Hit-run replayed in court

Two witnesses say they saw the body of a Hines Park jogger fly into the air after being hit by a car in Hines Park. One of them trailed a car that left the scene, and the other went for help, but the jogger dled.

A Livonia man testified Thursday that he was driving behind Paul Ray mond Sadler's car when it veered off of Hines Drive in killed jogger Caryn Westland and Terese Casaz.

Joseph LaBelle, 76, said he had taken his two grandchildren to feed the wild geese in Hines Park when he saw the car, a white Pontiac Grand Am, strike Casaz, 24.

'All at once in front of me, I saw the white car hit this girl, and her body flew up in the air," LaBelle said during Sadler's preliminary hearing in Westland 18th District Court.

LaBelle said the body shattered the car's windshield and then bounced off of the top of the vehicle before landing on the ground. He said the driver didn't stop during the 7 p.m. Sept. 13'

"He swerved to get back on the main road. I thought sure he was going to lose control of the car," La Belle testified.

LaBelle followed Sadler to his Garden City residence, in the 32100 block of Maplewood, and had his granddaughter jot down the address, he Raid. En route, he said, Sadler's car grazed a stop sign on Craig Street.

"I followed the car, and I seen the garage door open," he said.

LaBelle then drove back to Hines. Drive and gave the address to a police officer who had arrived in the park. His efforts led police to Sadler, who has said he didn't realize he hit any-

Ex-Westland cop cleared of assault, vandalism charges

By LEANNE ROGERS STAPP WRITER

A retired Westland police officer has been cleared on felonious assault and vandalism charges following a bench trial in Detroit Recorder's Court.

Dalo Reynolds, 59, was charged in the Jane 2, 1994, incident at his son's home on Maplewood in Garden City. The complainant was Jacqueline. since the home and Reynolds, former wife of the younger Reynolds.

The charges were dismissed after Jacqueline Reynolds repeatedly exercised her Fifth Amendment rights and refused to answer questions about prior violent incidents involving former husband Tom.

The June 2 incident began when Dale Reynolds stopped at his son's home where Tom Reynolds was working on his former wife's car. Tho two men spoke briefly before Dale Reynolds left.

Tom Reynolds testified that he called his father, who hadn't returned home yet. When Dale Reynolds returned the call, Jacqueline answered and exchanged some words with the elder man.

Are you a Compulsive Overeater?

1. Do you eat when you're not hungry?

2. Do you go on eating binges for no apparent reason?

3. Do you have feelings of guilt and remorse after overeating?

4. Do you give too much time and thought to food?

5. Is your weight affecting the way you live your life? 6. Do you use fasting, strenuous exercise, vomiting or laxatives to control your weight? []

7. Have you tried to diet for a week (or longer), only to fall short of your goal?

If you answer "yes" to three or more of these questions, you may be a compulsive overeater. You are not alone. Millions of Americans suffer from this disease. Compulsive overeating is a painful, relentless illness that interferes with every aspect of life. It is a disease that gets progressively worse if left untreated. Weight gain often accompanies this illness. But not always. Many compulsive overeaters maintain normal body weight by strict diets, fasting, strenuous exercise, vomiting, or excessive laxative use. These methods are ineffective and medically dangerous. Weight is not the problem, and dieting is not the solution. The problem is the disease of compulsive overeating, and the solution is a program of treatment and recovery.

The Eating Disorders Clinic (EDC) of St. Mary Hospital offers an outpatient treatment program that leads to lasting recovery. Our approach is comprehensive. We help our patients make lifestyle changes than give them renewed confidence in themselves and more control over their lives. Gradually, the chronic binge/diet cycle is replaced by a healthy, more satisfying, and more productive way of life. With food in its proper place, weight normalizes.

At EDC, we work as a team -- psychologist, psychiatrist, physician, nutritionist, and specially trained therapists -- to diagnose and treat eating disorders. This experienced staff provides treatment with understanding and sensitivity.

If compulsive overeating is a problem for you, or someone you love, take the first step toward recovery. Call us today at (313) 591-2936, WE CAN HELP.

Teachers support Timmons' quest for smaller class size

BY MARIE CHESTNEY STATT WRITER

In June, Livonia Public Schools trustee Ken Timmons was the only member of the Board of Education to vote against the district's $125 million budget for 1995-96. He did so, he said, because the new budget did not cut class size in grades one through three, in an area of the school district where test scores tend to be lower and where extra teaching help is needed.

Days later, in a letter signed by teachers at Johnson Elementary School. Timmons found out just how vital smaller classes are to the teachers at this school at 36651 Ann Arbor Trail, east of Newburgh.

Timmons read the letter at the end of the school board meeting Monday, Sept. 18.

In the letter, signed by one teacher with additional signatures attached to a separate page, the teachers applauded Timmons for his stand, and asked that he continue his mission to get class size cut in the lower elementary grades.

"As educators we live with the impact of large class sizes every day," wrote Johnson teacher Karen Zyczynski. "As a kindergarten teacher with near-maximum class sizes this year, I can assure you that my program was somewhat different this year than in the years when I had 22 or 23 students in my classes. It takes longer to get around to every student, the program has to be restructured, and not as much material is covered."

Johnson teachers feel so strongly about this, Zyczynski wrote, that they have asked that any new teacher assigned to Johnson be sent to the lower grades to reduce

They support lowering our first grades to 20 students in an effort to support at-risk children in the lower grades," Zyczynski wrote, "The feeling being, if we can solve more problems when children are in the early grades, there will be fewer problems later

At Monday's meeting, after reading Zyczynski's letter, Timmons reiterated what he said in June when he voted "no" on approving the new budget.

"We need to do some soul searching on our priorities, on how we spend our money," said Timmons, a retired Livonia high school teacher. "Out of a $125 million budget, we could at least start with one class. Our class size numbers are not appropriate for early elementary grades. We're making a big mistake in how we spend our money."

Timmons said Tuesday that he felt "all alone" in a mission that has received widespread support among educators.

"Kent Gage should be fighting this battle," Timmons said of the district's director of elementary education.

During last year's budget debate, Gage supplied Superintendent Ken Watson and the board's finance committee with information on reducing class size, including reports on the district's average class size, a study done in Tennessee on lower class sizes, and the cost to reduce size in the first grade.

"I was somewhat surprised there was no comment or discussion and no proposal from any board member regarding any of the memos after (Randy) Liepa reviewed each for the committee on May 22," Gage said. "Subsequent comments at the June 5 (budget) meeting of the board were therefore unexpected." Liepa is the district's business manager.

Administrators called the 1995-96 budget "conservative." The only new program it contains is a $200,000 pilot program to restructure the four middle schools.

In four separate memos to school officials, Gage explored reducing class size in the lower elementary grades.

On Sept. 15, 1994, Gage told Watson that if the district were to adhere to criteria outlined in the Michigan Department of Education's Early Childhood Standards of Quality, more staff would be needed.

Currently, Livonia's kindergarten classes are capped at 28 students by practice and 30 by contract, he said. First- and secondgrade classes are contractually limited to 32 students, he said.

To meet state standards of capping kindergarten and first grade at 20 students to one teacher and one paraprofessional, Gage said the district would need to hire:

■ 24.5 teachers at an estimated cost of $1.3 million per year (7.5 kindergarten, 12 first-grade, and five second grade teachers).

■ 120 early childhood paraprofes-aionala at $2.1 million per year.

Gage pegged the total cost to meet the standards at $3,5 million, based on 1994-95 teacher salaries, plus another $100,000 in one-time equipment and furniture purchases.

On Sept. 20, Gage outlined to Watson the yearly cost Livonia would face - $5.6 million - if the district launched a student/ teacher ratio matching a study. done in Tennessee.

The long-term study done at Tennessee State University, showed that cutting K-3 classes statewide to an average of 15:1 had "measurable positive effects," especially on students from lower socioeconomic backgrounds.

To duplicate the study, Livonia would need an extra 128 early grade teachers at an estimated annual cost of $6.3 million, Gage ways, he said. Doing away with 25 early childhood paraprofessionals would save $449,850. And spending all Chapter I monies here would cut the cost another $297,480.

Gage told Watson that, as an alternative, the Tennessee plan could be launched only in the district's lower socioeconomic schools.

"However, such a model would require a considerable shift of philosophy for some members of our staff, board, and community who have strongly argued that isaues of equity require an evenhanded approach to all buildings," Gage said.

On Jan. 18, 1995, Gage responded to a request by trustee Suzanne Clulow to calculate the cost to reduce first-grade class size to a maximum of 25 students. He estimated the cost at $628,000. with the hirlng of 10.5 more teachers.

The districtwide class size average for first grade is now 25.09,

But that cost could be cut two with a range of 20 to 31, Gage

The new average under the above staffing would be 20.08. with a range of 17 to 25 students. Gage said.

On May 10, in response to a request by the board's finance committee, Gage estimated at $1.2 million the cost to lower class size to an 18:1 ratio in grades K-3 in six schools with low MEAP scores.

In their letter to Timmons. Johnson teachers said they realize that Livonia's budget is limited, that spending more money op one program means taking it from an-

In June, when he voted against the budget, Timmons said the costs of a lower class size could be paid for through administrative cuts.

"I feel we should not be hiring administrators at a time when we should have been lowering class sizes in grades one through three in the southeast quadrant" of the district, Timmons said.

School enrollment is down

Student enrollment continuesto decline in the Wayne-Westland school district.

The district's fourth Friday count of 14,709 pupils on Sept. 15 marked a 185-student drop in enrollment from the previous year, said Terry Wood, the district's community relations coordinator.

The student count reflected a tally of pupils from the district's 24 schools. It encompassed students in kindergarten through 12th grade, including special education pupils.

The latest enrollment decline didn't catch school officials by surprise.

We projected we were going to lose some kids," said Patricia Brand, assistant superintendent for business.

The fourth Priday count of 14,709 pupils reflects a continuing decline in enrollment, which was as high as 23,916 in the 1971-72 school year, Wood said.

'Over the past several years, Wayne-Westland has been watching the enrollment closely in order to anticipate the challenges we will face with fewer students, higher costs and continuous change in legislation," Wood said.

"By following the demographics closely, we will be able to anticipate the needs of our school/student community," she added. "It is anticipated that in future years enrollments will steadily decline throughout the area, and Wayne-Westland will monitor these changes so that we may forestall any coming uncertainties.'

who was training for the Detroit Free Press International Marathon.

The outpouring of people has been tremendous," Mary Casaz, the victim's mother, said outside of the courtroom, her voice trembling

During the hearing, Detective William Patton of the Wayne County Sheriff's Department recapped a bizarre statement made by Sadler.

Sadler told Patton that he had been to Wonderland Mall and then Crestwood Lounge on the evening Casaz was killed. Sadler reported having a couple of drinks and said he also drank a glass of clear liquid that a waitress put on bis table.

Sadler said he believed the liquid to be water, but realized after drinking it that it wasn't, Patton said, Later driving through Hines Park, Sadler started thinking about what would happen to a driver who suffered a coughing and sneezing attack while on the road, Patton testified.

Sadler told Patton that his thoughts suddenly became reality as he suffered such an attack, Patton said.

Sadler also said in his statement that something hit his car, and he believed an object had been thrown at it, Patton said. Thinking he was being attacked, Sadler panicked and fled the scene, according to the statement.

LaBelle, who followed Sadler home, said he happened to be behind Sadler's eastbound car on Hines Drive after pulling off of the road to let three vehicles pass him. He said he was about 40 feet behind Sadler.

As he followed Sadler, the defendant "seemed like he was erratic," LaBelle said.

Saw woman in air

Another witness, Gary Martin of Redford, was further behind Sadler but gave an account similar to LaBelle's.

Martin testified that he saw a Pontiac Grand Am veer off of the road, "and I just seen a young lady fly up in the air."

"It looked like the driver lost control of the car," Martin said, adding later that "the whole car was over, off on the shoulder."

Martin testified that a woman came to the victim's assistance, so he left to seek help.

Sadler's wife was in court Thursday, but she declined to speak with reporters afterward. The victim's father, Victor

Casaz, said he was unable to talk about the tragedy. Caryn Casaz, a middle child with a brother and a sister, had been staying with sister Christine in Westland while looking for a house, her mother said. The victim was a Ford Motor Co. design engineer, a musician who played guitar and violin, an artist, and an athlete.

'She had been running since she was 10 years old," Mary Casaz said.

Tax suits, protests are alive and kicking

BYTIM RICHARD STAFF WRITER

Tax protesters are fighting Wayne County's 911-Emergency service, Oakland Community College, suburban buses, overall state spending and a new Tiger Stadium.

Here is your guide to who's suing whom, who's threatening and who's petitioning in Wayne and Oakland counties:

911-E in Wayne

Rose Bogaert of the Wayne County Taxpayers' Association has filed suit in Wayne Circuit Court to block collection of 4 percent tax on telephones for 911-Emergency service.

Her suit was filed by Ron Chapman, a Troy attorney and former Dearborn school board member. It contends the tax was passed without a vote of the people as required in the Headlee Tax Limitation Amendment (Art. 1X Sec. 31) to the Michigan Constitution. The county board imposed the tax in 1987, nine years after voters approved the Headlee Amendment.

Chapman's brief, filed Sept. 19, says the revenue is a tax and not a fee because it's paid by everyone with a telephone while the service is used only by those needing emergency ambulance, fire or police service.

"They're very much concerned about this," Bogaert said Tuesday at a joint meeting in Pontiac of Michigan Taxpayers United and the Oakland Taxpayers League, "There's never been an accounting of this 911 service. The county has never done one. Ameritech (telephone company) has refused.

"The towers used for 911 will also service garbage trucks and recreation (department) vehicles. They (governmental agencies) won't pay," added Bogaert, a Dearborn Heights resident and Crestwood school board member. Chapman's suit also names Ameritech as a defendant, asking the court to enjoin the telephone company's collection of the county tax.

OCC, SMART

Voters in June approved 0.8 mill for Oakland Community College, lying mostly in Oakland County, and a fraction of a mill in May and June for SMART, the suburban bus service in suburban Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties.

Bill McMaster, Michigan Taxpayers United chair ("volunteer"), told a group of 40 that "we have found a way" to rescind both property tax increases.

The tool: a recall. "There are recalls of public officials. Well, we can recall a tax increase," said McMaster, pointing to the general election of 1996 as a target date.

Petitioning for a tax recall will be more complex with the SMART proposal because it was levied in only 20 of Oakland's 40plus communities.

器 Rose Bogaert of the Wayne County Taxpayers' Association has filed suit in Wayne Circuit Court to block collection of 4 percent tax on telephones for 911-emergency service.

State spending

McMaster is working with Detroit attorney Peter Macuga II on a suit that says Gov. John Engler and the Legislature are levying taxes beyond the income limits allowed in the Headlee amendment (Art. IX Sec. 26-27).

"Sue the bastards!" is how McMaster headlined his announcement of the meeting. He argues that total state revenues of $26.4 billion are 13 percent higher than in March 1994, when voters. approved the Proposal A school funding plan, and that the increase is "four times the rate of inflation."

The Headlee Amendment fixes revenues at a percentage of total personal income of Michigan residents. "These weasels have not put in certain things," said McMaster, citing University of Michigan football revenues, "We're going to hang them on their own audit."

U-M handles about $2 billion a year, according to the Michigan Manual. On the revenue side. "auxiliary enterprises," which appears to include athletics, brings in nearly $120 million, and its hospitals' revenues aro $822 mil-

Macuga is the attorney who won a 7-0 State Supreme Court decision overturning Wayne County's surtax on real estate property transfers. People who sold their homes since 1990 are entitled, under the class action suit, to recover the overpayment, amounting to $60 on a $150,000

Macuga told the taxpayers group the research will take some months. McMaster is a plaintiff, and Macuga said he wants up to 15 individual co-plaintiffs. "In this scenario, we want government looking at individual taxpayers," Macuga said.

The attorney said he expects state government to use "the Thieves' Defense: 'Your honor, you can't make us pay it back we already spent it."

Contact: Bill McMaster, (810) 443-5533.

Meanwhile in Lansing, state Sen. Gary Peters, D-Bloomfield Township, released his letter to state Treasurer Douglas Roberts saying "state revenues (are) over the constitutionally established

Headlee limit by $220 million. As you know, this will exceed the Headlee one percent trigger level by $42 million and force the Legislature to take action to refund the excess funds.'

Peters, a member of the Senate's tax-writing Finance Committee, referred to Art. IX Sec. 26 which says the state must refund, pro rate, the personal income tax and single business tax when revenues exceed the constitutional Peters asked Roberts, the Senate Fiscal Agency and House Fiscal Agency to convene promptly to propose a remedy.

No to stadium

Sen. George Z. Hart. D-Dearborn, blistered the Sept. 20 decision by Gov. John Engler and the Michigan Stragegic Fund board to put up $55 million in land acquisition and infrastructure for a new Detroit Tigers baseball stadium in downtown Detroit.

"We are blowing all of our economic development money for more than one year on this one project," Hart said in a news release in Lansing. Hart, whose district includes Garden City, said the fund has put up only $30 million for everything else in the Hart said he and several unnamed lawmakers are considering both legal and legislative action.

Dad wants S'craft to admit LEARN TO READ THE BIBLE EFFECTIVELY his 10-year-old daughter filed an age discrimination comwith the Michigan Civil Rights Commission after his 10-year-old to the school, Warren Schroeder wanted to place lile daughter Stacey, a sixth-grader at Our Lady of Sorrows, in Schoolcraft's weekend college program specifically for a Saturday morning pre-algebra course which started this month.

Stacey took a remedial math course in Farmington Public Schools' high school summer program and earned a B grade, according to her father. She has taken Saturday enrichment programs: through Schoolcraft's program for talented and gifted children

Schroeder. "That's expensive and far away. Schooleraft is in our plaint against Schoolcraft College back yard and Stacey is already comfortable there." Schroeder's admissions applidaughter was refused admission cation was returned by John Tomey, dean of student services, who stated that "Stacey is more than welcome to continue in the TAG program, but as a 10-year-old, she would not be admissible under our guidelines."

Conway Jeffress, vice president of instruction and student services at Schoolcraft, said that had Schroeder's request for his daughter to take the pre-algebra course been simply for enrichment, "Then as a single course, this would be a different issue and we could have talked about it."

On the application form, Schroeder checked the box indicating the primary educational goal in attending Schoolcraft is to take clusses to earn a certificate or associate degree.

"She is not a high school graduate, doesn't have a general equivalency diploma, was not recommended by a high school principal, has no ACT or SAT college test results and is not eligible for admission," said Jeffress.

In a letter to Schroeder, Jeffress suggested that Stacey should be in classes with people her own age and of her own ability.

"This will allow her to acquire both knowledge and social maturity at a rate consistent with her ability to handle it," he wrote.

Schroeder has cited age discrimination statutes in his complaint before the civil rights commission. As compensation, he is seeking that Schoolcraft admit Stacey.

AN EXCITING 6 WEEK SEMINAR

The Quality Inn 40455 E. Ann Arbor Road Plymouth (W. of I-275) Across from Don Massey Cadillac October 10- November 21st

Attend this seminar and learn to read the Bible effectively!

If you find reading the Bible difficult or frustrating at times, then this seminar is for you. Six concise and informative sessions are delivered in a friendly, comfortable environment. They are aimed at equipping you with the skills and determination to understand scriptural doctrines for yourself and benefit from a new appreciation of the Bible. Whether you are familiar with the Bible or not, you will walk away with loads of information and new energy to begin reading more effectively.

Here's what you will learn...

- Who wrote the Bible where did it come from?
- How to use cross references and a center margin.
- How to learn more in less time with effective study tools.
- How to get past the sometimes difficult language used in the Bible.
- An overview of each book of the Bible in a concise easy-to-understand manner.
- History and chronology (the order of events) in the Bible.
- How to read carefully (e.g. Adam and Eve didn't eat an apple).
- Prove for yourself the Bible is not a work of fiction.
- How science is reconciled with the scriptures.
- Why quoting a single scripture is dangerous (how to keep passages in context).
- Who are the Jews? Why are they so important in the Bible?
- Why parts of the Bible are so difficult to understand and how they can be simplified.
- How did so many interpretations of the Bible develop?
- . When and how to understand the book of Revelation.
- Why does God allow so much suffering and wickedness?
- What are the differences between Bible versions?
- Why is there an Old Testament and New Testament?
- How to use a concordance and a lexicon.

Q's & A's

Q. What if everyone there knows more than I do?

A. The classes are paced in such a way to make everyone feel comfortable. No one is ever put "on the spot."

Q. Why are you doing this?

A. The Bible is scarcely read in our fast-paced society. Our faith and belief in God propels us to expound His message and Truth. We believe the Bible and what it teaches is right and good in directing our lives and families.

Q. Will I be asked to be saved" or "join" the Christadelphians at the end of the seminars?

A. No! Our hope is that the classes will encourage you to draw your own conclusions about God and His plan. Our goal is to equip you with the necessary tools to make your own decisions about what you have learned.

Q. Who are the Christadelphians?

A. The name implies "Brethren in Christ." Christadelphians are found in countries all over the world and are bound together by a common faith in God's plan of salvation as revealed throughout the Bible. We do not believe that any of our members have received any special revelations directly from God and our faith rests squarely and soley on the Bible as the inspired word of God.

EXTRAVAGANZA

t was a gustronomic feast for the 700 guests who attended Schoolcraft College's fourth annual culinary extravaganza last Sunday afternoon in the college's Waterman Center.

The fund-raiser for scholarships raised over $60,000 and was the most successful effort to date.

Detroit Edison's chairman and chief executive officer John Labbia and Detroit's Joe Mucr served as the event's honorary chairs.

More than 60 of the finest restaurants and beyerage corporations in the Detroit area offered samples to taste or drink. An expanded wine auction was held. Entertainment was provided:

Northville resident and Livenia businessman Larry Bennett bid $2,000 to secure the winning bid for a dinner to be prepared by restaurateur Joe Muer.

Flying away with the grand prize will be Joan Noricks of Canton Township, who won two roundtrip tickets on Northwest Airlines to anywhere in the continental United States.

Joe Boros of Allen Park won roundtrip airfare to Chicago and accommodations in the newly restored Whitehall Hotel. Dorothy and Alva Gay of Northville won season tickets to the Fisher Theatre. Jeanne Hildebrandt of Livonia walked away with a gold necklace from Orin Jewelers.

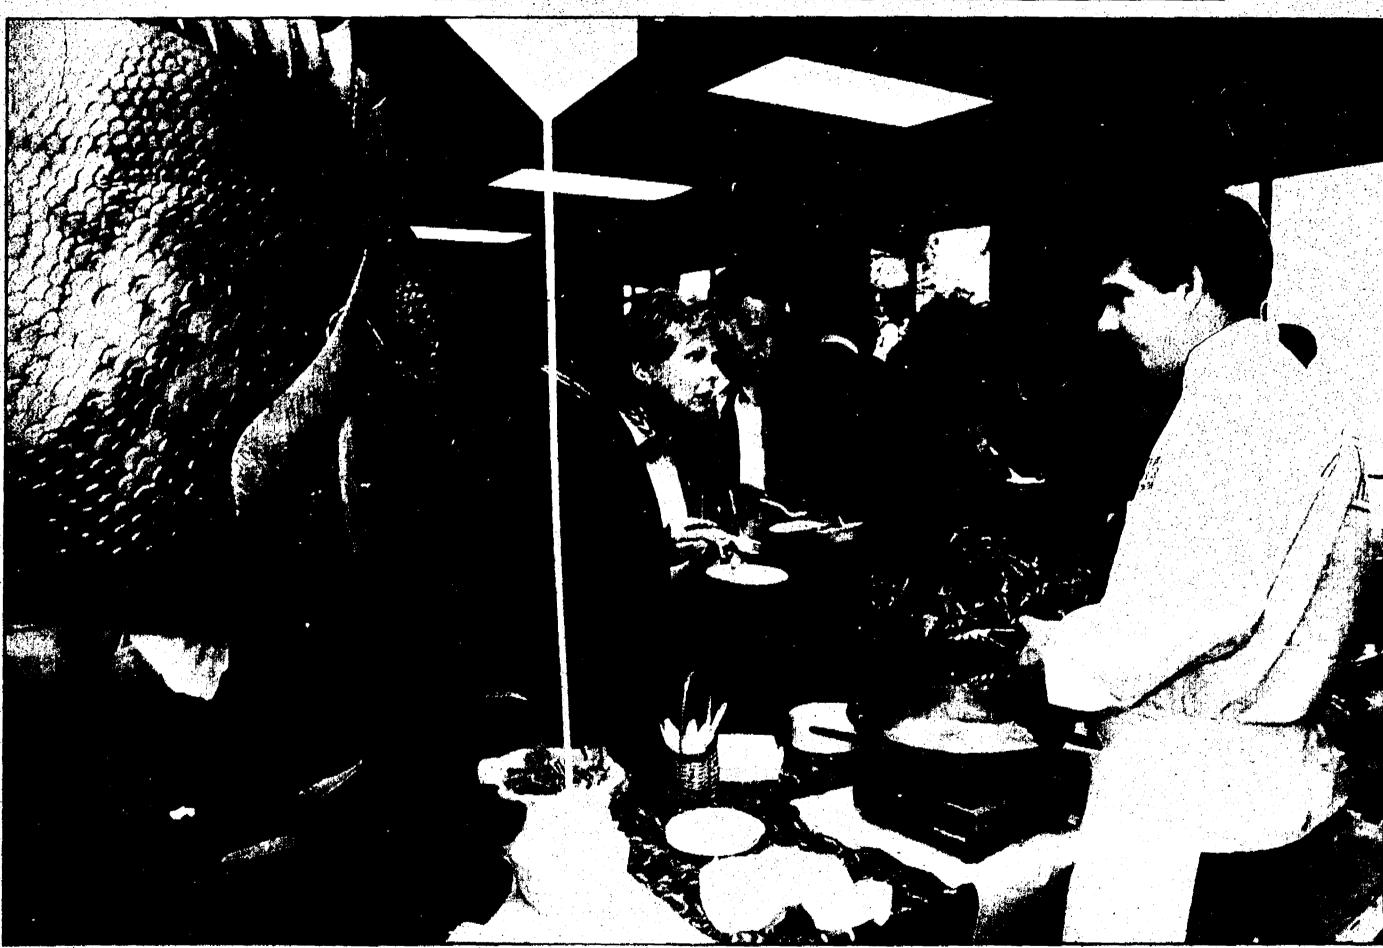

Soft sided leather luggage was won by Kurt Kitchell of Northville. Pat Bettis of Westland won dinner for two at Trea Vite. Beverly Farley of Farmington Hills won a coffee basket from the Beanery.

"We are so thankful to all of our wonderful sponsors who got restaurant personnel to come out on a Sunday," said Saundra "Sam" Florek, a Schoolcraft spokeswoman.

"We are so appreciative of their wonderful generosity."

CHEF LARRY JANES

Chicken soup, cookies are comforts of fall all is one of my favorite seasons. I love watching leaves slowly change from green to yellow, orange and red. Apples are ripe for picking, and cider is flowing at local mills. As nights get colder we yearn for comfort foods chicken soup and homemade cookies.

Speaking of soup, Donna Cash of Plymouth recently enjoyed a bowl of Greek Chicken and Rice Soup with Lemon at a local restaurant and wanted the recipe.

Well Donna, it doesn't get any easier than this and I hope you enjoy the results!

AVGOLEMONO SOUP

2 quarts strong chicken stock or broth 1/2 cup raw short grained rice 4 eggs

Juice of 2 large lemons (about 1/2 cup) Bring the stock to a boil and add the rice. Cook, uncovered, until the rice is tender, about 20 minutes. Remove the stock from the heat.

Beat eggs with a beater until they are light and frothy, about 1 minute. Slowly beat in the lemon juice. Slowly beat in 2 cups of the warm soup, beating constantly until well blended.

Add the egg-lemon-soup mixture to the remaining soup, beating constantly. Heat but do not boil. Serve immediately. Serves 6-8

Chef's secret: we made this at the Janes Gang dinner table and added some chopped chicken meat to the soup and it was great!

• Joanie Kimball of Birmingham is hoping to find the reason why all of her cookies turn out crispy and hard. Joanie says she'd treasure the secret for soft, chewy cookies.

Well Joanie, to answer that question, I called momma, and checked with the folks at Pillsbury who wrote "The Complete Book of Baking," (copyright 1993, Viking Books, $25)

The word from the pros is that the softest cookies are made with a 60-40 blend of solid vegetable shortening (i.e. Crisco) and butter or margarine. Make sure the fats are "creamed" sufficiently with the sugars so the final product is

The pros also recommend not using dark cookie sheets. They prefer "air cushioned" baking pans covered with a sheet of baking parchment for best results. Check your oven temperature, and make sure the racks are in the center of the oven for optimum results. Good luck!

· Mary Fieber called with a question that gets repeated monthly. She wants to know the recommended apple sauce substitute for oil in a recipe. Anytime you see a recipe that calls for oil and is baked, you can easily substitute half the oil with real applesauce. For an even better taste, try a thicker fruit puree. The 50-50 ratio remains the same.

• Rosalie Sea of Redford wanted a recipe for Key Lime Cake. Well, since Aunt Edna and Uncle Orin used to have a trailer in Marathon, fust north of Key West, momma found this easyto-make tea cake that's just perfect for an afternoon repast.

KEY LIME CAKE

1/2 pound butter (2 sticks)

3 cups granulated sugar 5 egg yolks, boaten

4 cups all purpose flour

The grated rind and juice of 2 key ilmes, (about 1/3 cup of time juice and 1 tablespoon grated

Begg whites, stiffly beaten Confectioners' sugar

Prehent the oven to 325 degrees F. Cream the butter, adding the granulated sugar gradually, funtil light and fluffy, Add the remaining ingredients except the egg whites and confectioners' Enugar and mix until well blended.

Gently fold in the beaten egg whites. Divide the hatter between 2 loaf pans (9 by 5 by 3 inch). Bake for 1 hour at 325 degrees F. Remove from the oven and cool. Sprinkle with confectioners' sugar, Heat when served with ice cream, Makes 2 loof caken.

GARDENERS CULTIVATE COMMUNITY

Rooted: John Webb supervises the Southfield Community Gardens on the former Mary Thompson farm. Some gardeners have used the same plot for 20 years or longer.

here's a common belief that modern society has "lost touch with its roots," and that cyberapace has replaced wide open space as our natural milieu.

But a look at the number of community gardens in the area proves that there are still a lot of people who could certainly afford to buy tomatoes and green beans growing vegetables for the opportunity to dig and weed and. water, and for the joy of sharing the experience with their neighbors. While some of the gardens limit access to senior citizens, most of them are inter-generational, with gardeners of all ages swapping hints and vying for the. earliest tomato. There are more people who "put foods by" i.e., can or freeze their harvests than you might think. And the folks in West Bloomfield, Troy, and Southfield donate their extra produce to those who are less fortunate.

"Our gardeners have a wonderful time," said Sue Wagner, of the Livonia Department of Parks and we have seniors and families with small children mingling and exchanging advice in the 250 plots. There are no fences, so its a very informal family atmosphere." The Livonia community gardens are southwest of the Greenmend historical buildings at the intersection of Eight Mile Road and Newburgh. ...

The Southfield community gardens are on the former Mary Thompson farm; Thompson willed the farm to the city of Southfield, to be used as gardens by senior citizens.

"There are just over 100 plots, and they're always fully used," said John Webb, who supervises the gardens on Evergreen, between 10 and 11 Mile Roads. "Some gardeners have been in the same plot for 20 years or longer."

Everybody agrees that the summer of 1995 pumpkins got rained out, too.

"Tomatoes were good, though; they like heat and water. I grew a white tomato this year - it's traditional red on the inside, but white on the outside. They're very striking when sliced on a plate."

Webb also grew a yellow pear-shaped tomato, sweet, beautiful, and a lovely dish when sliced and arranged alternately with red tomatoes

> "I grew a yellow beet, but I haven't tasted it yet," said Webb, "The top of these beets looks like grass, and when they first came up, I pulled them out. Luckily, when I realized they weren't grass, I had enough seeds left to re-plant."

The Southfield gardens are adding a drainage system as insurance against another wet summer. "The ground was just saturated, and the roots rotted," explains Webb. "The cantaloupes that survived had no flavor. It's the worst year we've ever had for cantaloupe," he says sadly.

"But," he adds, with the optimism that every gardener needs, "I planted sweet potatoes, which don't usually grow this far north. The rain and heat were good for their growth, so I guess it's not a total disaster." Webb used to can, but now he, like many of his fellow gardeners, gives his surplus to

One of Kline's savorites is Hawall, a tomato the size of a peathat grows in clusters, like grapes. It's very sweet, and one of the reasons Kline grows it is that people always ask him for the seeds.

Gloria Marshall of Canton wants to know how to roast red peppers. She has an abundance of them from her garden.

HOMEMADE ROASTED RED PEPPERS

6 red peppers, split, seeds and veins removed 14 cup olive oil

Place red peppers directly on a vegetable grill over hot coals or a preheated gas grill. Brush with olive oil.

If you don't have a grill, peppers can be placed on a baking sheet, brushed with oil and placed 4 inches from the broiler.

Cook until skin chars and turns black, about 8-10 minutes depending on how hot your grill or broiler is.

Remove from grill, rinse under cool water to remove blackened akin. Pat dry. Place in a bowl with just enough olive oil to cover. If desired, a small amount of garlic or onion can be added, but it is not necessary. Refrigerate until ready to use. Makes about 11/2 cups roasted red peppers.

Readers share stories about 'Unstrung Heroes'

BY KEELY WYGONIK STAPY WRITER

"Unstrung Heroes," opening Friday at metro Detroit movie theaters, is a bittersweet drama about a young boy bailled by the tragedies occurring in his home.

Steven Lidz (Nathan Watt) is 12 years old. Overwhelmed by his life with an ailing mother (Andie MacDowell) and an emotionally distant father (John Turturro), Steven runs off to live with his two uncles Danny (Michael Richards) and Arthur (Maury Chaykin). Steven finds solace in the idiosyncrasies of his uncles' strange and wonderful world. It is there that he begins the journey from boyhood innocence to a young man's understanding of life.

"Unstrung Heroes," directed by Diane Keaton from a screenplay by Richard LaGravenese, is based upon the book by Franz Lidz. It is rated PG.

We asked readers to tell us about a relative who had a positive influence on their lives. Those who wrote in received two of "Unstrung Heroes." Here are some of their stories.

"I had an aunt who was very overweight," wrote Ronda Lepetz of Southfield. "She decided to do something about it and she went on a low fat diet and exercise program. Before she started the diet, legend has it that she ate 11 tickets to see a preview screening. Sanders hot fudge sundaes in one sitting. This showed me you can work toward a goal and have fun, too." Harry D. Pevos of West Bloomfield has fond memories of his grandfather who came from Poland with little money and worked his way through law school teaching Hebrew. He graduated from Wayne State University Law School's first class. "He taught me you can be anything you want to be," wrote Pevos. "My grandfather was very health conscious when eating, years before it was fashionable. He did not want to put fatty salad dressings on his salads, so he would put ketchup on his salads. We used to laugh at him for doing this, but it was probably much healthier than using regular solad dressings,

My mom taught me to laugh at adversity," wrote Jennie Lenzi of Bloomfield Hills. "Once, she took a trip to Italy with my dad and aunt. While riding a train there, mom left her seat to use the hathroom. Before she had a chance to sit down, the train lurched and she fell backward into the commode. The fit was tighter than a cork in a bottle, She couldn't move. After a long wait, my aunt went to check on her. Well, the conductor had to unlock the door. There was mom with her knees up to her chin. And what did she do? Laugh!"

Students learn about achieving goals on soccer field

Soccer! The biggest game in the world finally comes to the smallest town in America, in Walt Disney Pictures' new live-action comedy "The Big Green" opening Friday, Sept. 29 at metro Detroit movie theaters.

In the heart of tiny Elma, Texas --- a one-horse town, minus the horse - lies The Big Green, once the site of local athletic triumphs. The field, like the town itself, has long gone to seed. And with nothing to do and nowhere to do it, the handful of kids in Eima's tworoom schoolhouse have just about given up on life before their lives have even begun.

All that changes with the arrivol of British school teacher Anna Montgomery (Olivia d'Abo). In a town that gives new meaning to the word "drab," Anna is an irresistible one-woman life force. Faced with a group of young students - and an entire town ranging from the outright hostile to the merely bored, Anna is determined to unlock their selfesteem. And she finds the key in soccer, her favorite game and, she assumes, everyone else's.

Unknowingly, there's a catch. The fumbling Elma kids wouldn't know the World Cup from a coffee cup. They need help. And it comes in the out-of-shape form of sheriff Tom Palmer (Steve Guttenberg), Elma's former football star whose waistline has become as overgrown as The Big Green itself. To get closer to Anna, Tom agrees to help train the team especially if it means beating his old nemesis, Jay Huffer (Jay O, Sanders), the ruthless coach of the big city Knights.

Optimistically naming themselves The Big Green and led by a newly discovered but mysteriously secretive talent in their midst, the team - and the town - soon learn that, win or lose, real goals can only be achieved when pride kicks in.

"The Big Green" is a Walt Disney Pictures presentation, in association with Caravan Pictures. It was written and directed by Holy Goldberg Sloan and produced by Roger Birnbaum. Buena Vista Pictures distributes.

Comfort quests inspire sleepwear designs each year

K. Let's get personal. What do you wear to bed? I know it's none of my business but I'm curious, well, nosy. I posed this question to several unsuspecting souls and warned them that I'd share their comments with you.

Said Jack Reinig of New Baltimore, 'I've slept in the nude all my life." Then he took that statement back, remembering that he was forced to wear shorts in boot camp.

His wife, Karen, wears flannel nightgowns all year round. She's always cold because Jack keeps the window open even when it's freezing outside.

Waiter Damlen Strong of Ferndale, sleeps in solid color flannel pajama bottoms and white Tshirts. "If there's a fire, I don't want to run out of the house in my underwear," he explained. Hope there's no fire at Jack's house!

Kelly Kurek models glamorous clothing during the day, but at night she opts for huge, baggy Tshirts. She has a collection of different logos, from Disney to corporate giveaways. Kelly's husband Don, a photographer, prefers Calvin Klein boxer briefs, the kind with the longer leg. The Shelby Township couple are into comfort, not frills.

Abbie Dawson of West Bloomfield, on the other hand, likes to "dress" for bed. She often buys lacy gowns and teddies from Victoria's Secret or silk pajamas that she shares with her husband. "I wear the top and he wears the bottom;" she says. "We share in the investment."

Old-fashioned flannel tompers with buttoned seat flaps are popular with the high-school set. My daughter Mary-Brennan, has a favorite blue plaid pair that she loves almost as much as her J. Crew flannel pi's.

Where to shop for cozy sleepwear? If you're looking for something special, Harp's Lingerie, 265 S. Woodward in Birmingham has a wonderful selection of glamour gowns, robes and lounging pajamas.

Lori Karbal's shop at 554 N. Woodward in Birmingham has a new collection of sleepwear, including flannel pajamas and nightshirts ($32-$35), unbleached cotton drawstring pajamas with tartan piping ($88), La Gionconda robes, and pi's of the softest finest flannel imaginable ($104), terrylined robes by Lucine Almas ($115) and cotton chemises with matching panties ($35).

. Por the guys (or gala), jersey loungewear ($24-$34), like grandpa's longiohns from J. Crew in the Somerset Collection, Troy. Or the two of you can share silk pajamas from Saks Fifth Avenue ($165) or pima cotton pj's also from Saks ($95).

DKNY offers an embroidered terry bathrobe ($300) and black cotton logo shorts (365) for stylish lounging around. And look to Neiman Marcus for his and her nightshirts by Joe Boxer ($34), holiday boxers from Joe Boxer featuring reindeer on motorcycles or happy faces wearing Santa hats ($12), matching teddy bear mother/daughter flannel sleep wear ($18, $38) and a luxurious cashinere and eilk lounging ensemble ($710).

Night-night, Sloop tight. And thanks for sharing, your bedroom recruts.

Curtis Hamilton of Novi hopes the public's curiousity about virtual reality makes him a wealthy man.

Banking on the hope, the 34-yearold quit his automotive engineer job and spent $100,000 to open POD 2000 in a court area at Wonderland Mall in Livonia. Here shoppers can put on a computer-guided headpiece and do three dimensional combat with monsters for $5 a game.

Department store blues

Discounters deliver brand names for less

While change is fundamental to life, the changes in retailing in the last 20 years have been extremely troublesome to large department stores especially, and, to a lesser degree, specialty stores and discounters. Macy's, Hudson's and Marshall

Field were the venerated department stores of the 1950's and '60s. They represented quality of merchandise, selling services, and prestige that only a Bloomingdales retains today.

Kmart arrived in 1961 with a discount store concept that capitalized on the weakness of department store hasements and laid the ground work for the discounting of nationally advertised labels that prevails today.

Department stores hurt themselves badly by overemphasizing the pressure for advertising money, for money created stores with checkout counters to offset markdowns, and for merchandise return privileges from brand selling price for identical label mer-stores were building up the value of brands, the discounters negotiated a much better deal for the same merchandise.

At the same time, the discounters and very little service. The result - a manufacturers. While these same chandise that is significantly less.

COMMENTARY

Department stores countered by cutting service in a major effort to reduce operating costs. But, this too has been counter-productive.

The greatest failure of department stores has been the lack of merchants who understand merchandise and managements that have the courage to take strong and unique approaches to merchandise and merchandise presentation. There are too many stores and too much boredom in their merchandise and in their merchandise presentation.

Instead of buying into merchandising ideas and concepts that can provide a unique identity, buyers go to brand manufacturers to buy what the manufacturers consider their most important styles, which are of course the same for everyone. No wonder stores are boring!

exceptions Notable Nordstroms, (due to open at Somerset North in Troy next year), which emphasizes service and depth of stock, and Bloomingdales which emphasizes fashion and a creative approach to merchandising.

As a final indication of the rate of change, it should be noted that Kmart has been upstaged by the very profitable Walmart stores, and is currently battling to restore its profitability and share of market.

If all goes well, Hamilton plans to expand POD 2000 to other malls in the metro area. Naturally, he's busiest during the afterschool hours and on Friday and Saturday nights, but from time to "hook up" to check out this 21st century form of entertainment.

'My grandkids really get into these computer games," said John Vaughn of Livonia eyeing the attraction. "Maybe I'll have a try one day to see what it's all about. I've seen reports about these kind of machines on television, but I thought they were a few years away."

Made in Great Britain, Hamilton's two state-of-the-art pods feature two games: Zone Hunter and Dactyl Nightmare. Zone Hunter puts a solo player or partners, in a race for survival against evil and the clock. With one hand on a trigger mechanism, the player moves forward and through a three-dimensional playing ground, shooting bad guys.

"Not bad guys, actually," Hamilton corrected. "Monsters."

Players move their heads up and down while "virtually" falling through the floor and ascending to the rooftops during the game. ed to be somewhere with a lot of . The speed of play is matched to a player's expertise. Rockets subdue Raiders, 21-0

Westland John Glenn took advantage of North Farmington miscues to remain unbeaten. The Rockets improved to 4-0 overall with a 21-0 victory over the Raiders in a Lakes Division game.

BY BRAD EMONS

It was another methodical victory for the Westland John Glenn football

Nothing fancy, nothing spectacular, "Just Win Baby," as Oakland Raiders owner Al Davis would say.

The state-ranked Rockets improved to 4-0 overall and 2-0 in the Lakes Division of the Western Lakes Activities Association with a 21-0 win Saturday at North Farmington.

"Glenn doesn't really have a highpowered offense, but they play solid defense and they don't make mistakes," said North coach Jim O'Leary, whose team fell to 1-3 overall and 0.2 in the Lakes. "They've got some size. They wear you down and they're going to keep it close.'

The Rockets, who have given up only 16 points in four starts, held

North to a mere 145 yards total of-

"The defense is playing well," said Glenn coach Chuck Gordon, whose career record is 140-42. "We've got some guys who can move with decent speed and love to play the game. And we're fairly quick up front. They do a nice job of getting to the ball."

North, trying to generate some offense, moved speedy wide receiver Richard Beal to the starting tailback spot. He finished with a respectable 53 yards in nine carries, but the Raiders were shut out for the second straight week.

"He's probably their best offensive weapon," Gordon said. "You have to find him and account for him on every play. We had to make some adjustments when he went in motion. It creates a problem if you're not ready for Glenn's 5-2 defense, however, was up to the challenge.

Led by the front-three down lineman Ira Bargon, Jeff Cook and Mike Massey, along with linebackers Keith King, Terry Ringholz, Matt Griglio and Mike Sosnowski, the Raiders couldn't bust a big play.

"We tried to get Richard the ball more and let him have a chance to make a game-breaker," O'Leary said.

Meanwhile, the Rockets' best offensive weapon was tallback Jay Jackson. The 5-foot-5, 150-pound tailback rushed for 98 yards in 25 car-

He capped a 12-play, 53-yard scoring drive on the opening series with a 1-yard touchdown run to give Glenn a 7-0 lead. (Steve Paling added the extra point.)

"Glenn is a basic grind-it-out team," O'Leary said, "and get the ball to Jackson."

North's lone first-half scoring threat came when Cory Lewis recovered a Glenn fumble at the Rockets' 44. But Glenn got the ball right back when Bernie Toby picked off a Brad Rivers pass on the ensuing play.

"We moved the ball at times and I thought we were in the game at the half," O'Leary said. "But then we made some mistakes."

The Rockets, who mustered 158 yards total offense, scored twice in the third quarter, both resulting in North turnovers.

With 7:39 left in the third, Glenn's Keith King tackled Andy Goshorn at the Raiders' 19 after the North punter couldn't handle the snap.

Five plays later, sophomore quarterback Justin Berent just broke the plane of the goal line on fourth down from 1 yard out.

Jackson, also playing in the secondary, then recovered another Raider fumble at the North 25.

The Rockets scored again with 1:33 left in the third on Jackson's 1-yard run. The TD was set up by Berent's key 24-yard first-down pass to Anthony Greco on fourth-and-21.

"The offense, no question in my mind, has gotten better each time out," Gordon said. "The backs ran harder and the offensive line came off the ball better."

Canton frustrates Franklin with triple-overtime victory

By C.J. RIBAK STAFF WRITER

Big plays — the team that makes the most, wins,

It's often just that simple. Plymouth Canton and Livonia Franklin found themselves mired in a game full of big plays and missed opportunities. Something had to give as the end of the third overtime approached, and Canton defensive end Jason Masur provided it, knocking down David McMullen's fourth-down pass to preserve Canton's come-frombehind 26-20 victory.

"That was just a great play," said Franklin coach Rick Lee, adding, "for Canton." The win improved the Chiefs' record to 2-2. Franklin fell to 1-3.

The Patriots had the early lead, scoring with 1:50 left in the opening quarter on a 23-yard option pass from Brian Facione to Paul Terek. It was the first of two TD catches for Terek; he finished with seven receptions for 115 yards.

Neither team's offense did much for the next two quarters, Canton losing two fumbles and an interception, Franklin tossing a pair of intercepts and fumbling the ball away at the Chiefs' 19.

Giving Canton quarterback Rob Johnson too many chances can be a mistake. Johnson collected the bulk of the yardage in the Chiefs' gametying, fourth-quarter, 65-yard drive, 39 of them coming on an option play that reached the end zone. Jason Pennebaker's extra-point kick tied it at 7-all with 6:48 remaining. The Chiefs put together another drive late in the game, thanks to a 27yard run by Mike Rener (65 yards on 10 carries) that got them to the Franklin 21 and a 16-yard Johnson scramble that put the ball at the 6 with 25 seconds left. But Pennebaker's 22-yard field goal try bent wide left with 10 second to go, forcing OT.

The Chiefa got the initial possession (each team starts with a first down at the opponents' 10-yard line) and capitalized, with Johnson completing an 11-yard pass to Eric Sarrault at the 2 and Rener scoring on the next play. A bad snap on the extra point try left Johnson to scramble, short of the end zone, Franklin scored on its first play, a McMullen 10-yard pass to Terek. But 5-foot-7, 160-pound noseguard Shaun Dyer busted through the line and blocked Brandon Bell's extra leaving it tied at 13.

"He's the guttsiest kid we've got," said Canton coach Bob Khoenle. "He covers up for a lot of other kids."

The Patriots got first possession in the next round and scored on a 4-yard swing pass from McMullen to Brett Karwowski. Bell's placement made it 20-13. The Chiefs also converted, Johnson passing 11 yards to Pennebaker on a post pattern. Pennebaker's placement retied it at 20-all. Canton started with the ball in the third round, and the possession was a short one; a 10-yard TD pass from Johnson to a wide open Nick Belyk in the middle of the end zone. Another bad snap caused Pennebaker's placement to go wide right, making it

Franklin's Jeremy Betley lost 5 yards on first down, but a questionable interference call on a Johnson interception gave the Pata another first down at the Canton 7. However, two runs sandwiched around an incomplete pass garnered just four yards, and Masur came up with the final big play.

Johnson completed 10-of-20 passes for 119 yards and two TDs, with one intercept, and he rushed eight times for 59 yards. Ron Hunter caught five passes for 71 yards.

McMullen was 9-of-19 for 104 yards, with two TDs and two interceptions for Franklin. Betley led the running attack with 44 yards on 10

"We were playing lousy," Khoenle answered wher asked about his halftime changes. "I didn't have to make any adjustments. They just have to play with some emotion."

"He did a great job and you've got to have a good goalkeeper when you're playing the elite teams," Athens coach Tim Storch said. "He doesn't give up any bad goals."

Storch also praised the play of his four defenders, including sweeper Jonathan Wells, senior Kraysztof Zaryczny, Jeff Wenskay and sophomore Mike Weslosky.

Spartans sink Churchill

The score didn't matter for either coach at Thursday's Livonia Stevenson-Livonia Churchill girls dual swim meet.

On one side, you had Stevenson coach Greg Phill, whose Spartans improved to 3.0 in dual meets by trouncing the host Chargers, 138-

"Our goal is to swim our best times," Phill said. "We want to swim our best times and don't care if we win or lose,"

And on the other side is Chuchill coack Ken Stark, who was more concerned with improvement. Even though the Chargers (1-1) failed to win an event, Stark sawwhat he was looking for.

"We don't worry about the team scores here - we don't even announce them." Stark said. "Our main focus is on improvement. For each improvement we make, I consider it a win. And tonight we had a 72 percent improvement in times. I'm very satisfied with that,"

"The Spartans looked impressive in every event. In fact, most events were a little one-sided.

Probably the closest event of the meet was diving, where Stevenson's Beth Gallagher beat Churchill's Jana Stoyanovich 203.10-183.75.

In the 100-yard freestyle, Stevenson's Tina Caranicolas (58.61) edged Kristen Derwich (1:00.26). But the rest of the evening be

In particular, junior Anne Aristeo sparkled. She crushed the competition in the 100 backstroke with a state-cut time of 58.09 more than 12 seconds better than the next closest finisher.

Earlier in the meet, Aristeo easily won the 200 freestyle in 1:52.24 - again a state-cut performance.

"She has improved and she's going to get a lot better," Phill said. "She's still junt a little girl."

Becky Noechel provided another Spartan highlight, when she won the 500 freestyle in 5:27.2, eclipsing the state-cut time, Aristeo and Noechel joined Stevenson's 200 medley relay team, along with Kelly Carlisle in the 100 butterfly, as qualifiers for the state meet.

"We really swam well tonight." Phill said. "You're always a little concerned about how your team will swim when you come into a place knowing you can blow out the other team.

"Last year we got a little lethargic in these type of meets and it snowballed into us not doing so well toward the end of the sea-

Hawks prevail again

Farmington Hills Harrison won its third consecutive game Saturday at home against winless Livonia Churchill, 88-6.

Harrison is 2.0 in the Western Division and 3-1 overall, Churchill 0-2 and 0-

ROUNDUP

The Chargers managed to score their first points of the season when Nathan Jerome connected with Todd Wilson for an 80-yard touchdown pass late in the

The Hawks started the scoring when Jason Granger returned a punt 69 yards for a TD in the first quarter.

Nick Shaieb followed with a 1-yard scoring run, Granger a 5-yarder. Kyle Vessell kicked three of his five extra points to give Harrison a 21-0 halftime lead.

In the third period, Shaleb caught a pass from Harrison quarterback Kevin Bambenek and turned it into a 37-yard TD.

Vessell kicked a 39-yard field goal, and Chris Ghannam added a 3-yard TD run in the fourth quarter as the Hawks built a 38-0 lead.

Granger had 60 of Harrison's 165 rushing yards on 15 carries.

The Hawks also had 132 yards passing. Bambenek was 7-of-12 for 114 yards and Jared Hopkins 3-of-8 for 18.

Ricky Bryant was Harrison's leading receiver. catching six passes for 65

Churchill had 40 yards rushing and 90 passing. Jerome completed three of nine passes, and Todd Wilson rushed eight times for 25 yards.

Stevenson beats Vikings, 20-13

Lakes Division football champs in the Western Lakes Activities Association, remained in first place Friday with a 20-13 win over visiting Walled Lake Central.

Stevenson is now 3-1 overall and 2.0 in the division. Central slips to 2-2 and 1-1.

The Spartans jumped out to a 13-0 halftime lead on a 63-yard first-quarter touchdown run by Gade Clark. The junior tailback added a 3-yard TD run in the second period. (Jason Borregard converted the PAT.)

Clark led all rushers with 135 yards on 20 carries.

In the third quarter, Stevenson scored on its initial drive, consuming six minutes on the clock capped by quarterback Dean Bacheller's 5-yard TD toss to Tom Dumont. Borregard added the extra point to make it 20-0.

But the Spartans fumbled later in the quarter and Central capitalized when senior fullback Will Winnicki scored from 3 yards out.

Livonia: Stevenson, defending (Bill Kandilian added the PAT). That was a huge momentum shift," Stevenson coach Tim Gabel said. 'Then we were kind of hanging on at the end."

With 7:49 left, Central struck again when senior quarter Jason Whalen hit senior Tim Whiting with a 5-yard acoring pass. Whalen kept the drive going with a 17-yard scramble on fourth Stevenson punted twice down the stretch, but the defense held. Nose guard Matt Bartlett, who had five tackles and a fumble recovery, sacked Whalen on fourth down to end the game.

Stevenson had 239 yards total offense to Central's 176. The Spartans held the Vikings to 77 yards rushing in 30 attempts.

Bacheller was nine of 18 for 75

Defensively, junior linebacker Mike Allison made nine tackles and caused one fumble. Defensive end Ryan Culloty added five tac-

'This is the best defensive team we've had," Howton said. "We moved some people aroundand got great linebacking play and gang tackled well."

Cornerback Brant Tajiri led Wayne with 11 tackles. The tandem of Galinis (eight) and Nyschick combined for 14 tackles.

The Zebras collected 11 first downs and compiled 201 yards of offense. Guess completed 11 of 18 passes for 153 yards. Richard Rashad caught six passes for 67

Guess, however, led the turntimes and was intercepted in the end zone mid-way through the second quarter.

The Wayne offense looked flawless opening the game. The Zebras took the opening kickoff and drove 47 yards in just six plays. Guess capped the drive with a 10-yard run on a bootleg. He then hit Buford for the twopoint conversion.

Woodhaven scored on the first play of the second quarter when Galeski connected with Mike Wheaton for a 14-yard score. The two-point conversion failed, however, when Buford tripped up Woodhaven's Aaron Wilson.

James, the former Redford Bishop Borgess coach, was satisfied with his team's performance but expressed his disgust with his team's placement in the Mega Red.

"I'm sick of this Mega Red garbage," James said. "They're keeping us in this division to kick us around. But we're showing them we can play with them. And that's our intentions the rest of the way. We're not playing dead for any-

"I wasn't even sure she could run," said Franklin coach Sue Tatigian, whose team is 1-1 overall in dual meets. "She hurt her arm and it took the wind out of her, but on the restart she put forth a good effort and was able to put it behind her. She ran an inspired

Lady Ocelots hang on to beat Flint Mott

It wasn't pretty, certainly not after the first couple of games. But it was a win, and that was something positive.

Schoolcraft College's volleyball team struggled but succeeded Thursday, edging Mott CC 15.7, 15.5, 11-15, 15-12 in an

"I think we collapsed in that third and fourth game," said Lady Ocelot coach Tom Teeters, his team now 13.5.3. "We started making a lot of unforced er-Eastern Conference match at SC. rors. I think we were one serve away from losing the match.

"But I don't want to take anything away from (Mott). They really turned it around and played very well. It was a gutsy comeback for us. There was a tremendous momentum change against us, but we were able to come back."

Indeed, the Ocelots trailed 9.4 In the fourth game before battling back for the win. Jamie Clark and Tracy Sledz (from Livonia Clarenceville) paced SC with 17 kills aplece; Sledz also had five blocks and four service aces, while Clark collected three Andrea Greer totaled 38 assists-to-kills, while Michelle MacRae had seven kills and three aces. Defensively, Julie Schmidt had 22 digs and Hermina Angeles got 21.

Greer's performance continues to impress Teeters, "She's doing a great job, ala Jenny Sproul," he said, referring to the Livonia Churchill graduate he successfully moved from outside hitter to setter. "She's making the transition from outside hitter, too, and she's never set before.

"The coaching staff is very impressed."
