another print," said Bibby who studied the medium with artist Lily Dudgeon of Dearborn

As Bibby walks through the highly manicured gardens in her backyard, she gives a treasure trove of information on the methods she uses to keep it in shape. Loose strife and snowballs are cut down to the ground at the end of the growing season. She makes it seem so simple, but it's more likely after all these years she knows every petal and plant by heart. That's what ensures the accuracy of painting the botanical beauties, years and years of study.

There's nothing hostile or threatening in my work. I'm not capable of painting violence," said Bibby. While most artists have a difficult time parting with their finished work, Bibby enjoys sharing the beauty with others. She hopes Rosedale Gardens' homeowners will see the show and want to purchase the paintings. Prices in the show range from $50 for a small (11 by 11 inch) watercolor monotype to $500 for a 40 by 30 inch watercolor.

"When I've completed the painting it's funny, it isn't mine anymore," Bibby said.

"Normally a community orchestra would never get a soloist of this caliber to perform with them because their fees are so high," said Farmington Area Philharmonic founder and music director Karen Nixon Lane.

Lane learned about Kawakubo's Lansing concert from the symphony's music director, Gustav Meier, "He was my instructor at University of Michigan," said Lane "We're co-authoring a conducting textbook"

Ceramicist works to 'balance reality'

Georgette Zerbis, whose clay sculpture is on display through the end of September in the Exhibit Gallery, spoke to the students before the opening reception of her one woman show in the library wing of Madonna Universily.

'It's important for the students to have the actual contact with a working artist and also to see an area not as visible today like contemporary ceramics," said Glenn.

"Contemporary ceramics ask more from the viewer. They take more study.

'What attracted me to Georgette's work is the sense of division of parts. That they're made up of many parts yet they're whole. And while they're not functional they still have a feeling of functionality.

The multi-cultural environments in which the mix of thrown and hand built clay shapes forming Zirbes' three dimensional sculptures were produced is all important to the creation, as is the process. These recent works in clay were crafted in schools and factories in Germany, Latvia and Prague where artists gathered for a period of 4-6 weeks, living and working together at symposia, workshops or residencies with an exhibition as the end result in mind.

Zerbis' work is all about balancing reality. The cultural and political transitions taking place in these Central and Eastern Europe countries play a part in the art. Like a jigsaw puzzle the University of Michigan art professor pieces the shapes of clay together with silicone glue. The finished sculptures resemble architectural remnants. Whether from a distant civilization or modern society is up to the viewer to decide.

"All these are made in parts that are still visibly separated," said Zerbis who began working in ciay more than 30 years ago while an undergraduate student at De-Paw University in Indiana.

"The issue is one of balance. I wanted them to feel like they're falling visually and physically.'

"Pieces that are precarious (such as these) rarely survive the kiln. Because of this reason and for shipping purposes I glue them together.

In the beginning, Zerbis has a general idea or plan but nothing concrete because she prefers to have the creative decisions evolve as she works.

"I like to have lots and lots of parts like (playing) in a sandbox. "When I'm working I'm more intent on the process for it to be more spontaneous, less technical, but drawing is very fundamental to my work.'

Directed by Spike Lee, produced by Martin Scorsese, from a script by Richard Price, the movie could have been a '90s era

"Clockers" is together so noisily near the beginning, it's a collaboration that only occasionally works.

Scornese was originally supposed to direct but then backed out to make "Casino" with Robert DeNiro instead. Lee came on board but didn't like the focus of Price's original novel, so he changed it from a middle-aged police inspector to a young drug dealer, or "clocker," named Strike.

Strike can get off the street if he performs a hit on a double crosser. Inexplicably, his brother Vincent takes the rap, leaving Harvey Keitel's inspector Rocco to put together the pieces and discover the truth.

Rodney (Delroy Lindo) controls the local drug trade like a modern-day Fagin. Despite his cold bloodedness, he treats his tightknit drug dealers like a family, insisting that his employees stay off of the stuff they peddle. He even gives them haircute at the corner store that serves as a front.

"What do you see?" he asks his young recruits, hands in front of them in a circle. "Not black, the mother and policeman who green."

Some clever ideas surface in young boy he befriends. "Clockers," Flashbacks, filmed in grainy, saturated color, are especially vivid, often showing Vincent at work, a "buffer" between his employers and the gang mem. The Large Hungarians — The Large Hungarians

The songs on The Large Hungarians' self-titled cassette are like a witch's brew - a little of this, a little of that to create a new potion. They are mainly pop-rock songs with a little bit of folk, jazz. and ska thrown in for good measure.

This is a noble proposition, creating a sound mixture that is definitely your own. The problem is that the Kalamazoo band does not make it work with the exception of a few small parts. It sounds like each member wants to go in a different musical direction, and the struggle leads to a boring middle ground where there are only hints of the potential the band has.

The trombone parts throughout the album are about the only thing that saves the songs from being really uninteresting. Most of the horn parts catch your ear for a little bit to get you into the song before the rest of the music throws you back into the sea of mediocrity.

The Large Hungarians are not a bad band, but the five sungs on their self-titled release do not make them sound like a very good band either. They do not make a very good pop band, but there are hints that they might make a good ska band.

Hopefully, as they continue to grow musically, they will see that a difference in style could make them shine. Until then, there doesn't seem to be much hope.

The tape is available through Hungarian Headquarters, 4210 Valley Ridge Dr., No. 8, Kalamazoo, Mich. 49006.

Blues With A Feeling — Little Sonny

Detroit-based harmonica player Aaron Willis, dubbed "Little Sonny" after early influence Sonny Boy Williamson II, had long been out of the shadow of his mentor by the time "Blues With A Feeling -- Ann Arbor Blues & Jazz Festival 1972, Vol 2" was recorded. As vital to the serious blues harmonica fan's record library as his early Enterprise and Stax albums were, this is a revelation to the unitiated and a reminder to those of us who just plain forgot how amazing this man was. The last time I saw him was probably around '78 or '79, and though I've been sufficiently knocked out by the new recordings, this is a trip down memory lane that's as fun to hear now as then. This is live, without the luxury even of a sound check.

Magic abounds here: The spoken intro to 'Going Down Slow" ("In order for a horse to win a race, they say a horse must change his pace. In the meantime he can't win a race if he slows down all the time. He has to change his pace and speed up sometimes. There's a time to run fast, and there's a time to slow down. If you want to last, you better take it slow then move in. You gotta know to do it and when to do it. If you don't, you're in a whole heap of trouble."

Beyond the meeting of proverb and double-entendre, it's a statement that might serve as the Little Sonny musical credo); the amazing live takes of his staples "The Creeper Returns," "Hot Potatoes" and "Sad Funk" that outdo the already impressive studio versions; the inspired scatting on "A Woman Named Trouble;" and his reinvention of Jimmy Reed's "Honest I Do," which stands as one of the best versions I've heard yet.

Sonny's got a warble to his voice that makes it as instantly recognizable as his harp, and there are very few harmonica players in history who are so distinctive.

Restival and disc producer John Sinclair's liner. notes in which, among other things, he called Little Sonny one of his favorite modern bluesmen (an offection I share), are fact filled and make an enjoyable read, and the interview at the end of the disc with Little Sonny, a man with 40 years of Detroit bluck history, is riveling. This is a classy, humble man who just happens to be one of the haddest harp players of our time that too few folks know anything about

Comedian counters Detroit's image

BY CHRISTINA FUOCO STATE WRITER

With Trapper's Alley in financial straits, and the death of Deletha Word plastered all over national magazines and newspapers, the city of Detroit could use a few kind words.

Look no further, it's a life-sized Wendy's restaurant girl to the rescue. After a sold-out show at the State Theatre in Detroit last April, comedian Carrot Top calls the city "my new favorite place."

"I had a blast that night," Carrot Top said Monday via telephone from his Charlotte, N.C., home. "That was a good theater. The crowd was crazy. Detroit people are so nice. I felt like Cal Ripken.'

He was so impressed by the city that he's considering taping a cable special at the venue. In the meantime, he'll return to the city Wednesday, Sept. 20, to play the other side of town - the Royal Oak Music Theatre. For those who haven't seen him on MTV. The Tonight Show, Regis and Kathie Lee, Arsenio Hall Show, or Rolling Stone or People magazines, Carrot Top's shtick is trunks filled. with bits and pieces of everyday life transformed into gags.

Carrot Top, who looks and acts like a cross between a spastic Raggedy Andy and Howdy Doody, whips his inventions out of the cases like a little kid who's trying to find his favorite toy at the bottom of the toy box. He'll pull out a party horn with an inhaler for asthmatics, a briefcase with a credit card machine attached for O.J. Simpson's lawyers, a fire hydrant for handicapped dogs, or a Dr. Kevorkian bath toy - a rubber ducky with an electric plug - among other

Carrot Top said this show will be different than his April gig at the "Well, I'll be a little older. I have a lot of new stuff. We have some new jokes and some new lights. I always try to update the show with things that have happened in the news. Like for Shannon Faulkner I have a hat with a little Twinkie dangling in the front of it to get her through her regiment better," said the comedian, who was born Scott Thompson.

His funniest new joke, he said, has to do with Hootie and the Blowfish. That's as far as he'll go.

For the Florida-born Carrot Top, rock music and comedy go hand in hand. He incorporates flash pods, loud music and backdrops to top the energy that comes with rock shows.

That's what I wanted from the beginning. You go to concerts, and the energy is not only on the stage but in the room. It's amazing how people will line up for concerts. At comedyshows it wasn't the same. There wasn't the energy."

In November, Carrot Top will put his energy toward "Chairman of the Board," the first of three movies he has inked to do for Trimark Pictures.

"I'm going to bring my persona, my crazy self. It's going to be exciting. We're gonns have some of the props, I play an inventor in the movie, chairman of a big Sharper Image kind of company." He's always looked forward to doing movies but felt a little funny about it. "I never wanted to see myself in a movie. When it finally does hit the movie theater, I'll have to go see it on a Tuesday afternoon at 1 so I'm the only person in there. I'm afraid if (the audience) doesn't laugh. Geez, what if it sucks?" he said.

"I'll probably throw Milk Duds at the screen. I don't like hearing my own voice. I hate that. If I listen to the machine and I hear 'I'm not home right now,' I hate that. I sound like a goober."

A book is also in the works. "It's going to be about Reba McEntire. She sold so many copies I thought I'll just call it 'Reba.' I'll tell Reba's story in my own words. No. it li be all my jokes, my props, like a little comic book."

But the key to the all of Carrot Top's media is to have fun — he and the audience.

"It's still fun watching the crowd laughing at it. It's like I get a chance to see it in action. I sit at home and do the jokes. When they get a response, it's neat to see the process from the building stage up to the performance."

Carrot Top performs at 8 p.m. Wednesday, Sept. 20, at the Royal Oak Music Theatre, 318 W. Fourth St., Royal Oak. Tickels are $22.50 in advance for the 21 and older show. For more information, call (810) 546-

Universal Stomp's bassist is having fun

By CHRISTINA PUOCO STALF WRITER

Aaron Ruby of Garden City never thought that his hobby would earn him national recognition.

The bassist's hard rock band Universal Stomp has been given a thumbs up by influential trade magazines CMJ and the Gavin Report following the releases of the EP "Stomping of Jake" and the full-length CD "Full Swing." Both releases are available in most major record stores.

"I had no idea," Ruby said. " It was just something that I normally did to pass the time, to have fun and get crazy. . . . I never expected it would be like this."

Universal Stoinp formed in April 1994 with Ruby, guitarist Dave Curry, mitarist Scott Poole, singer Ed McEachern, and drummer Jeff Shankin. (Shankin has since been replaced with Mike Du Fore of Livonia.)

The band marks Ruby's first foray into bass playing.

"The first couple bands I played in were really noisy plink rock bands. I used to play guitar in all those bands. (In Universal Stomp) there wasn't a images to I thought, I'll play bear for you." The 22 year old said.

A fan of bands like Youth of Today and Corresion of Conformity, he admits that Universal Stomp's combative music "wasn't anything I was into at all " But after awhile his views

"She's had nine surgeries already," said her grandmether Dorie Bernes of

There aren't any big name stars in "West Side Story," but the au-dience voted with their feet opening night giving this production a standing ovation.

"West Side Story," a musical by Leonard Bernstein, Stephen Sondheim and Arthur Laurents, is the love story of Tony and Maria. Tony is Polish-American, and a member of the Jets gang. Maria is an recent Puerto Rican immigrant. Her brother Bernado is a member of the Sharks, a rival Tony and Maria meet at a school dance and fall in love. But gang rivalry gets in the way of,

Marcy Harriell as Maria, and Natascia A. Diaz (Anita) were stand-outs. Harriell, who toured across Europe in this role, was a very believable and sweet Maria. I especially liked her interpretation of the popular "I Feel Pretty." She sings it in her bedroom. A few of her girlfriends are on sitting on the bed. Harriell is silly, and her girlfriends aren't sure whether or not to believe her when she says, "I'm getting married tonight."

Diaz has also performed her role in Europe. She's able to be very serious, sexy, and funny. Her best performances were "America," and "A Boy Like That."

H.R. Greer as Tony, has an OK voice, but he doesn't seem to put as much heart into his role as Harriell and Diaz.

Annette Bergasse, owner and director of Annette & Co. dance studio in Farmington Hills, was very happy. Her son, Joshua was making his professional stage debut in the role of Baby John, a member of the Jets. Bergasse performed very well under what must have been a considerable amount of pressure. He fit right in with the guys and was especially good in "Gee. Officer Krupke."

There's a lot to like about this production, directed by Alan Johnson. The set — an urban landscape with factories, high fence, and hanging laundry, and costumes - blues for the cool Jets, hot pinks for the Sharks are well done. Choreography by Jerome Robbins is fabulous.

The songs, including "Something's Coming" and "Somewhere"—are familiar and memorable. A traveling orchestra provides excellent accompaniment.

While very enjoyable, I did hear some complaints about the ticket prices - $60 for main floor seating on Friday and Saturday nights, $55 Tuesday-Thursday. It does seem like a lot to pay, but then, this production is scheduled to open on Broadway.

When the curtain falls for the last time, "West Side Story" will continue it's tour of 30 U.S. cities including stops in Canada and the 36 righteous souls for whom God preserves the world, and they find him in a beefy, big-mouthed electrician named Joe Walski (Jim Porterfield). With no religion and a Catholic wife, Walski's an unlikely candidate for a Jewish saint when he comes to repair the overloaded circuits in the lighting system at the temple where the trio of Chassids spend their days praying, studying, and kibitzing. They hang out at the reformed temple with permission of Manfred Dorfman (Robert Starko), a rabbi so modern his faith has eroded, but not so worldly that he can't revive the power of believing.

The trio of Chassids exemplify the exceptional balance of tone, temperament, and talent that pervades this production. The meddling, yet benevolent trio are led by the gently wise Nachman (Sol-Frieder) in flowing white heard, the ancerbic, winecracking Mendel (Robert Grossman), and the callow, amouth cheeked Pitzik (Daniel Kahn). The play's good-natured satire has teeth enough to bite - but never to draw blood in the hands of the powerhouse sixmember cast. The play pokes fun at old-fashioned Chassidic ways, the "creative" logic of rabbinical wisdom, country club synagogues, rabbis who have lost their faith, temples in the entertainment business, rabbis as business administrators rather than spiritual leaders, the subservience of Orthodox women, etc., etc.

In a play about an electrician who "sees the light" and sheds "light" on the mystery of faith, the metaphoric wordplay is reinforced by Mark Allen Berg's lighting design and Melinda Pacha's stunning stained-glass windows set in the marble restraint of the modern temple, Nobody -- Jew or gentile, Chassidic or Reformed -escapes the eyes open vision of Norman Lessing's satire which aims not to exclude, but to include all who struggle to explain the elusive, but unifying power of faith and all who would laugh at themselves in affirmation of their shared humanity.

Plymouth Landing offers fine dining

BY RENEE SKOOLUND BPECIAL WEITER

he Plymouth Landing, on the outskirts of downtown A Plymouth, is fine dining with a casual touch. It's white linen tablecloths with a vaso of fresh daísies. It's a place where the dining experience is paramount.

When you come through those portals, it's like an extension of my own dining room," said owner Jim Plakas, a former mayor of Garden City, and a very personable host. "Everything comes out of the refrigerator so to speak."

And coming out of the Plymouth Landing's kitchen are some wonderful dishes. There's fresh whitefish, sauteed in brown butter, white wine and capers; slow-roasted prime rib; two eight ounce Australian lobster tails, and daily specials, like sauteed lamb steaks or Atlantic salmon with champagne tarragon sauce. Entrees run the price gamut from $10.95 to marketplace, with most falling between $13.95 and $16.95.

Lunch offerings include a variety of soups, salads, sandwiches and beef, chicken, fish and pasta entrees. Then there's the original Black Angus Sliders, two mini patties of Black Angus beef grilled with onions and raised to fine dining status by some great trimmings. Not exactly White Castle! Lunch averages between Plakas loves talking about food. About fish he says, "It's the tender care you give the fish. Once you set it in the cooking vessel you watch it. Once you add the wine you watch it until the spirits evaporate, You can tell from the aroma."

Much of the dining enjoyment at Plymouth Landing comes from its atmosphere. It's housed in the lower level of the Markham Building (circa 1886). Plymouth's oldest commercial building still in use, and once the site of the Daisy Manufacturing Company, maker of the legendary Daisy BB guns, The building's original brick walls and oak beams (some supposedly pockmarked by BB's) make for a warm, intimate setting.

"I like the white tablecloths. There's something about white tablecloths," said Margaret Cartier of Redford. Dave DeMitri of Canton particularly liked the garlic redskins served with his blackened swordfish. A frequent Plymouth Landing diner, he said, "I'm with Superior Coffee and I'm in a lot of restaurants throughout the country. You can come here casual for fine white: tablecloth dining."

To be successful and be returned to office you have to perform. It's the same here. The customer is the most important person in the world."

Wayne pulls away from Glenn

Wayne Memorial is off to one of its best starts ever in girls basketball. The Zebras beat Taylor Center on Saturday and rival John Glenn on Tuesday.

BY NEAL ZIPSER

Wayna Memorial's duo of junior guard Yolanda Holt and senior forward Rica Barge seem ready for the Mega Conference Red Division season to start.

On Tuesday, the victim was visiting Westland John Glenn. Holt's 21 points and Barge's 18 led the Zebras to a 60-32 nonconference girls basketball victory and to a perfect 4-0 start.

"I can't remember if a Wayne girls team has ever started 4-0," coach Chuck Henry said.

Henry admitted the schedule will get tougher when the Zebras open their Mega Red season tonight at home against Dearborn Fordson.

"I'll know a lot more about this team after Thursday's game," Henry said. "Fordson is a team that will find and exploit your weaknesses and has traditionally been a good team."

Holt and Barge, the early season leaders, combined for 11 points in a 17-4 spurt to begin the fourth quarter and help Wayne pull away.

Henry expects the pair to lead the Zebras throughout the season. "There's no doubt about it," Henry said. "They are our two most experienced players and, at this time, they are our most talented players. We want the other players to get better as the season progresses."

The Rockets, now 0-3 under new coach Andy Denison, weren't pushovers for the first three quarters.

The lead switched hands seven times in the first quarter before Wayne clung to a 14-13 advantage.

Glenn's Rochelle Harris later nailed a jumper to pull the Rockets to within one at 18-17, but that was to be Glenn's last points in the final 4:35 of the half.

The Rockets were scoreless in their next 14 possessions (seven turnovers, seven missed shots), as Wayne ripped off an 11-0 run to end the half.

Glenn battled Wayne in the third quarter as each team scored nine, but the Zebras dominated the final quarter, outscoring the Rockets 22-8.

"It can't be the youth because we are mostly seniors," Denison said. "We had a lot of mental letdowns and missed way too many easy shots. But I don't want to take anything away from Wayne, which has a very good team.

Senior Nykiya Lee led Glenn with eight points. Sophomore center Natalle Garrison added eight points for Wayne.

The Rockets shot miserably, making only 16 percent of their shots from the floor (nine of 55), compared to Wayne's 39 percent (24 of 61).

Glenn also struggled taking care of the ball, committing 20 of its 29 turnovers combined in the second and fourth quarters.

"I think we've improved from our first two games, but the whole game isn't there yet," Denison said. "I hope we can get it together in the next five games."

Wayne held a 47-40 advantage on the boards, led by Holt's 15 rebounds. Freshman forward Tonya Crawford added 13 boards (10 offensive) and Barge chipped in with seven.

'I don't think they shot well from the outside, but they killed us on the boards." Denison sald.

Henry would have liked to see his players make more than 12 of 24 free throws, but is satisfied with their progress.

"I am seeing improvement and more confidence in the team," Henry said. "It should be an exciting sea-

Gap widens for prognosticators

BY BRAD EMONS STAFF WRITER

Oops!

Your friendly prognosticator got caught looking ahead when he dld last week's prep football schedule.

Instead of Garden City playing Southgate and Redford Thurston. playing Gibraltar Carlson, yours truly leap-frogged a week and listed the wrong games in last week's prediction column.

Well, we're back on schedule with the correct games this week. The picks will carry over on the Garden City-Dearborn and Thurston-Dearborn Heights Crestwood matchups.

Throwing out the two picks from last week, yours truly continued to roll, picking 12 of 13 games correctly to increase his season mark to 26-3 overall.

The unlucky Irishman, Dan O'Mears, isn't quite at the desperate point yet, but after a 9-4 week, he's now 20.9, six games off the pace.

O'Meara, like Lou Holtz, promises to rebound in the coming weeks.

The knockout punch is far from being delivered.

Here is a brief look at this week's action.

FRIDAY'S GAMES (all 7:30 p.m. starts)

Q.P. Liggett at Clarenceville: The Tro-Jans (1-1, 1-0) got off to a good Metro Conference start by dumping Bloomfield Hills Cranbrook, Liggett (0-2, 0-1) lost to a vastly improved Harper Woods team, 36-12. PICKS: Too bad Aaron Krickstein can't play football for Liggett. Clarence. ville serves an ace.

W.L. Western at Liv. Churchill: Westem (1-1) raised a few eyebrows after taking highly ranked Westland John Glenn to the limit before losing 13-9. The Warriors also have a potent field goal kicker in Pat Gibson, who nalled a 52-yarder last week. As for Churchill (0-2), the Chargers have been outscored 79-0 in two games. PICKS: Western gets an early Western Division win.

Liv. Franklin at Northville; Both teams are 1-1 and coming off victories. Franklin's defense is solid, while the Mustangs rely on the running of senior Anell Kersey, who had 129 yards in last week's win over Plymouth Salem. Can the Patriots. who haven't besten Northville in years, break the Mustang Jinx? PICKS: Ernons and O'Meara stick with Northville.

Ply. Selem at Westland John Glenn: The Rocks (0-2) are reeling after two blowouts suffered against state ranked Belleville (42-0) and Northville (31-7), Salem hasn't beaten the Rockets since 1991 when Leon Hister was the breakaway threat. Glenn (2-0), which relies on good defense, may not need any fourthquarter magic in this one. PICKS: The Rockets spiral to another victory.

F.H. Harrison at Ply, Canton: The only time Canton (1-1) has ever beaten Harrison was 1992. The Chiefs are led by quarterback Rob Johnson, who had a big game against Walled Lake Central. The Hawks (1-1) rebounded nicely from their opening-day loss to Birmingham Brother Rice by pounding city rival North Farming. ton, 37-7, as Jason Granger averaged 11 yards per carry. PICKS: The Hawks soar

N. Farmington at W.L. Central: It's the Lakes Division opener for both teams. North (1-1) couldn't stop Harrison tallback Jason Granger last week, while Central (1-1) had its problems with Canton quarterback Rob Johnson in a 22-13 loss. PICKS: It's a tough call; the coin flip says

Wayne at Monroe: Last year it was no contest, as the Trojans (2-0, 1-0) romped to a 34-22 victory over Wayne. Monroe, led by All-State tackle Eric Wilson, beat Dearborn Fordson last week, 28-20. The Zebras (0-2, 0-1), with a slew of gamebreakers, are capable of springing an upset if the defense comes to play. PICKS: It's no shock; Monroe wins.

Dearborn at Garden City: The Ploneers (2-0, 1-0) own a pair of 35-0 victories thus far. They also have an outstanding quarterback in Kevin Kreger, a three-year starter. The Cougars (0-2, 0-1), stayed close with Southgate last week until the final minute. PICKS: Both stay with our original pick. It's Dearborn all the Taylor Kennedy at Redford Union (Kraft Field): This Mega Conference-White Division encounter pits two teams who are struggling. Kennedy (0-2, 0-1) was blanked last week by state-ranked Dearborn, 35-0, while RU (0-2, 0-1) was bombed by Dearborn Edsel Ford, 47-8. PICKS: Kennedy breaks the ice.

Red. Thurston at D.H. Crestwood:

Crestwood (1-1, 0-1) lost a toughie lest week to defending Mega-Blue and playoff qualifier Allen Park, 18-7. Coach Floyd Carter's team is improved. Meenwhile. Thurston (0-2, 0-1) is showing its inexperience after getting hard-hit by graduation. PICKS: Crestwood has the upper

SATURDAY'S GAMES (all games at 1 p.m. unless noted)

Liv. Stevenson at Farmington: The Spartans (1-1) got caught flat last week by city rival Livonia Franklin, losing 15-14, as junior taliback Gade Clark was held to 41 yards. Farmington (1-1) rebounded from its season-opening 28-13 loss to Waterford Mott by routing Churchill, 34-0, as senior taliback Jake Siskosky had 145 yards in 22 carries. PICKS: Stevenson won last year, 7-0, but both like the Falcons this time around.

Luth. Westland at B.H. Cranbrook: The Warriors (1-1, 1-0) whipped up on Rochester Hills Lutheran Northwest, 41-6, to earn their first Metro Conference win. Junior Albert Cook had a big day with 11 tackles and two touchdowns, including a 93-yard Interception return. The Cranes (0-2, 0-1) have that lcabod look about them after suffering lopsided decisions to Detroit Renaissance and Clarenceville. PICKS: Lutheran Westland stays unbeaten in the Metro.

Redford CC vs. Warren DeLaSalle (7:30 p.m. at Clarenceville): The Shamrocks (2-0) looked much crisper offensively in last week's 35-8 dismantling of Ann Arbor Ploneer, Preseason state-ranked DeLaSalle, stunned in its season opener by Toledo St. John's, came back last week to beat Lansing Eastern, 31-14. DeLaSalle won last year's meeting, 14-5. PICKS: CC rider all the way.

St. Agetha vs. Marine City Cardinal Mooney (7:30 p.m. at RU's Kraft Field): The Aggles (2-0) are off to an Impressive start. They're 27-8 victory over Pickford may just put them back in the state Class D rankings. D-Section champ Cardinal Mooney (1-1) was preseason stateranked and expected to be a contender in Class D, but Royal Oak Shrine handed the Cardinals a humbling 17-0 defeat. PICKS: Agatha makes it three straight.

Bishop Borgess vs. A.A. Gabriel Richard (7:30 p.m. at Garden City Jr. High): The Spartans (1-1) were sent back down to earth last Saturday by Camden-Frontier, falling 42-14. Richard is 1-10 dating back to 1993. They have been beaten by Tekonsha and Madison Heights Lamphere. PICKS: Who do you like? Emons takes Little Richard, O'Meara thinks it's a

Big day for Wiemer, Warriors; Clarenceville bolts past Cranes

It was a memorable afternoon of football for Scott Wiemer.

On Saturday, Wiemer earned his first victory as Lutheran Westland football coach as the Warriors opened Metro Conference play with a 41-6 victory over visiting Rochester Hills Lutheran Northwest.

And the native Nebraskan also was pleased with his beloved Cornhuskers, who rolled earlier in the afternoon to a 50-10 triumph oyer Michigan State in East Lansing.

Wiemer taped the Nebraska-MSU game, but also liked what he saw on film from his Warriors,

Junior Albert Cook, a standout on defense with 11 tackles, got Lutheran Westland off and running with a 93-yard pass interception return for a touchdown. (Mat-Baltz added the two-point run.)

In the second quarter, Northwest cut the deficit to 8.6 on Vince Deagler's 1-yard TD run.

But the Warriors went on to score 33 unanswered points. Quarterback Kris Skov, who

Baltz added a 2-yard TD run in the third quarter. (Baltz also had two interceptions, including a 30yard return to set up a score.)

In the final period, Cook, who led the Warriors with 87 yards in nine carries, bolted in from 7 yards out and backup QB Luke Horton capped the scoring with a 30-yard TD pass to Pruchnik. (Scott Lee ran for two.)

CLARENCEVILLE 32, CRANBROOK 14: Despite gaining only 70 yards on the ground, Livonia Clarenceville came up with enough big plays to earn its first Metro Conference win at the expense of host Bloomfield Hills Cranbrook.

"We found a way to to win," Clarenceville second-year coach Chuck Donaldson said. "We've got to get a run game. established. We have to move the ball and take time off the clock."

Clarenceville led 14-0 at intermission on Chris Lekner's 3-yard TD run in the opening quarter followed by Donahue Fulton's 35-yard run in the second period. (Quarterback Rob Ashton added the two pointer.)

In the third quarter, Cranbrook responded with a touchdown to cut the deficit to 14.7.

Ashton then connected on an 80-yard touchdown pass with John Rose to make it 20-7, Cranbrook came back with another score, slicing the deficit to 20-14, but Clarenceville put it away with 12 unanswered points.

Defensive end Juan Puentes blocked a Cranes punt and Jeremiah Watts recovered in the end zone near the end of the third quarter.

Boinik 300: Knight in shining armor

TEN-PIN

You certainly would not expect the kid to go out and throw a 300 in his very first game in the adult leagues.

That is exactly what happened to Rick Bolnik, who had spent several years in the Sunday Youth Claude (SYC), a youth different locale each Sunday Tournament. morning throughout in the western auburba.

Boinik learned his lessons well, as the SYC, like most youth programs, has excellent coaching and can bring out the best in the kids.

The perfect game took place Sept. 6 in the Wednesday Knights League at Country Lanes in Farmington Hills. I would hope that his teammates don't expect that from him every time.

Good luck, Rick, you already perious level of have made your presence known. Super Bowl in Canton had two bowlers in "Super Tuesday" each fire 300's to begin the new season, one from Todd Spitz and another from Ed Schiller.

McCausland leads Madonna past OU

By Brad Emons

Madonna University came up with a rousing 6-15, 15-10, 16-14, 15-11 women's volleyball victory Tuesday at home over Oakland University, anapping the Ploneers' four-game winning streak.

The Lady Crusaders, ranked o. 15 in the latest National As-

No. 15 in the latest National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics poll, received a huge performance from junior Kelly McCausland, a middle-hitter from Redford Union. The 5-foot-11 junior finished with 18 kills and 16 digs.

"We passed the ball and attacked the ball all over the net antenna to antenna," said Madonna coach Jerry Abraham, whose team is 7-5 overall. "And Kelly was unstoppable. After losing that first game we woke up and played ball."

Junior Julie Martin (Livonia Stevenson) added 16 kills, while junior Heather Steinhelper (Clarkston) added 11 kills and 10 digs.

Setter Meg Paris, a transfer from Flint Mott, had 46 assists and six ace serves.

Other Lady Crusaders contributing to the win included Erin Comment (nine digs); Nicole Scharrer and Karin Sisung (five kills each); and Jennifer Russell (seven digs).

"Russell did a tremendous job coming in as an outside-hitter," Abraham said. "She's a freshman and that was her first big performance."

In last weekend's six-team Madonna Invitational, Huntington College (Ind.) came away with the title, beating Georgetown (Ky.) in a tiebreaker. Both teams had 4-1 records in the round-robin format. Madonna, which finished third at 3-2, downed St. Francis (III.), ranked No. 7 in the NAIA, in five games (13-15, 15-17, 17-15, 15-0, 15-2).

The match lasted three hours and 10 minutes.

Paris, who had 51 assists, was voted to the all-tourney team. She is averaging 10.5 assists per game. Sisung was Madonna's top attacker with 19 kills, while McCausland added 18. Steinhelper contributed 14, while Jaclyn Deane (Livonia Franklin) and Comment added six aplece.

Erin Gregorie, who suffered a shoulder injury in a collision with McCausland during the Oakland match, led Madonna against St. Francis with 26 digs. McCausland added 19, while Comment and Paris had 16 and 11, respectively.

"The St. Francis match was one of the best ever played here," Abraham said. "We were consistent throughout and our defense was better than it has been. It showed the girls what they're capable of, if they play at that level."

Madonna also defeated last year's Region champ and NAIA qualifier Mount St. Joseph of Ohio, 15-3, 8-15, 15-13, 15-7, as Paris recorded 43 assists. Top attackers included McCausland (12 kills), Martin (11), Comment (8) and Sisung (7).

Madonna registered a seasonhigh 33 kills in a 15-1, 15-1, 15-11 win over Trinity (Ill.), but the Lady Crusaders fell to Huntington in five games and Georgetown in three.

"St. Francis beat us twice last year, and I think it took something out of us because we came up flat the next day against Georgetown," said Abraham, whose team also defeated NAIA foe Siena Heights, Thursday on the road, 15-6, 15-12, 15-13.

Lady Ocelots 3rd

Schoolcraft College captured three of five matches to finish tied for third in last weekend's 10-team Lake Michigan Tournament.

The Lady Ocelots were eliminated by eventual champion Illinois Central, 17-15, 15-12.

In pool play, Schoolcraft downed Oakland CC (15-3, 15-2), Owens Tech of Ohio (15-1, 15-8) and Lake Michigan (15-3, 15-7). They also fell to Kellogg CC (15-10, 7-15, 15-5).

Setter Andrea Greer (Livonia Franklin) stood out for School-craft with 88 assists.

Defensively, Hermina Angeles (Madison Heights Lamphere) and Julie Schmidt (Milford) recorded 54 and 34 digs, respectively.

Jamie Clark (Livonia Churchill) was SC's top hitter with 23 kills, Michelle MacRae (Midland) added 22 kills and seven ace serves. Tracy Sledz (Livonia Clarenceville) contributed 18 kills.

Stacy Sallus (Warren Woods Tower) was SC's top blocker with six solo and 10 assists. Sarah Fabirkiewicz (Churchill) added three solo and nine assists.

"The next thing we need to develop is a third middle blocker to make our lineup work," SC coach Tom Teeters said. "Another area we need improving is serving."

Teeters, however, believes his team can compete for Eastern Conference and NJCAA Region 12 honors.

"We have possibilities," he said. "Eight teams have a chance, Right now (Flint) Mott and Southwestern are the two favorites."

Brother Rice boots Catholic Central, 3-2

BY STRVE KOWALSKI

Birmingham Brother Rice junior defender Shawn Wilson earned the nickname "Terminator" from his teammates for the way he eliminates opposing teams' scoring chances.

Maybe they'll start calling Wilson the "Energizer" after he helped Rice stay alive in the Catholic League Central Division boys soccer race with the winning : goal in Tuesday's 3-2 comeback. victory over host Redford Catholic · Central.

Rice lost its first Central Divi--alon game last Friday to Warren DeLaSaile, 1-0 on a penalty kick, And another loss to a title contender would have been devastating. The Warriors, 4-1-2 overall, won the Catholic League playoffs. last year, but have yet to win a Central Division title since coach Jay Louis-Prescott took over in-1989.

33 Junior Mike Koval was the (winning goalkeeper.

This was a very important win for us, we didn't want a tie, we -wanted to come away with a victory," Louis-Prescott said. "I was . impressed with the way we played in the second half. We had our minds made up we were going to Boore."

After a 1-1 halftime tie, CC's Dan Mulvihlll timed a crossing SOCCER pass from teammate Tony Moucoulis perfectly and scored with 15:55 remaining to put the Shamrocks ahead 2-1.

But Rice scored twice on scrambles in front of the net within a two-minute span to overtake the Shamrocks.

Senior forward Chris Wilk tied the score at 2-2, kicking a loose ball past CC senior goalkeeper Travis Miller with about 13:00 remaining. The goal followed a corner kick, which wasn't cleared in front of the CC net.

The Warriors broke the tie after bringing Wilson up from near midfield for a re-set play. The initial shot didn't get through to Miller, but the Shamrocks failed to clear the rebound and Wilson was there for the score with about 11:00 remaining.

CC coach Phil LaJoy said the Shamrocks may have paid the price for trying to protect the lead.

"We tried to be sure, safe, and we got caught," he said. "Rice is a quick team, give them credit for their effort. We made mistakes; they were able to capitalize and score.

The late rally was especially surprising since the Shamrocks had three shutouts in their first four games - all victories.

What bothered Ladoy and assistant Kevin Tuite the most was the Shamrocks could have avoided both late goals if any of their defenders had won 50-50 halls in the box.

"We were just a step off today," CC senior defender Brian Nemes said. "We should have had a head on those. Nothing should land within the box."

The Warriors took the first lead of the game, 1-0, on a goal from Guest assisted by senior defender Pete Kepic midway through the first half. CC forged a 1-1 tie when Moucoulis converted a pass from senior Tom Derhake and scored only 10 seconds before halftime.

Lady Ocelots' coach changes strategy for 2-1 win

Nothing inflexible about Schoolcraft women's soccer coach Nikki Johnson. If one tactic doesn't work, she'll try another.

"Sitting on some injuries, she decided to play a strictly defensive game Saturday against Merefilid of St. Louis at the College of DuPage (Ill.) It didn't work, as Meremac took a 2-1 decision.

OK, Johnson decided Sunday, let's switch gears for Florissant Valley of St. Louis. Bingo — a 2-1 victory.

"I felt it would be hard for the players to get back and go forward the whole game because of their injuries," Johnson said of her first-game strategy, a 3-5-2 alignment designed to shorten the field COLLEGES for her injury-plagued squad. Schoolcraft's chances were few but one turned into a goal when Holly Kimble got a cross off and Amy Marcoe put it in. Meremac scored on a breakaway and a rebound to take a 2-0 lead.

"After realizing that all our losses were by one goal (DuPage, 3-2, Monroe, 1-0, and Meremac, 2-1), I decided to take the totally opposite approach," Johnson said.

So despite pulled quads to Susan O'Neill, Misty Heath, Melissa Crain and Stepanie Surma plus ankle injuries to Stacy Miller, Erin Stacherski and Marcol, Johnson junked her defensive orientation.

She decided to shadow Flo's main threat, Danielle Wade, with Miller. Johnson also moved Kimble to outside midfielder so she could get the ball wide to Stacherski so she could feed Kimble and Heath.

"She did exactly that and we got the offensive attack we wanted," Johnson said.

Sure did. Kimble, assisted by Marcoe, scored first and then Crain, assisted by Staci Muysenburg, added one to give Schoolcraft a 2-0 halftime lead that proved just enough to get Johnson's team back on the winning track.

MADONNA (MEN) 4, SPRING ARBOR 3: Freshman Scott Emert (Walled Lake Central) tallied the game-winning goal from Charlie Bell, three minutes into the second overtime, giving Madonna University (2-2-1 overall) an NAIA victory Monday over the Cougars in a match at Schoolcraft College.

Spring Arbor forced overtime with two minutes to play in regulation. Central Michigan transfer Jason Stemplen tallied a first-half goal as Madonna and the Cougars were deadlocked Emert added the second goal on a penalty kick while Bell, a native of Derry, Ireland, tallied the third. On Saturday, Madonna traveled to Olivet Nazarene (Ill.) and suffered a 2-0 setback. Both goals came on corner Successful applicants for Mich. lgan's September elk hunts have been notified. Of the 23,150 applications, 165 were selected through a lottery style drawing to participate in one of the two September hunts. Sixty two hunters received a hunter's choice permit, which entitles the holder to shoot either an antiered or an antierless elk. The remaining 103 hunters must take an antierless elk.

Steven Hughes of Westland and Guy Mykolaitis of Farmington Hills hit the jackpot for the first hunt, which runs Sept. 12-17, as each hunter received a hunter's choice permit. Robert Gowing of Commerce and James Silva of Garden City received permits to take antierless elk. In the drawing for the second hunt, which runs Sept. 19-24, Birmingham's Thomas Hocking and Farmington Hills' Christopher Julyezan received hunter's choice permits.

Unsuccessful applicants from the drawing for the September hunts are automatically entered into the drawing for the upcoming December hunt. Corection

Last week I sent out a call from the Fishing Buddy's Fishing Club, which is looking for members. Unfortunately, I gave the incorrect number to contact Harold Leider for information about the club. The correct number to call is (810) 656-0556.

Leider is interested in hooking up with other anglers in the northern Oakland County area.

Hunters and anglers are urged to report their success. Questions and comments are also encouraged. Send information to Outdoors, 805 E. Maple, Birmingham, MI 48009. Fax information to (810) 644-1314 or call Bill Parker evenings at (810) 901-2573.

Open houses excite some agents. Others tolerate them Still others don't want to bother.

Sellers typically love open houses because they figure anything to generate traffic and potential sales is a good deal. Buyers, especially first-timers and those who have lived in the same place for several years but now contemplate a move, can use open houses as educational tools to gauge the mar-

A. Space limitations would preclude me from comprehensively answering your question. However, there are certain clauses that I find more frequantly included within building contracts for new construction which may be disadvantageous to the pur-

One particular clause requires binding arbitration of any dispute regarding the terms and conditions of the purchase agreement or performance by the builder. While that may ostensively seem to be beneficial to the purchaser, most builders would normally prefer to have a panel of arbitrators deciding their case rather than a jury, which would minimise the leverage that a purchaser then has in trying to resolve a dispute Secondly, I frequently find that purchase agree ments and building contracts make the building offi

Again, while the builder may prefer to have the building inspector make that determination, the building inspector may be applying standards of workmanship and/or code requirements that are minimal in nature and are not reflective of the standard of the industry and/or the expectations of the purchaser based upon the representations made by the builder. A purchaser should not be limited to the opinion of the township building inspector except to the extent that it is necessary to obtain compliance with the code requirements from the city and ultimately a certificate of occupancy permit.

These are two areas where I find that purchasers are put to a diandvantage when they are compelled to sign a huilding contract. Again, these fasues can be resolved prior to the building contract being signed and underscore the need for the purchaser to retain the advice and counsel of a knowledgeable real estate attorney to assist in the negotiation of the building contract.

Electricity takes homeowner into convenient 21st century

Electricity. It accounts for almost four out of every 10 new patents. It boosts our economy more than any other single commodity. During the next five years, new electric appliances will give home owners greater choices than ever-for comfort, convenience, safety and environmental protection, according to the Edison Electric Institute and the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association, representing America's electric

Let's take a look at just a few of the innovative, electric appliances that are becoming available:

Horizontal Axis Washer

This washer cleans clothes by tumbling them, just like your dryer. But the wash tub lies on its side. This way, the machine can clean with up to 66 percent less water. Since less kitchen.

water is needed, less energy is needed to heat it. It also uses about one fourth of the detergent that a standard washer needs. And, it's faster spin speeds mean less drying time.

Microwave Clothes Dryer

The speed of microwave cooking comes to your laundry room. The microwave targets just the water molecules within the fabric, removing moisture faster, more gently, and at a cooler temperature-lessening the chance of shrinkage.

Induction Cooktop

The 21st century way to cook. It uses up to 65% less energy than other cooktops, and offers precise control. It. enables the pan to become the heat source, not the cooktop. It's safer, too, with instant on and off features. Save money on energy, and enjoy a cooler Electric Fireplace

Do what the builder didn't install this fireplace virtually anywhere in your house. It provides cozy warmth without a chimney or vent. And, it's non-polluting.

Super Efficient Refrigerator

Whirlpool's new refrigerator uses up to half the energy of today's models. A computer chip tells it when to defrost. And, it's environmentally friendly. You'll save on your electric bill, whilehelping the environment.

Electric Barbecue Grill

These amokeless grills use no more energy than a hair dryer. They're insulated for energy efficiency and heat retention, sealing in flavor and moisture for terrific taste. And, they emit fewer air pollutants.

Cordless, Electric

Now you can have all the benefits of a cordless, electric lawn mower in a ride-on
